LOS ANGELES 1781 1913

For Liberty under Law, Equal Rights and Industrial Freedom

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1913. PRICE 5c:

ENGINEER Mulholland points out that Graham's "High Line" scheme would give half of the Owens River Aqueduct supply to Pasadena, Glendora, Azusa and San Dimas. Half of the whole supply! It would be a practical gift, as no revenue would be obtainable for years, and then not enough to pay interest on the enormous expenditure. This is what Mulholland, in his letter (on another page of The Times) characterizes as "audacious rapacity." Will the citizens of Los Angeles vote to mortgage their property for $10,000,000, to build a pipe line for outside communities which, if they want water, should pay for their own distributing systems?

Former Roosevelt Supporter Hurls His Anathemas at False Leaders.

[BY NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator William E. Borah of Idaho has written a letter to the Kansas Republicans who invited him to address the "get-together" convention which they are to hold next month. Declaring his belief that the Republican party has a future of usefulness, the Idaho Senator, who supported the candidacy of Senator Borah for the Presidential nomination against Taft, but refused to endorse that he will tour the country after the adjournment of Congress this summer in the interest of the revivifying work which Kansas is to start.

RIVAL OF HADLEY.

It is notable that this tour of Senator Borah [illegible] into the limelight as an available candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1916. Former Gov. Hadley of Missouri already is preaching reorganization of the Republican party on progressive lines and the understanding in Washington is that he is being backed in his political lecture tour by persons who expect to boom him for standard bearer in the next national contest. Friends of Mr. Borah, believing that his commanding position in the Senate more than counterbalances a certain geographical disadvantage, have been quietly grooming him for some time for 1916 leadership.

ROOM FOR DIFFERENCES.

The Borah letter to the Kansas Republicans follows:

"I have your letter relative to the Republican conference soon to assemble in your State. I wish it were possible to accept your invitation to address the conference, but, owing to duties here, it will be impossible for me to be present at any time while Congress is in session. I am in full sympathy, however, with any move-

In Time the Fish May Require a Knife and Fork.

[By Wireless Line to The Times.]

WINSTED (Ct.) April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Pete, a trout, which has its home in a walled-in reservoir, at Highland Lake, has been taught to eat from a platter held on the surface of the water. At sight of the dish Peter will rise from the bottom of the water and take creamed wheat, bits of beef and angle worms from the plate. He shows his appreciation of the feast by flopping on his sides on the surface of the water. The trout is almost a foot long and weighs more than a pound.

May Block the Anti-Alien Bill.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Fear that the proposed anti-alien land law, designed primarily to prevent Japanese farmers from acquiring property in this State, will have the effect of frightening away English and French capital which at present controls large holdings in California, has introduced a new element into the controversy over the bill.

Representatives of European syndicates that have large interests in the oil and mining industries here are in Sacramento to study the proposed law. According to statements made to Senator Thompson, chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the anti-alien bill, the measure in its present form would be equally effective in limiting Europeans as in restricting the Japanese.

Properties owned by aliens at the present time, or when the law goes into effect, would not be affected, but the bill specifically provides that real property acquired hereafter shall be held for a period for escaping escheat.

MORTGAGE HOLDERS ALARMED.

Many of the syndicates have heavy investments in mortgages, and their representatives are afraid that in case of foreclosures on notes now outstanding, the question as to their right to hold the properties, permanently would be raised, and that the courts would have to decide against them. The forced sale within one year of an oil plant or a mine would be an injustice, it is argued.

It is stated that information concerning the bill has been cabled abroad and that an organized protest probably will be made before the measure comes to a vote. Foreign capitalists hold a majority of the stock in many of the richest gold and copper mines and oil-producing companies in California.

WILSON WILL NOT INTERFERE.

The announcement from Washington that President Wilson would not interfere with the plans of the California Legislature, was received with enthusiastic approval here. The completed bill, drawn by the Thompson subcommittee as a substitute for the Birdsall bill, will be taken up in the Senate Judiciary Committee tomorrow and undoubtedly will be recommended for passage.

TO BE RUSHED THROUGH BEFORE WEEK'S CLOSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That legislation to bar orientals from holding California lands will be enacted by the Legislature before the close of this week now seems certain.

President Wilson's declaration to keep his hands off the issue, has spurred the proponents of anti-alien legislation to renewed activity.

The course of proposed alien land legislation in committee is strong indication that if ever there was opposition by the majority in both houses it has disappeared. When the Sanford bill came up for consideration on the Senate side, for example, it was referred to a subcommittee which consisted of Thompson, an administration leader; Curtin, a Democrat, and Wright, a Republican. This committee was able to agree on a substitute bill which, while considered less offensive to Japan, in its wording, is, in effect, as drastic as was the Sanford bill.

This substitute bill has been reported out with a favorable recommendation by the Judiciary Committee. It applies to all aliens, not Japanese only, and prevents ownership by limiting the period of ownership to one year, at the expiration of which time the land will be subject to escheat to the State. Under the same bill, leasing is limited to a period of three years.

Gov. Johnson has made it plain that he will not interfere.

WILSON PROMISES TO KEEP NEUTRAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Wilson let it be known today that the Federal government would not interfere with pending legislation in California by which aliens who have not declared their intention of becoming naturalized as American citizens are prohibited from owning land or property. He communicated this decision informally to Representative Raker.

London Police Fear the Suffragettes Mean to Take Human Life.

[By Cable and A. P. to The Times.]

LONDON, April 9.—Suffragettes and anti-suffragettes gathered in large numbers outside Holloway jail tonight in anticipation of the release of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. One woman was arrested with a loaded revolver in her possession. This incident, which followed the finding of a revolver at the scene of recent outrages, has caused uneasiness among the police, as it is feared that some fanatical women, despite the determination of the Women's Social and Political Union to respect human life, have decided not to be bound by this pledge.

HEIRESS JILTS HER IDEAL MAN.

SWITCHES VIEWPOINT WHEN SHE MET HOWARD.

Wanted a Republican Who Was Episcopalian, Money-Maker and Good Ideas About Pigs, Gets Democrat Who Never Earned Dollar and Knows Nothing of Swine.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Her ideal man: Six feet tall; brunette and clean shaven, curl over left ear; Republican, Episcopalian and a money-maker; straight nose, large and soulful eyes; decided ideas about pigs and poultry.

The man she wedded: Six feet but slightly stooped; red hair and moustache; no curl over ear; Democrat and never earned a dollar; aquiline nose; keen eyes; decided ideas about pigs and poultry.

The time has arrived for placing the deadly parallel on the ideal man of Miss Lilah B. Gilbert, heiress to $10,000,000 and the real man she has selected to be her husband. The wedding will take place on April 15 at the home of Miss Gilbert's mother, Mrs. H. Bramhall Gilbert, at No. 46 West Forty-seventh street, this city, and Howard Renshaw, 25 years old, of Troy, N. Y., is the lucky man.

It was just about a year ago that Miss Gilbert, a young woman of independent thought and expression set forth her conception of the ideal man—the man she would marry.

Shortly after that she met young Mr. Renshaw, who has nothing but money and spare time, at Palm Beach.

Had she met her ideal? Miss Gilbert dreamed of a man six feet tall, brunette, clean shaven with firm jaw. Mr. Renshaw is six feet tall but he is slightly stooped, has reddish hair and a moustache.

Miss Gilbert wanted a Republican, an Episcopalian and a money-maker. Renshaw is a Democrat and never earned a dollar, but he fits the ideal in being a good horseman. He does not know a thing about pigs and poultry.

Miss Gilbert when asked about her ideal man said she is very well satisfied with Howard Price Renshaw.

As for Renshaw, he is not jealous of the ideal man of his fiancee. He did not know she had ever described an ideal man until today and when he read the description of the ideal he laughed.

ACCUSED OF TRYING TO BRING ABOUT INTERVENTION.

Gov. Alamillo Reported to Have Ordered Soldiers to Fire Upon Women in a Mass Meeting Protesting Against His Inactivity—Orders Issued for Arrest of Gomez.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Luis Manuel Rojas was charged in court today with treason, and attempting to bring about intervention of the United States in Mexico. The charges came as a result of Rojas's denunciation of Ambassador Wilson from the floor of the Mexican Congress.

A report was received here today that during the progress of a woman's mass meeting at Colima, called to protest against the inactivity of the Governor, soldiers were ordered to fire upon the women by Gov. Alamillo, many women being killed.

Vasquez Gomez, who on several occasions has proclaimed himself provisional President of Mexico, is supposed to be in hiding in this city and secretly aiding the enemies of President Huerta. Orders for Gomez's arrest were issued today, but so far the soldiers or police have been unable to locate him.

Northern advices today stated the rebels are near Durango, boasting that they would soon capture that city and then march upon Torreon.

All Official Accounts Agree that the Condition of the Pontiff Is not Grave and His Doctor Expects to Have Him Out of Bed in a Week or So—Thunder Clap Shatters the Nerves of His Holiness.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, April 9.—All official reports regarding the condition of Pius X agree that his condition is not grave, and that there is no immediate danger. Anxiety continues, however, on account of the weakness of the Pontiff, and the action of his heart, which is in need of constant stimulation.

The attending physicians found that the condition of the Pope had improved during the night and this improvement was maintained throughout the day although his temperature showed a slight increase this afternoon.

Again this evening his temperature rose slightly, but the difference from that of the afternoon was hardly perceptible.

The patient is being given eggs beaten up in milk, but his inability to absorb nourishment contributes to the depression from which the Pope suffers.

The relapse is following the same course as the original attack of influenza, a cough being present with irritation of the bronchial tubes and difficulty in respiration, which has led to the report in some cases that the Pope is afflicted with asthma. This, however, is erroneous. The condition of albuminaria, which usually accompanies influenza, is also present, indicating an inflammation of the kidneys of a greater or less degree, but it is hoped that this is of a transitory character.

Prof. Marchiafava visited the Pope only twice today, morning and evening. He expressed satisfaction at the course the illness is taking. The Pope's sister and niece spent much time at the beside and when not there, were kept constantly informed by telephone as to the Pontiff's condition.

When he felt this afternoon the effect of a thunderstorm of extraordinary violence, the Pope remarked that his organism was so sensitive to atmospheric changes that he had come to be a kind of barometer and thermometer.

The aspect of the immense square in front of St. Peter's today recalled the scenes during the illness of Pope Leo XIII, but instead of a burning July sun, as in 1903, there was a downpour of rain. This did not prevent thousands of pilgrims from gathering and gazing with grave anxiety at the three windows of the room on the third floor of the apostolic palace where the Pope lies, or from directing sympathetic glances at the little house in the square below, where the sisters of the Pope occupy a modest apartment.

Prof. Marchiafava in a statement tonight expressed himself as highly indignant at the exaggerated reports that had been circulated. He gave solemn assurances that the Pope's illness was running a perfectly normal course, and said that if no complications arose he would guarantee that the Pontiff would be convalescent within a week.

BIGGEST HOTEL IN THE WORLD.

CHICAGO STRUCTURE TO COST THIRTEEN MILLIONS.

Proposed New Building Will Be Twenty-one Stories High Containing Over Two Thousand Rooms Each With Bath and It Will Go Up in Sections.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Definite plans for the long contemplated new Morrison Hotel have been completed. Construction will be started within a few months. The hotel, it is said, will lead the world as far as its size is concerned. It is estimated the total cost will be over $13,000,000.

Harry C. Moir, owner and director of the Morrison Hotel and the Boston Oyster House, has made a loan of $2,000,000 from Graham & Sons in the form of a serial bond issue bearing 6 per cent interest. This is the first actual step taken in the new hotel plans since they were first contemplated almost four years ago.

The plans as prepared provide for a structure of twenty-one stories and containing 2240 rooms, each of which will have a bath. It is planned to furnish 500 of the rooms with shower baths. The Boston Oyster House will be included as a part of the new hotel, providing for a capacity of 2500.

It is proposed to erect the new structure in sections that there may be no interference with hotel activities while construction is in progress.

The first two stories will be of white Vermont granite, while the remaining nineteen will be faced with red brick and white terra cotta.

In speaking of the plans, Mr. Moir, who has been identified with the hotel business in Chicago for twenty-five years, declared that in the building of the new hotel he is realizing his life's ambition.

Belgian Army Is in Readiness.

Manhood Suffrage Becomes the Issue With the Working Classes.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BRUSSELS, April 9.—The last hope of the Socialists of intervention by the King to prevent the general strike called to enforce the granting by the government of manhood suffrage now appears to have disappeared. It is pointed out that such action in the existing circumstances would be unconstitutional.

That the government now will accept a compromise also is highly improbable, judging from the active military preparations which are going on. The orders for the departure of a large body of troops for camp have been countermanded, and the troops will be distributed among the various industrial centers to safeguard the gas and electric plants, the railroads, tramways and bridges. Large forces of gendarmes also have been detailed and will be stationed in places regarded by the government as danger points.

Rumors of a ministerial crisis and plots against prominent officials have been in circulation, but these rumors generally are regarded as without foundation.

THE FIRST MOVE.

BRUSSELS (Belgium) April 9.—The first active move in preparation for a great general strike to enforce the grant of manhood suffrage in Belgium was made today by the sending out of the country of many children of the 200,000 or 300,000 workers who will lay down their tools on Monday, April 14, at the bidding of the Socialist party.

It is expected that the train service will cease or be greatly impeded after Sunday and the wives and daughters of hundreds of workmen with the little ones of their families or those of neighbors are crossing the frontiers on every train to place the children in safety in neutral States. Eleven thousand offers of provisional homes have been received by the directing committee of the strike. Six thousand of these were from France, 4000 from Holland and 1000 from Germany.

WANT SYSTEM CHANGED.

The strike has been decided on by the Belgium Socialist party as the last desperate measure to make the government give Belgium a system of manhood suffrage instead of the multiple vote, which voting now in practice. The success or non-success will be of importance to the world at large, for if it succeeds it will demonstrate the practicability of the strike as a political weapon. Previous attempts at political, as distinguished from economic, strikes, invariably have ended in failure, notably in Spain and France, and the opinion has been held generally that the political strike is impossible.

WORKERS DETERMINED.

The Belgium movement appears to have been planned with extraordinary skill and care; the workers are determined and full of faith in the justice of their cause, the resources at their disposal are considerable, and they have the practical though unofficial support of the Liberals, some the less vigorous from being indirect. The proprietor of the liberal newspaper, the Petit Bleu, has promised formally to pay $20,000 per week into the strike fund as long as the movement lasts, and the strikers assert that they can hold out for six weeks.

The government, faced with a possible economic catastrophe for an industrial country like Belgium, has occupied itself chiefly in making arrangements to repress disorder, which the Socialists deride, as they are determined that the strike shall be peaceful. The Socialist chiefs, Emile Vandervelde and Edouard Anseele, affirm that any violence which may occur will be provoked by the government and not by them.

TROOPS MOBILIZE.

It is understood that all the gendarmes are to be called upon as well as the civil guard and several classes of troops mobilized to guard the railroads.

Large coal orders have been placed in England and Germany so as to insure a constant supply of fuel for the state railroads.

The primary cause of the movement was the defeat of the Liberal and Socialist coalition in the parliamentary elections of 1912. The Socialist Congress, specially summoned June 26 of that year, decided to make use of a general strike if all other means of obtaining manhood suffrage failed. Before resorting to that measure, it

CHARGED BY TROOPS.

Woman Is Fatally Injured by Bayonet Thrust in Street Railway Strike.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) April 9.—Troops with fixed bayonets held no terror for the striking caravan of the International Railway Company and other sympathizers today and the riotous scenes of former days of the strike were numerous and of a more serious nature. All efforts to resume traffic were blocked and all the cars were withdrawn at nightfall after an intermittent operation of less than four hours.

Once this afternoon the troops used their rifles. A woman and a man were wounded, and a boy received a thrust from a bayonet. The woman probably will die.

Efforts on the part of Mayor Fuhrmann to bring about a settlement by arbitration met little encouragement from the company. William D. Mahon of Detroit, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, outlined to the Mayor the men's grievances and offered to lay them before a board of arbitration. President Connette of the railway company conferred with the Mayor, but neither would divulge what passed between them.

The fact that the calling of more troops is under serious consideration tonight was taken as an indication that a peaceable settlement was still a remote possibility.

COMPLETE PARALYSIS.

Complete paralysis of street-car traffic, both city and suburban; a thorough policing of the main city streets by State militia, and an attempt by Mayor Fuhrmann to bring the opposing factions together, were the features of the fourth day of the strike. Not a car was moved up to 2 o'clock today, when two Main-street cars were sent down under police guard. They carried no passengers.

Approximately 3000 militiamen patrolled the streets. At a conference with Mayor Fuhrmann the strike leaders agreed that if the company would recognize the right of the men to organize they would return to work and submit all questions of wages and hours to arbitration.

A series of explosions early today aroused the people in the northern part of the city and in Tonawanda, and the rumor spread that one of the International Railway trestles on the Niagara Falls line had been blown up. Men sent over the line for a distance of five miles north of Tonawanda reported no damage to the tracks or bridges, and no explanation of the mysterious explosions was obtained.

The running of cars on Main street was the signal for rioting and stone-throwing, but the militia and police were able to disperse the rioters.

At Main and Seneca streets, the scene of recent brick-throwing from the top of a new ten-story building, when heads appeared above the cornice of the structure the militiamen took aim, but no missiles were thrown. Sharpshooters were stationed on the top of the Chamber of Commerce building opposite, under orders to shoot to kill.

MORE TROOPS.

If more troops are to be brought here, the order must be issued by Gov. Sulzer.

It is understood that a report will be forwarded to Sulzer tonight, accompanied by resolutions from Gen. O'Ryan, commanding officer of the State National Guard, who is here now.

BOY AND WOMAN SHOT.

At the international bridge, where an effort had been made to wreck a car, a boy and a woman were shot when the mob refused to disband. The crowd which had assumed large proportions broke and began to chase the street car that had just passed under the bridge. The soldiers followed with fixed bayonets and drove the throng to the curbs. One man received a bayonet thrust in the hand. The wounded were:

Mrs. Ida Lorich, 55 years of age, shot in the back, fatally injured.

A third child, Mack, 12, died from his injuries after escaping from the building. Two surviving children testified at the trial of their father that Capps tied them to an oil-soaked bed and applied a match.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Indication of the slim chance the Legislature will have to wind up its work on April 24, is contained in the announcement that the State printing office has fallen behind in its work and is unable to fill orders short of two or three days.

The office is working to capacity in three eight-hour shifts, but still the work is delayed.

EVER TRICKY.

The Express and Tribune state that, at a meeting of the Los Angeles County Press Association, "at which fifty-seven members were present," a resolution was adopted in favor of the Tehachepi route for the State Highway from Bakersfield to Los Angeles.

This is a tricky attempt to mislead the readers of these newspapers. Instead of fifty-seven members being present at this meeting, as asserted by the Express and Tribune, only SEVEN members were present when this resolution was adopted, and it is doubtful how many of the seven voted for it.

The resolution was offered by Charles E. Jones of the Antelope Valley Ledger, Lancaster.

It would have been impossible for fifty-seven people to get into the little room where the meeting was held.

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] J. M. Ingal, the rich Chicago lawyer, who wrote to the Secretary of State and the local police chief, "Don't let my daughter, Mrs. Edward L. Alexander, have an automobile license, she is a reckless driver," has written to tradespeople of Poughkeepsie warning them not to give his daughter credit. The letter says in part:

"My daughter is of age and being a married woman may want to run an account and get credit from your establishment. I wish to warn you against giving her any credit or extending the courtesy of running an account at your place of business. Her means are exhausted because she has squandered her fortune.

"Neither her mother nor I will pay one dollar of any debt she may be liable for. I beg to say that this is one of the most painful acts of my life, but I am absolutely compelled to do it.

"In closing, I wish to add, do not under any circumstances or conditions take any note from her as it will not be worth the paper it is written on.

[Signed] "J. M. INGAL."

Mrs. Alexander when shown a copy of the letter said:

"The letter is a lie from beginning to end. There is not a word of truth in it."

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—The Kehoe insurance bill, requiring all fire-insurance companies doing business in California to file schedules of rates with the State Insurance Commissioner and prohibiting the companies from deviating therefrom, was sent out of the Senate Committee on Insurance tonight with the recommendation that it do not pass. The vote was as follows: For adverse recommendation, Wright, Gates, Tyrrell, Cogswell, Juilliard and Beban; for the bill, Bryant.

The bill was opposed strenuously by the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, members of which told the committee that the measure authorized the insurance commissioner to fix rates and gave him other arbitrary powers.

Austria, the dispatch adds, will object to the granting of more territory, and will not participate in any compensation allowed.

It is also learned that the allies, who have financed Montenegro since the beginning of the war, will refuse to advance any more money. Servia will decline to send any more troops, and Greece will refuse to lend transports.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The passage of Senator Boynton's workman's compensation bill, which comes close to being the most important piece of legislation of this session, appears to be a mere matter of form. The bill will come up for consideration this week. When it becomes a law—which is generally conceded, for it is an administrative measure—any employee will receive 65 per cent. of his wages while temporarily injured. For permanent disability he will receive 65 per cent. for 240 weeks and thereafter a life pension. In case of death the persons totally dependent on the deceased shall get three times his annual wages, the minimum annual earnings being placed at $833.33, and the maximum at $1666.66. A scheme of State insurance by which employers will guarantee themselves against loss is provided for. The bill exempts farmers, dairying, agriculture, viticulture or horticulture and domestic service.

Opponents of the measure say the burdens put on the industries under the law will be put back on the people.

Leading business men here working against the bill object to the 65 per cent. rate on the ground that 50 per cent. is all that the industries can stand. They assert there is no need for the State going into the insurance business, which is already covered.

Senator Wright of San Diego today filed a minority report on the floor of the Senate on the Boynton act, opposing the favorable recommendation given it by the Labor and Capital Committee. Senator Wright holds that the proposed law is unconstitutional, because it treats three separate subjects—compensation, insurance and safety devices. Besides, he is opposed to the idea of State insurance, which the bill provides for.

GOES OVER ANOTHER DAY.

Further consideration of Senator Caminetti's anti-injunction bill has gone over another day. On motion of Senator Campbell, the special order was postponed this afternoon until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. There was strong opposition to the postponement, led by Senators Thompson and Wright. On roll call, postponement was favored by a vote of 21 to 17.

Caminetti today offered an amendment to the proposed act, which regulates the issuance of injunctions and restraining orders of courts, reading as follows:

"Nothing in this act shall be construed so as to prevent the issuance of a restraining order or injunction to restrain or enjoin the use of force or violence or threats thereof."

The union-labor representatives admitted tonight that the bill is doomed, although Caminetti declares his pet measure will go through by a margin of two votes. The bill was voted down by a vote of 22 to 16 several days ago. Since then Senator Flint of Hollister, who voted against the bill, has announced that he will vote for the bill when it comes up for final passage.

ANTI-PRIZE-FIGHT BILL.

There is division of opinion as to what will be the course of the Brown anti-prize-fight bill in the Senate. That there will be a close vote is conceded. The action of the Senate Committee on Public Morals in sending the bill out with a recommendation that it do pass is not regarded as an index of action by the Senate. The votes that sent the bill out of committee were cast by Butler, Hewitt, Brown (the author) and Avey. The first three are from Los Angeles and have been active in the campaign there against "Uncle Tom" McCarey and his Vernon arena. Avey, who is from San Bernardino, has been with the anti-fight-bill supporters.

Grant of San Francisco was in committee when the vote was taken, but asked to be excused from voting.

Usually a favorable committee report is regarded as giving prestige to a bill when it reaches the floor of the House. In this instance, because of the known alignment of those whose vote sent the bill out, it is declared by opponents of the bill that the committee report will carry little weight on the floor of the Senate.

A resolution was introduced today in the Assembly to exclude Carl Browne, union-labor agitator, and his dodger, called "Labor Knight," from the floor of the House during the remainder of the session, because of an alleged vulgar attack on the members of the Assembly. The resolution, signed by Assemblymen Bowman, Smith, Farwell and Killingsworth, was referred to the Committee on Rules.

The resolution was a signal for a lively scrap on the floor. Assemblyman Scott and Assemblyman Ryan, flanked by Assemblyman Polsley of Red Bluff, hurried to the defense of Browne. Assemblyman Smith declared Browne is a renegade, his dodger indecent, and the presence of the man or his sheet an insult to the House.

Polsley arose and said: "Why don't you attack the Sacramento Bee? There was something in the Bee Saturday night, signed by one of the McClatchys, almost as bad as what Browne said."

Polsley did not explain to what he referred and the Assembly paid no attention to him.

FUTILE FIGHT ON OWENS BILL.

San Francisco made a dogged, determined, yet futile, fight on the floor of the Senate today to take the sting out of Senator Owens's bill, No. 142, closing the saloons of California between the hours of 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. each day. The measure would affect San Francisco, Los Angeles, Venice and many other cities.

By a vote of 20 to 16 the Senate refused to accede to an amendment offered by Senator Regan of San Francisco to change the closing hours from 1 to 5 a.m. to "2 to 6:15 a.m."

By a vote of 22 to 15 the Senate refused an amendment by Senator Finn exempting from the closing hours bona fide restaurants and hotels with dining-rooms where meals are served, and the people have voted to permit the same.

Senator Regan, during the debate, pleaded for the cafes and restaurants of San Francisco and for the theater-goers who will be denied food and drink after the shows.

Senator Campbell argued that the two hours between 11 o'clock and 1 a.m. give sufficient time for the theater-goers to refresh themselves. To hold otherwise is a fallacy, he declared.

Senator Strobridge asked the Senate to protect the young men and women who go wrong in the early-morning hours. In answer to Senators Cartwright and Curtin, who held that the character of the young people must be formed at the fireside, Senator Butler asked if that influence is not too often counteracted in the saloon during the closing hours the bill provides for.

Senator Butler called the attention of his colleagues to the "fakishness" which the adoption of the bill will give the 1915 exposition. The argument was advanced by a San Francisco Senator in a private conversation, he said.

Senator Butler held that "any self-respecting lady or gentleman" ought to be able in two hours after the theater is closed to drink all the liquor that "any self-respecting lady or gentleman" should drink at one sitting.

Senator Cogswell called attention to the fact that, an hour before, San Francisco had asked the Senate to regulate the sale of seats in her theaters, but now objects to a law regulating her saloons on the local option theory.

Senators Wright and Juilliard took the stand that San Francisco should be allowed to regulate to suit herself, and that the decision of her people at the polls should be respected.

Senator Cartwright also favored local option and a broad treatment of the liquor issue.

Senators Brown and Finn crossed swords at long distance, each answering questions propounded by the other by asking another question. Senator Brown stood for sane regulation of the morals of the State.

The bill was reaffirmed by a vote of 27 to 12, several who favored the amendments going on record for the original proposition.

VOTING BY MAIL.

With fifty-seven votes registered for and seven against, the Simpson Stuckenbruck "voting by mail" bill passed the Assembly today.

Notice was given by Assemblyman Brown that he will tomorrow move to reconsider the vote whereby the bill passed. Brown wants to amend the bill to make it mandatory for men desiring to vote by mail to appear in person for the required certificate.

The measure provides that such men as railroaders and traveling salesmen, whose business and occupation take them away from home on election day, may vote in any part of the State.

To vote, the citizen must not more than twenty or less than ten days before election day, apply to the County Clerk for a blank ballot, and a certificate of identification.

The voter votes by mail in that the election officers send by mail the ballot marked in a precinct other than the home precinct of the citizen, to the County Clerk of the citizen's home county. The envelope is opened in the presence of the County Clerk, Treasurer, Auditor and District Attorney and deposited in a special ballot box and afterward counted by the Board of Supervisors as an election canvassing board.

Simpson, in presenting the bill, said there are 3000 railroad men and several thousand traveling salesmen who will be enabled to vote if this measure goes through.

OIL MEN PROTEST.

Independent oil men are in Sacramento protesting against the passage of Assembly bills Nos. 53 and 61, both by Sutherland. The purpose of these bills, on their face, is to provide for organization of districts for the prevention of injury to oil, gas or petroleum bearing strata.

The oil men state that such protection is desirable. Against the methods provided in the Sutherland bills, however, they protest vigorously.

They hold the methods prescribed to be cumbersome and calculated to place the independent oil men and companies at the mercy of the larger concerns. And the larger concerns, they declare it has been shown before several legislative committees this session, merge into the Southern Pacific and the Standard Oil.

TO CENSOR MOVING PICTURES.

Favorable Report on Bill That Incidentally Provides Six Fat Jobs for Johnson's Friends.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—A rigid censorship of moving-picture plays by a salaried State Commission with full authority to reject any film that might be deemed objectional on any one of a score of grounds, is provided in a bill by Senator Strobridge that was reported to the Senate by the Public Morals Committee this morning with the recommendation that it do pass.

Moving-picture men from Los Angeles and San Francisco met with the committee last night to offer their objections to the measure but were unsuccessful in securing amendments. The bill provides for a moving-picture commission to be composed of six persons appointed by the Governor, each of whom shall receive an annual salary of $2400. Three members of the commission will have an office at Los Angeles and three at San Francisco. Each group will have full power to act independently.

The opponents of the measure asked for representation on the committee and also that censorship be extended to vaudeville houses and combination vaudeville and picture shows. They declared that the vitality of their shows would be stricken out by a strict interpretation of the bill, which prohibits pictures of "any murder, suicide, robbery, hold-up, shooting, stabbing, clubbing or beating of any human being where such acts are shown in grewsome detail."

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—The Carr discriminatory practices bill, designed, according to its author, with a view to safeguard the public against the creation or perpetration of monopolies and to encourage competition, passed the Senate without a dissenting vote. The measure prohibits unfair competition of all sorts, including rebating, price cutting and other devices to drive competition out of the business. A penalty of $5000 is provided for violations of the act.

UNIONISTS TURNED DOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—The lower house of the Legislature reaffirmed today its attitude on the McDonald dustless cement container bill which it defeated yesterday, refusing reconsideration by a vote of 32 to 42.

The net result of the seven hours' session today was two bills passed, one refused reconsideration, and one amended.

Assemblyman Bowman's bill requiring packers and canners to mark their packages conspicuously with their own names, instead of allowing jobbers' labels to be applied, as in the case of canned fruit, was passed, 46 to 6.

HIGH TAXES AND BOND ISSUES.

THE Voters' Educational Association has issued an appeal to the voters of Los Angeles, urging them to vote only for these two issues of bonds:

The Los Angeles Trunk Line of the aqueduct (No. 2.)

On account of the conditions in the money market, these citizens, who are among our most successful business men, advise the postponement of all other issues. They say:

Conditions have developed in the money market since the meeting of January 23, indicating that it would be more difficult than it was then supposed, if not impossible, to dispose of such an extraordinarily large bond issue. Consequently, conservatism should be the keynote and only such issues should be approved by the voters as are necessary to meet the absolute requirements of the city at this time.

Before the voter marks the ballot, it should be taken into consideration that the estimate of increased taxation which will result if all the bonds are carried should not be overlooked. The following figures are based upon expert computation:

INCREASE IN CITY TAXES.

| Tax rate for 1912-1913 | $1.54 |
| Based on an assessed valuation of $402,986,555 for 1913-14 (10% increase over 1912-13,) the payment of 4½% interest and 2½% sinking fund on bonds would INCREASE taxes per $100 as follows: | |
| On $6,500,000 bonds for aqueduct power distributing system | 11c |
| On 6,000,000 bonds for aqueduct water distributing system | 10c |
| On 2,500,000 bonds for harbor improvements | 4c |
| On 1,000,000 bonds for new City Hall | 2c |
| On 1,000,000 bonds for municipal railway | 2c |
| On 600,000 bonds for purchase of Normal School site | 1c |
| $17,600,000 | 30c |

Thus it will be noted that if all the issues are approved, the increase in tax rate will be 30c on each $100 assessed valuation; but if the recommendations of the Voters' Educational Association are carried into effect and the citizen voters approve the bonds for $1,500,000 for the completion of the aqueduct, to the extent of bringing the water into the confines of Los Angeles at the Franklin Reservoir, and the bonds for $2,500,000 for harbor improvements, which improvements must of necessity be completed prior to the opening of the Panama Canal, it will result in an increase of but 6½c per $100 assessed valuation of property.

It must be taken into consideration that the School Department, if the city of Los Angeles is to grow, will require additional bond issues for their necessities, the estimate at this time being a bond issue of $4,000,000 to provide grounds, buildings and equipment for the next three years.

OJEDA SILENCES REBEL GUNNERS.

Brilliant Sallies from Naco Repel State Troops.

Barefooted Federals Drive Enemy Before Them.

Bullets Suspend Business on American Side.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NACO (Ariz.) April 9.—Although besieged by a force three times their number, Ojeda's Federals today continued their aggressive fighting by brilliant sallies from Naco, Sonora. Each time the State troops attempted to attack, the little barefooted soldiers met them, not alone with fire from the trenches, but with charges, retreats and counter-charges.

When the group under Col. Calles late this afternoon attempted to rush the Federal positions, Gen. Ojeda went out to meet the enemy. Calles soon fell back and the full force of 300 Federals pursued until they encountered the command of Bracamento and the Yaqui Indian division. All but one machine gun of the Constitutionalists was silenced, but soon the gunners of the remaining piece were slaughtered by a shower of shrapnel steel from the advancing Federal lines. Then Ojeda retreated rapidly to his base.

At the close of the fighting the State forces for a while pressed the garrison defenders, but with no result. Ojeda, however, lost many capable men, among them a captain, Mendoza, who had shown great valor in the early fighting.

AMERICAN DESERTER SLAIN.

One of the American negro deserters from the Ninth United States Cavalry, while operating a Federal machine gun from the roof of the barracks, fell to the ground, pierced by a dozen bullets. Lack of artillery or efficient artillery operators seriously hampered the State forces. Even the Indians today failed to show their former spirit in fighting, Ojeda's tactics of aggression in defending a fortified position appearing to baffle the attackers.

Although not as dangerous as yesterday, the fire on the Arizona side of the line did not permit the resumption of business here. The town was placed under strict martial law. Lead fell near the railway station.

FORTY-FIVE FEDERALS CAUGHT.

The most sensational fighting of the day occurred when a detachment of forty-five Federals was trapped by the State troops some distance from town. Eighteen returned to the garrison bearing their wounded captain. Ten crossed the international line and were held by American troops. The remainder were either killed or captured.

DETERMINE TO CRUSH OJEDA.

The only advantage gained during the day by the attacking forces was the construction of breastworks and trenches within 300 yards of the town. The work was accomplished only after great loss of life. Determined to crush Ojeda, the Constitutionalists tonight declared that they will continue the battle tomorrow, advancing their position during the night.

MEXICANS SAY THEY KILLED EIGHTEEN CAPTIVES.

Refugees Declare Indians on Warpath Near Hermosillo Gouged Out Eyes and Cut Off Ears of Prisoners Before Death Ended Their Sufferings.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) April 9.—Yaqui Indians, partisan to neither side in the Sonora revolt, have taken the warpath between Hermosillo, the State capital, and Guaymas, the gulf port. Reports reached here today of tortures inflicted on captives.

Eighteen Mexican men, women and children were captured by the Indians between Ortiz and Empalme, a few miles north of Guaymas, and killed by torture. After the captives' eyes were gouged out and tongues and ears cut off, their soles and heels were stripped of skin. Then, even to the children, they were forced to walk over beds of cactus thorns.

Refugees arriving from the American colony at Empalme, near Guaymas, report the Federal garrison there has been overestimated. They state that no more than five hundred Federals remain to defend the gulf city, which, aside from Naco on the Arizona border, is the only port remaining in control of the Huerta government in the border State. Desertions have largely depleted the Federal ranks.

ELDERS A SLEEPY LOT.

Presbyterian Moderator Says Church Needs Waking.

[BY A. P. (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] The church is safe, sound, orthodox, but its elders are too lazy and its ministers too backsliding in the performance of their evangelistic work, is the weakness of the church discovered by the Presbyterian Church of America in the sleepiness of its elders.

Rev. Dr. Mark A. Matthews, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church and one of the leading divines of the Northwest, in a sermon to more than twenty leading San Francisco clergymen of that denomination this afternoon, explained that his criticism was of the friendliest sort and intended to make the church men wake and think. A live wire himself, he referred lines, Dr. Mathews said, gave electrifying of the church, which result in the regaining of hundreds of thousands of men who had strayed from the church fold in a few months."

There are over 40,000 elders in the Presbyterian churches of America and from observations I am perfectly willing to swear that they are not on the job," said Dr. Mathews.

"We have 242,000 members on the church rolls and that is a monument to the general laziness of the church as a whole. The ministers are to blame for this condition. I say so in homely phrases that are merely playing at their business."

Another declared that war with Japan was the most improbable thing in the world and condemned the United States government "for its action in not long ago extending loans to the republic of China." The United States will never war with Japan or China and only yellow-skinned persons ever intimate such a thing, he said.

SAN FRANCISCO (Cal.) April 9.—George Dazaiesse musician, shot and killed Dixie Lawrence, a young woman, in a room at a Japanese lodging house this afternoon. He then turned the weapon upon himself and died a wound from which he died tonight.

Little doubt exists concerning the identity of the young woman. She came to Oakland from Merced last fall and at her rooming place, in the poorer quarter of the city, gave the name of Lawrence. Letters which were found, bearing her slayer, and one to have been written by her, addressed to Dolly Pierce and Anna Pierce. The letter she is believed to have addressed to F. E. Pierce, Or., and is signed Dixie. The letter of the girl addressed to Dollie Pierce, begs the girl for failing to keep her promise.

Authorities are seeking to communicate with F. E. Pierce and with the girl of Merced, where the girl is said to have lived for some time under the name Dixie Lawrence.

BANKER'S BOND.

Former Head of San Francisco, Convicted Embezzler, Unable to Secure Bond, Goes to Jail.

Baker was unable to find the additional $10,000 bonds demanded last Friday. His bond was increased to $50,000 and he was placed in jail.

Attorney McNab said: "I believe Baker does not wish to settle his affairs, with a view to making restitution of as much as possible. How much that will be I know but he will be a pauper. The original bail was fixed at $15,000 each, I have been informed, charging two counts of the amount known to be taken. That is all."

SanFrancisco Supervisors Who Attempted New Steps When the Cornerstone of City Hall Was Laid are Most Conspicuous Objects on Films and Some of Them Object.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Motion pictures of the ground-breaking exercises for the City Hall last Saturday were tried out last night.

Those who attended the exercises recall as an incident that when the Mayor and the Supervisors started in to use their shovels the municipal band struck up "Everybody's Doin' It."

Supervisors Charles A. Murdock and Ralph McLeran embraced each other and danced a combination of the "Texas Tommy" and the "Crab Crawl." Under the inspiration of the gala occasion the playfulness of the dignified and no longer young Supervisors brought forth a great cheer, everyone laughed and soon forgot the antics of the city fathers.

It is different with the motion cameras. It forgets nothing.

Looming large and life-size in the pictures are the two Supervisors rocking stiffly around, with their arms entwined around each other, and the school children howling with delight.

It is the most conspicuous thing in the whole film and there is a movement among some of the Supervisors to censure the picture. Others favor permitting them to remain undisturbed.

The division is 9 to 8. One faction says it destroys the dignity of the body. The others simply say, "Let 'er go. On with the dance, let joy be undignified."

Pennsylvania State Official Pleads Guilty of Carrying Away Girl by Force.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALLENTOWN (Pa.) His cousin, R. Waller Starr, who aided him, pleaded guilty of assault and battery.

Sinclair was sentenced to jail for six months and fined $300 and costs. Starr was fined $25 and costs. Sinclair, who is well connected, met Miss Steckel soon after being assigned to this territory, and fell in love with her. She refused his many offers of marriage, and finally with the aid of his cousin he drove up to her residence, and, throwing a blanket over the girl's head, carried her to a waiting taxicab and drove off at a furious pace. The automobile was disabled and the men were arrested. Sinclair explained that he intended to carry the girl into the country and force her to marry him.

AUSTRALIA BEEF MAY CUT COST.

Shippers Say It Will Be a Saving to Consumer.

San Francisco Butchers to Help New Movement.

Will Ask Mayor to Put No Obstacle in Its Way.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Board of Health, after hearing, has released the first shipment of frozen Australian beef, which for ten days, had been held up in cold storage while sanitary inspectors discussed whether the meat had been properly tagged or stamped.

City Attorney Long sent an opinion stating that the meat could not be barred if it conformed to the requirements of the board in stamping and certification and if it passed the Federal officials.

Now that this shipment has been released other and larger ones are to follow, which, according to the importers, will reduce the price of beef and mutton to the consumer by about 30 per cent.

P. E. Quinn, a representative of the government of New South Wales, who attended the meeting of the Health Board, said that his Government would cheerfully comply with all of the provisions of the law, and that following a meeting with Health Officer Dr. R. B. Brodrick, he would cable full instructions today. The first large shipment of Australian beef and mutton to follow is expected about April 17.

The Retail Butchers' Association of San Francisco, with an attendance of fifty, met last night and pledged their hearty support to the movement to bring Australian beef and mutton to this Coast. A committee of three will be appointed to confer with Mayor Rolph to get him to stop the throwing of obstacles in the way of the delivery and distribution of the shipments. F. T. A. Fricke, special trade representative of State of Victoria, attended the meeting and said that the quality of the Australian meat was superior to any other. He stated that the United Kingdom last year used 4,000,000 sheep and 4,500,000 lambs from Australia, and it requires two weeks longer to land them there than here.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OROVILLE, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the most serious motorcycle accident that has ever taken place in this section of the State, W. S. Clark and Miss Maude Wheeler received broken noses and Albert Lasater, a fractured skull as a result of a head-on collision late last night.

Lasater is still lying in the hospital in a semi-conscious state, but it is believed he will recover. The fourth member of the party, Miss Lulu Campbell, escaped practically uninjured except for severe bruises. The accident took place last evening on the Oroville-Marysville road. Lasater and Miss Campbell were on one machine and Clark and Miss Wheeler on the other. They were traveling in opposite directions and both at good speed. Neither machine carried a light.

Before either driver could stop his machine or retard its speed in any way, they crashed together and the occupants were thrown with great force to the ground. All three members of the party were rendered unconscious.

HORSE USES STAGE EXIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING (Cal.) April 9.—When the Dreamland Theater caught fire here last night from an exploding moving picture film, a trained horse on the stage showed more self-possession and better sense than anybody in the audience. As the alarm sounded, the horse jumped off the stage and made his way through the side exit provided for a fire escape. Everybody else in the house pressed for the front doors by which they had come in.

The fire came when the show was about to close and the crowd was small and no one was injured in the jam. The property damage was trifling and the fire was soon under control.

SUES POLITICIAN ON DEBT.

San Jose Woman Asserts She Holds the Bag as Accommodation Indorser on a Promissory Note.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James W. Rea, former political dictator in Santa Clara county, is named as the chief defendant in a suit for the establishment of the legality of a lien of $8750 and foreclosure on property formerly owned by the Vendome Dairy Company, which was filed today by Mrs. Emma Rea Loupe.

On August 7, 1907, Mrs. Loupe alleges, she filled the role of accommodation indorser at the request of J. W. Rea on a promissory note executed in favor of the Commercial and Savings Bank of San Jose for $7500, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. Rea failed to pay and December 1 the bank instituted suit and obtained judgment for $10,500. This the plaintiff satisfied by the payment of $8750.

Mrs. Loupe asserts that J. W. Rea, to secure her in the event of loss by reason of her accommodation, created a lien on the Vendome property, of which he was the owner in fee, and also alleges that he was the owner of every share of the Vendome company's capital stock, and that all of the others were merely dummies.

In spite of this lien, she asserts, J. W. Rea executed a deed of conveyance to the Thomas Rea Company, and that the transfer was made without valuable consideration, and that March 3, 1911, the property was reconveyed to E. M. Rea without valuable consideration.

Drys Defeated After Eight Months of Rule in California Town by Forty-three oVtes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MODESTO (Cal.) April 9.—Complete returns today from the election yesterday show that the town went wet by forty-three votes, having gone dry eight months ago by forty votes. The total vote was: Wet, 1104; dry, 1061.

When the town went dry there were sixteen saloons. There will now be four saloons, two hotels, and two or three restaurants privileged to sell liquor. Restaurants may sell wine or beer with meals but not distilled spirits.

Saloons selling liquor across the bar must pay $1600 a year for a license. A city ordinance forbids any partitions, boxes, cards, or shaking dice for drinks.

Mobilized for Strike.

general suffrage bill was introduced into Parliament by the Socialists, and supported by the Liberals. This was refused all consideration by the clerical majority, and a general strike was voted for April 14.

BURGOMASTERS RECEIVED.

Steps were taken on all sides to settle matters. The Burgomasters of the nine principal cities were received by the Premier, who, while declaring that no government worthy of the name would allow itself to be intimidated by the threats of the mob, said that if the menace of a general strike were removed he would be disposed to talk.

The Socialist National Committee thereupon cancelled its previous decision and Belgium breathed anew.

The government, however, made no move at all and the Socialist Congress at Easter again voted the general strike.

The Socialists themselves are somewhat divided and the voting on the strike in the lodges throughout Belgium indicates that from a quarter to a third of their number is opposed to the movement.

A good many influential persons hope that as the hour approaches a compromise will be arranged.

TONG OFFICERS FLEE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Nine Chinese indicted by the grand jury for murder are fugitives from justice, including the presidents and secretaries of the warring Bang Kong and Suey Sing tongs and the secretary of the Six Companies, the most powerful commercial organization in America. Efforts to serve them today with warrants were fruitless. The Detective Bureau believes they left for the East last night.

How the Chinese under indictment got word that they were wanted before warrants had been issued or the morning papers had the news, is a mystery. Detective McPhee, who is supposed to know as much about Chinatown as anybody, said today that several of the fugitives had been missing for three or four days. It was not possible to detain them because there was no charge against them. But five of the nine, including all the prominent tong officers, fled last night. The police say that it will be hard to find them.

NO MERCY TO HOLD-UP MEN.

Two in San Francisco Stole Sixty Cents and Get Aggregate of Twenty-two Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty-two years in State penitentiaries for the theft of 60 cents, or more than one year's imprisonment for every 3 cents stolen, is the atonement which must be paid by John Brown and John Kelly, two hold-up men, who appeared before Judge Lawlor today.

Kelly and Brown held up Joseph Stark in this city February 5, when a search of his clothing revealed just 60 cents. Judge Lawlor today sentenced Brown to serve eight years in San Quentin and Kelly fourteen years in Folsom. Both men had prior convictions against them.

Baby Grand Piano at $750

During the past two weeks we have been running a series of advertisements advocating the purchase of Grand Pianos. We have been telling about the splendid Baby Grand we sell at $750.

The result of this advertising has been that many people have come to the store to see this instrument and they invariably remark, "I didn't know one could buy a good Grand Piano for so little more than it costs to buy a reliable upright." We have sold nine of these Grands in two weeks.

We are highly gratified with this number of Grands sold recently, and as more and more people realize that a good Grand need not be expensive, our business will still further increase.

If you are going to buy a piano, we want you to see this Baby Grand. If you have an upright that you would like to exchange on a Grand we would like to talk to you about it. A liberal arrangement will be made so that the instrument you decide upon may be bought on easy terms.

WILSON VISITS CAPITOL AGAIN.

Pleads With Senate Leaders for Tariff Harmony.

Situation Canvassed but No Agreement Reached.

Chemical Schedule Adopted by House Caucus.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In the interest of success for the Democratic tariff revision bill, President Wilson today stepped over another obstacle in the way of perfect harmony between the White House and the directing forces of Congress. For the second successive day he left his own offices in the White House and journeyed to the Capitol, this time for an hour and a half of conference with Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee.

At its conclusion, the President stated frankly to newspaper men that he and members of the Senate were agreed that nothing stood in the way of harmonious support "of the party platform" as to tariff revision. The Senate situation was canvassed in detail at the conference. No agreement was reached that binds the Senate leaders to any definite line of action.

A SINGLE TARIFF BILL.

While the conference was in progress the full Democratic membership of the House was in caucus at the other end of the Capitol, discussing the details of the tariff bill, the first schedule of which was agreed to without change. Representative Underwood, Democratic leader of the House, stated at the conclusion of the day's caucus that the tariff revision would go through the House as a single bill.

At the end of the conference, the President, with Democratic simplicity, stopped in the Senate corridor to tell newspaper men the results of the meeting.

The President was asked if the conference had decided whether the tariff would be revised in a single bill, or schedule by schedule.

"That's a matter for the other end of the Capitol," he answered, pointing toward the House side.

As a result of today's conference, which is to be resumed later, it is believed that the President will not object if Senate leaders determine it is essential the tariff be split up into a number of single measures.

Extreme simplicity surrounded the President's arrival at and departure from the Capitol. The Senate was deserted and but few persons witnessed the coming and going of the Executive, or realized the significant precedent he had established in visiting the Capitol for legislative conferences.

NOT A LETTER CHANGED.

The chemical schedule was completed in the House caucus today without the change of a letter, though numerous amendments were offered; and the consideration of Schedule B (earthenware and glassware) was begun.

The bowling over of all amendments to the chemical schedule, the counsel of Mr. Underwood and the other leaders for party harmony with a view to a united front on a single tariff revision bill and the naming of necessary working committees—ways and means, rules, accounts, mileage and enrolled bills—featured today's session.

Representative Broussard of Louisiana announced he was prepared to present, at the right time, a plan for adequate protection of sugar.

LOSS OF REVENUE.

It was explained to the caucus that the estimated revenue from the new bill, as computed by the Ways and Means Committee, would be $267,412,000, as compared with $304,591,000 under the present law for one year. This is exclusive of the income tax, which, it is figured, would bring approximately $70,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Expression of the desire of the Wilson administration to aid in closer relations with the United States and countries of Latin-American was given today by Secretary Bryan at the first meeting of the governing board of the Pan-American Union, which he has attended, and of which, he, as Secretary of State, is chairman ex-officio.

Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil, ranking Latin-American diplomat here, welcomed Mr. Bryan. A vote of thanks, offered by Minister Calderon of Bolivia, was adopted "for the friendly and sympathetic sentiments," Mr. Bryan had spoken.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—A government residence, second in rank to the White House, is provided for Vice-President Marshall in a bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative Cullop of Indiana. Mr. Cullop proposes authority for an expenditure of $5000 immediately for designs for such a building in Washington.

ASK REMOVAL OF NEGRO.

Florida Democrats Want None But White Men to Hold Office in that State.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Representative Emmett Wilson of Florida urged the President today to remove from the office of Collector of Internal Revenue in Florida, Joseph E. Lee, a negro Republican leader. Representative Wilson said Lee had held the office for sixteen years, and he believed a Democrat should be appointed. He recommended H. H. Lewis. The action of the Florida Legislature in petitioning the President to remove Lee and other negro office holders, was declared by Representative Wilson to be an unnecessary step. The President took the subject under consideration.

AUTOMOBILE WAR ENDS WITH DRAMATIC ACTION

BY DENT C. SMITH.

AFTER a three days' conference, in which Chairman William Schimpf of the contest board of the A.A.A., Fred L. Baker, president of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and Frank Garbutt, president of the W.A.A., were involved, a dramatic climax came at 11 o'clock last night. Final action was reached when W. L. Valentine, vice-president of the auto club, proposed a clean sweep of all disqualifications now outstanding against all members of the Western Automobile Association.

When this bald proposition was made, Chairman Schimpf went to the bat and struck a home run by his agreement to wipe from the slate the names of Barney Oldfield, Teddy Tetzlaff, Ralph Hamlin and every other Los Angeles man who was under the ban of the Automobile Association of America. Schimpf indorsed the action taken by the directors of the club, and said he is satisfied with the work already accomplished, and is ready to leave Los Angeles today with the knowledge that he has met a crew of jolly good fellows.

By the terms of the agreement the contest board will be named from among the strong business men of this city. No automobile dealer is eligible. Chairman Kuster will have a voice in the selection, and President Baker, Vice-President Valentine and the other directors of the automobile club will name the men they believe best fitted for the position of importance on the "home rule" governing board of the A.A.A. Chairman Kuster now becomes a member of the national contest board of the A.A.A., with a vote and a voice in all national affairs.

The statement issued by the board of directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California is comprehensive, covers the entire situation and cites just what has happened since Chairman Schimpf arrived. After a two weeks' stay in this city Schimpf will leave today and his recommendation wired to the home office of the A.A.A. at New York last night is that all disqualifications are to be raised at once and that the governing power of racing affairs in Los Angeles is to be placed in the hands of the new Contest Board.

AUTO CLUB STATEMENT.

Here is the statement signed by Fred L. Baker, president of the Automobile Club, W. L. Valentine, vice-president, and Chairman William Schimpf:

"Owing to the disturbed conditions that have prevailed in contest matters in this locality for the past few months, considerable dissatisfaction was aroused and the belief became quite general that Southern California was not receiving the consideration to which it was entitled in such matters from the Contest Board of the A.A.A. It was contended that Southern California should have a large voice in the control of contest affairs and it was the belief of the members of the Automobile Club of Southern California that some action should be taken by the Club that would tend to bring about more satisfactory conditions.

Several months ago an organization composed largely of representative automobile dealers and representative racing drivers, as well as of other well-known men interested in the sport of automobile racing, was formed, with a view toward taking control of the contest situation independently of the A.A.A. Soon after the formation of this organization, to-wit, Western Automobile Association, the Automobile Club of Southern California was requested to accept its affiliation with the American Automobile Association and to give its support to the W.A.A. In response to the wishes of the members of the Automobile Club of Southern California, its board of directors requested the A.A.A. to send an official representative to Los Angeles. It being the unanimous sense of the board of directors that a readjustment in the administration of contest matters was imperative, but it was decided that before taking such a radical step as severing the club's affiliation with the A.A.A., with which organization the club has been connected for the past ten years, to await the arrival of the A.A.A. representative before taking any action in the matter.

On April 1 a meeting of the board of directors of the club was held, at which meeting William Schimpf, the chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile Association was present, and a general discussion of the situation was taken up, and on April 7 another meeting was held with the A.A.A. representative, at which time a decision was reached on all matters under discussion.

In the meantime the representative of the A.A.A. had canvassed the local situation thoroughly and had come to the conclusion that a plan of administration of contest matters could be devised which would be more generally satisfactory than any that has been in force heretofore. Chairman Schimpf used every effort to devise a plan that would be satisfactory, and in his efforts he received the co-operation of the club, with the result that local contest matters would be administered along lines that will without doubt give rise to no further conflict of opinion as to the proper procedure to be followed in the future.

The board of directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California, after holding a number of meetings and giving the matter exhaustive consideration, came to the conclusion that the situation did not demand severance of the relations between the club and the A.A.A. The American Automobile Association is a national organization of automobiling, composed entirely of affiliated clubs from all parts of the United States, clubs representing the leading citizens of the leading communities in which they are located. With it also is affiliated the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, representing the makers of all the leading cars in America, and all of the prominent men in the business. It was believed that an affiliation with this national organization, with its influence through its affiliated clubs and manufacturing associations, will be of great value to this community, particularly in helping Southern California secure the western terminus of one of the ocean-to-ocean highways, and national good roads legislation.

Chairman Schimpf's indorsement of the automobile club's request for the formation of a contest committee in Southern California, to have full control of contest matters according to the rules of the contest board of the A.A.A., answered to some of the complaints. Although he is not, up to this time, chosen to be in the [illegible] automobile contest committee in this country, it was believed by the directors that the [illegible] would harmonize the [illegible] Schimpf to [illegible] contest committee.

At the final meeting of the board on April 7 the following resolutions were adopted:

WILSON VARIES POINT OF VIEW.

Panama Act Does Not Violate Treaty.

Ships of America Should Be Benefited.

[WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES. April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] President Wilson has become convinced that there should be free tolls for American ships and he may take the stand, with Senators of New York, against repeal in the Panama Canal act. Intimated unofficially today following a conference between John Bassett Moore, who is to be counselor to the State Department, and Secretary Knox it has been understood President Wilson favored the repeal of the Panama Canal act, holding it was a violation of our treaty with England. The President is now giving careful thought to the matter and while he is not convinced that the act as it stands is not a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty he has become convinced that American ships should have an advantage in the use of the canal. The impression in his mind is that this may be done in some way cannot be found to accomplish the same end without offense to England.

John Bassett Moore, the new counselor to the State Department, is an authority on international law and has served in the past as assistant Secretary of State and as our representative in various foreign controversies. While he is a strong advocate of arbitration, it is said he has expressed the opinion that the Panama Canal act dealt with a purely domestic matter and is not a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The President, it is said, will soon confer with Senator Root and may take the Senator's view of the controversy that is to be fought in the Senate.

EARTHQUAKE CLAIMS.

[WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES. April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Representative Kahn today introduced a bill to pay the claims of residents of San Francisco whose property was seized at the time of the fire of April 18, 1906.

It was also introduced by Representative Kahn to confer jurisdiction on the United States Circuit Court of the 9th district to determine claims of American citizens under the act of the Bering Sea arbitration tribunal. This bill is to enable the sealing vessels whose vessels were seized in the Bering Sea, for sealing to take their cases before a court to have their claims adjudicated. Vessels seized by Russia and Japan have all been compensated by those two governments. The government, said Kahn today, has done nothing for the owners of the vessels seized here. He said tonight he would introduce a bill in the House on Thursday next for the establishment of a number of bonded districts at ports of the United States.

Orders were issued today by Secretary Daniel for the chief of bureau of yards and docks and the commandant of the Mare Island navy yard notifying them that he has decided that yard under the list of navy yards and desirable for continuation of dredging.

Officers of the War Department stated today that it is the President's intention to carry out the plan of improving the channel over the shoal in San Pablo Bay according to present plans, including the construction or purchase of a dredge, provided of course that the funds are appropriated by Congress.

TURNS TABLES ON GOVERNOR.

Jordan Says Johnson Clerks Get Outside Money.

Subpoenas Ten to Testify in Present Hearing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of State Jordan turned the tables on Gov. Johnson and the Board of Control today when he demanded that the board issue subpoenas for ten witnesses, who, he declares, will testify that in almost every State department or office employees are earning outside money by doing work for various persons.

THE PARTIES WANTED.

Harriet B. Odgers, stenographer; B. C. Greer, private messenger, and Miss A. G. Brid, clerk, all three of the Governor's office.

T. M. Eby, secretary of the State Board of Equalization.

A. W. Sanborn, chief deputy Surveyor-General.

Charles H. Adams, phonographic reporter for the Third Appellate Court.

Jordan will also demand that several San Francisco men who have been benefiting by information furnished by some of these State employees, shall appear before the board and reinforce the testimony he proposes to offer.

The Governor's private messenger has been furnishing at least one and possibly more insurance bonding companies and supply-houses with advance information on notarial commissions about to be issued. Agent Maloney of the Aetna Insurance Company received a bill last Saturday from Greer for work done in March. Miss Odgers, the Governor's confidential stenographer, is also said to make a nice sum for pocket money for similar work.

RUN STATE WITH STAMP.

Miss Odgers and Soares manage the State of California with a rubber stamp during the frequent absences of the higher officials. It was Miss Odgers who sent the famous telegram declaring in the name of the Governor that no highway routes would be selected until after the Presidential primary last year. She receives $40 a week regular salar.

In the Controller's office, clerks, it is said, recently were paid $600 for preparing data for Milton T. O'Ren. Another clerk was paid $100. Chief Deputy Sanborn of the Surveyor-General's office, it is said, has been making money outside his salary furnishing various companies with maps and land information that does not come within the law requiring fees to be paid into the State treasury.

WILL SHOW THEM UP.

Jordan declares he will show up the whole State machinery from the Governor down, if the collection of fees for outside work is considered improper.

Evidence that the Governor and his henchmen are tiring of their idea of trying to discredit the Secretary of State, is becoming noticeable. The hearing slated for this afternoon was done away with.

The board is placed in the awkward position of either having to grant Jordan's requests for subpoenas and permit the Secretary of State to expose a similar state of affairs in the Governor's office, or refuse to grant them and have the public confirm its opinion that the affair is a put-up job.

The question of whether the subpoenas demanded by Jordan should be issued required an executive session today. No decision was reached. Attorney Willis Jordan, brother of the Secretary of State, will not demand they be served until this board finishes its evidence. If by that time the Legislature sees fit to remove the board's supervision of the investigation the witnesses will probably be subpoenaed to testify.

In order to squirm gracefully out of this trying situation the board plans to delay the hearing to await legislative action.

It was freely rumored about the Capitol tonight that Greer, and other attaches of the Governor's office charged with accepting fees for outside work, would be granted a vacation, and probably would not be available to accept service on a summons when Jordan desired to have them testify.

Neylan's egotistical confidence in his ability to "get" Jordan has deserted him. Intimation that the Governor might not hesitate to make a "goat" of him in case the investigation falls flat is causing Neylan to move more cautiously than hitherto. That the administration, and particularly the Governor, is coming in for much embarrassment in the attempt to persecute Jordan is evident. Neylan, who appears to the public to be directly responsible, is apt to be "fired," it is said, if he fails to make good, in order that the Governor may run to cover from the avalanche of public censure.

The investigation is costing the State much money. Witnesses from Los Angeles, others from San Francisco and other cities, all have been paid their mileage and expenses.

Effort was made by Neylan at the morning session to show that Bookkeeper Watts by means of his personal and State funds in his custody acted as a clearinghouse for the Secretary of State's office in distributing to other employees money which Mrs. Brewer had earned. The attempt was unsuccessful.

POLICEMAN TESTIFIES.

A motorcycle police sergeant of Los Angeles testified that when Dist.-Atty. Fredericks of Los Angeles applied to the Secretary of State for daily automobile registration lists they were furnished by Jordan, Jr., to the police department. The board sought to leave the impression that the names of new motor car owners had been refused the police.

Correspondence was introduced, however, showing that when young Jordan refused to supply the Los Angeles motorcycle department with the names until they had been recorded in the Secretary of State's office, he was overridden by his father, and the department was accommodated daily and given first opportunity to scan the applications for licenses.

It was learned today that W. B. Humphreys, one member of the board, is not entirely in sympathy with the persecution of Jordan. Humphreys has not taken any interest in the investigation since it was inaugurated by the Governor's chief henchman, Neylan. He has attended all hearings, but thus far never has asked a question.

That the Governor and Neylan are beginning to realize the investigation is likely to react to their own undoing is evidenced more and more as the investigation proceeds.

"What do you think of the case against Jordan," the Governor and his henchman, Neylan, have asked newspaper men and others recently. The frank reply that unless they "have something more on Jordan than has been shown" the case will fall flat does not seem to please either.

SUBSTITUTE BILL.

Jordan is now busy over the proposed legislation to take the motor vehicle department away from him. A substitute bill for the Birdsall measure in the Senate has been prepared and will probably be reported out by the Roads and Highways Committee with the recommendation that it pass. The bill provides for a registration license of from $4 to $11.50, and will not contain the administration clause removing the department from the Secretary of State's office to the Highway Commission.

The administration plan for the transfer of the department received a rough jolt today when Atty.-Gen. Webb rendered an opinion that no money used from the automobile collections could be utilized for the upkeep or maintenance of the highways built under the $18,000,000 bond issue.

SENATE SESSION.

COURTESY DELAYS LEGISLATION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SACRAMENTO, April 9.—Reconsideration of all measures upon which the final vote is unsatisfactory to any member, when such member complies with the procedure necessary to bring about a second vote, was established as the policy of the Senate today, and as a result, most of today was spent in "reconsidering."

TWO MEASURES FAIL.

An Assembly bill, prohibiting election commissioners from establishing a voting place within 100 feet of any saloon, or in any billiard hall, livery stable or blacksmith shop, failed of passage by seven votes.

A bill by Senator Cohn, relating to divorces, and assigning permanent insanity as a legal cause, failed by nineteen ayes and eighteen noes.

Among the other bills passed were the following:

By Senator Carr, prohibiting unfair competition and discrimination.

By Bryant, making it a misdemeanor to sell theater tickets in excess of seating capacity.

By Finn, directing the State Board of Education to give preference to California authors in selecting textbooks for the public schools.

By Assemblyman Brown, providing for the licensing, inspecting and regulating of maternity hospitals, boarding-houses and homes for the care of children, by the State Board of Charities and Corrections.

By Assemblyman Bohnett, permitting the sale of fire arms and ammunition to Indians, repealing a law that has been on the statute books since pioneer days.

Pins Faith to G. O. P.

ment which has for its purpose the strengthening of the Republican party and the directing of its influence and power along effective and progressive lines. I have no desire to quarrel with, and certainly I shall not question the sincerity of those who think they can better serve their country by working with other organizations. But surely, it is the duty of all those who propose to remain with the Republican party to make the fight there to see to it that the party is made an effective and militant force for sound and wholesome service in dealing with the questions of the day. I am quite willing to concede that there is room for honest difference of opinion as to how we can best effectuate those things which, for the welfare of society, ought unquestionably to be done. No one man, in my opinion, is wise enough to foretell the alignment which is to come in the next few years. So every one acting in sincerity must map out his own course.

LOYAL TO THE PARTY.

"But speaking for myself and believing as I do, that the great body of the Republican party, those who have made its history, are in thorough sympathy and full accord with the things which ought to be done, I propose to remain with them. So long as the rank and file, the body of the party, is sound and animated by just and wholesome principles, upon what theory either of expediency or courage do we quit the field? It may be said that it is boss-ridden. Well, then, I am in favor of unhorsing the riders. When the Baltimore convention met last June, the most famous of living Democrats declared in print that it was a national convention, controlled by a national committee, the committee controlled by a subcommittee of sixteen, the subcommittee controlled by a group of eight men and these controlled by Boss Murphy,' yet the country will be greatly surprised and greatly disappointed if the cultured gentleman now coming to his great task with the good wishes of all who place their country above their party's interest, yields in the least to the influence or suggestion of Boss Murphy.

GREAT THINGS ACCOMPLISHED.

"On the fourth day of March, 1913, the Republican party, retiring, had been in continuous power for sixteen years. It has not during that time accomplished all that its critics demanded nor by any means all that its best friends desired. But when it comes to the question of abandonment rather than strengthening and rebuilding, it is well to reflect upon what it did do. The things which we have to do in this complex and industrial life of ours cannot be done in a day or a year. The great question is, are we going forward and are we doing the right things in a permanent way, though more slowly than some might wish. It is just as essential that a party fearlessly reject the specious but fallacious schemes put forward in the name of advancement as that it with due vision and purposes select the permanent elements of progress.

CREDIT REPUBLICAN PARTY.

"During these sixteen years in which the Republican party has been in power there has been created the Department of Commerce and Labor within which, entitled to special mention, is the Bureau of Corporations. The Interstate Commerce Act has been greatly improved and amplified and the Interstate Commerce Commission has been strengthened; a drastic anti-rebate law has been passed and enforced. The employers' liability measure has been enacted into law; the widows' pension bill and the age pension bills of 1907 and 1912 passed; the safety appliance law enlarged and extended; rural delivery established throughout the country; a postal savings system inaugurated; a parcel post law enacted; the eight-hour law extended and made effective; the children's bureau created; the Department of Labor established; the three-year homestead bill enacted; the title bill for settlers upon reclamation projects passed; the enlarged dry homestead bill enacted; amendment to the Constitution providing for the levying of an income tax submitted and adopted and an amendment providing for the popular election of Senators submitted and now practically ratified; an election publicity law enacted; the physical valuation of railroads provided for; the Panama Canal acquired and practically completed.

SOUND AND PROGRESSIVE.

"Certainly it must be conceded that these measures are sound and progressive measures and extend over the whole field of industrial and humanitarian legislation. I recall these among other things which might be noted as having been done, as sufficient proof that within the party there always has been and there now is a powerful force for progressive and effective legislation and efficient and capable administration. However much some of us might have desired other things, can there be any possible doubt that nowhere is to be found a better beginning for that power with which we are going to get the other and better things?

DETECTING COUNTERFEITS.

"Where are we to find among any body of voters a greater capacity for that singular political insight and remarkable wisdom which chooses the real from the spurious, and the permanent from the ephemeral who know that progress consists not alone in the things which are new, but also in the things which will stand the test when they come in contact with the actual affairs of life. That progress consists in selecting those plans and policies which serve not alone to interest and excite, but which will actually administer to the wants and necessities, the comforts and joys of those actually engaged in the struggle for existence.

ONE MORE FIGHT AT LEAST.

"So, I repeat, others may do as they will and as their judgment and conscience direct; but so far as I am concerned there will be one more fight at least. When I think of this great organization with thousands of earnest and devoted members, men from every walk of life, men who have given of their time and their money, their thought, energy and purpose, to the building up of the great party, not for selfish purposes alone, but that through it the best thought of a great people might be finally crystallized into laws and built into institutions; when I think of turning it all over and deserting it, not because of treason and backsliding in the ranks, but because, perchance, a few men would misdirect or poorly direct its forces, I can look upon such action as sheer and shameless cowardice."

STORMY SCENES ON ARMY BILL.

Ex-German Officer Attacks Increase Measure.

Denounces Undue Favoring of the Nobility.

Chancellor Hollweg Defends Government's Policy.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

BERLIN, April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Stormy scenes marked today's closing of the general debate over the army bill in the Imperial Parliament. The first speaker was the progressive Dr. Doormann, who submitted some wishes of his party. Then the Alsacian Haegy spoke against the bill, which he contended would only induce the Frenchmen to further armament. Alsace would suffer most in a conflict and was therefore against any war. The Social Democrat, Dr. Frank, brought forth definite demands. They referred to forbidding of duels, discharge of officers fighting duels and insuring the citizens rights to be officers of the reserve. Then the storm began.

Maj.-Gen. Haeusler, retired, member of the Centre party, and representative of the Bavarian election district, amid the applause of the Social Democrats, attacked the army increase bill and most parts of the budget.

He demanded not only a strict interdict against duels, but also the abolishing of the guards of the commanding generals and army inspectors. The highest positions in the army ought to be left to commanders of divisions. Haeusler said the German artillery was in the worst condition. Luxury, class spirit and undue favoring of the nobility were always on the increase.

The members of the Centre party sat silent while Haeusler was speaking, but the Social Democrats cheered him lustily.

The War Minister, Gen. Von Heeringen, repulsed the attacks in very excited tones. He said he could not understand where Haeusler had collected his experiences which were wholly unmilitary.

One of the Bavarian plenipotentiaries to the Federal Council, Maj.-Gen. Wenninger, also protested against the remarks of Haeusler, who formerly had been a general of the artillery, but had quitted military life long ago. Other conditions prevailed now.

CHANCELLOR APPEARS.

In the meantime Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg made his appearance. He arose to correct a misunderstanding in regard to a sentence in his last speech regarding the hostile attitude of the Slaven against the German enthusiasm.

The Chancellor said he had not meant Russia. He always had pointed out the good relations with the Russian government.

Then the discussion of the army bill was resumed. But lesser lights spoke and the interest was exhausted.

At the conclusion of the sitting, personal explanations ensued between Haeusler and Weninger. The latter protested on behalf of the body of officers against the attacks of Haeusler, which were only applauded by the Social Democrats. He was then sharply criticised by the Social Democrats Ledebour and Dr. Frank.

GEN. LI SLAIN.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two years almost to a day since his death was once before announced in a cable from Peking, London heard today that Li Yuan Hung, Vice-President of China and leader of the Chinese Progressives has been assassinated at Wu Chang, opposite the city of Hankow, from which he headed the military campaign of revolution which drove little Pu Yi from his Manchu throne. The impression has gained ground for some time that a new imperialistic plot is in course of prosecution and according to one version of the assassination which is credibly received, Gen. Li is a victim of that plot.

After the fall of Wu Chang, Hankow and Hanyang in the latter part of 1911, Gen. Li moved on the capital. The imperial family was panic-stricken.

Yuan Shai Kai was for a compromise and declared himself in favor of a constitutional monarchy, but Gen. Li held out. After Dr. Sun Yat Sen was chosen provisional President and his retirement in favor of Yuan Shai Kai so as to save the young republic from the international discussion, Gen. Li gave the new government his unstinted support.

KEATING CALLS DOWN RAKER.

Colorado Representative Says His State Indorses Wilson's Free Wool and Sugar Ideas.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Congressman Edward A. Keating of Colorado, informed the Democrats of the House in caucus today that his State was squarely behind Woodrow Wilson on any ideas he may have for free sugar and free wool; that Colorado had signified in its vote of last fall that its Congressmen should go to Washington and work for a lower tariff on these commodities as well as on the rest of the items tending toward hoisting the cost of living.

Keating's speech was provoked by Raker of California, who said if the West had been aware that President Wilson favored free wool he would have gotten considerably fewer votes than he did in that region. Keating asserted that Raker was not speaking for the whole West.

Representative Perkins said that he had joined Keating in his views. Representatives Seldomridge and Taylor took no part in the day's proceedings.

FIGHT FIERCELY TO SAVE LEVEES.

One Gives Way at Memphis, Others Weakening.

Break in Arkansas Due to Negroes Deserting.

Mississippi Waters Rising Start New Flood.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) April 9.—After a day of torrential rains and a strong wind one levee gave way before the flood waters of the Mississippi today and at a half dozen other points a desperate fight is being waged to hold the turbulent waters within bounds, with odds favoring the water. It is admitted levees are weakening. The water, already at an unprecedented height, is pounding against the dykes with increasing force, and whether the embankments can withstand the pressure much longer is uncertain.

The break in the levee near Wilson, Ark., which went out tonight, was said to be due to the desertion of about 150 negro laborers. With a roar that could be heard for a mile or more, about 100 feet of the earth revetment collapsed, and it was by a narrow margin that the workers along the levee, who kept up the fight to the last minute, reached places of safety. When the current was hurled through the rapidly widening gap frail negro cabins were tossed about like playthings and trees were carried away, but so far as can be ascertained all of the inhabitants in the immediate proximity of the break escaped.

ENDS ARE CRUMBLING.

At a late hour tonight the gap was about 300 feet wide, and the broken ends of the levee were crumbling fast.

As a result of the break parts of Mississippi, Poinsettia, Cross and Crittenden counties will be flooded, and with the water coming through the crevasse at Graves Bayou about 40 per cent., or 600,000 acres, of the St. Francis basin will be flooded. The greater part of this area is timber land. The water will get back to the Mississippi through the St. Francis River.

Wilson, a settlement of about 250 lumber workers and their families, is the most important town that will be swept by the first rush of the water.

Other points considered in the greatest danger tonight are Mound City and Osceola, Ark. At both points the top of the levee is a foot or more above the water, but the river is being beaten into high waves and is sweeping over the rain-soaked embankments.

Unprecedented rainfall was reported throughout the Central Mississippi Valley and along streams tributary to the Mississippi River. The Arkansas River is at flood stage and Fourche Bayou, a sluggish creek south of Little Rock, is a raging torrent.

The main pipe line which conveys natural gas from the Caddo (La.) field to Little Rock, has burst and a majority of Little Rock homes are without light or fuel.

HOT SPRINGS FLOODED.
RESORT SUFFERS BADLY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) April 9.—This resort suffered $50,000 damages today from the worst flood in years. From 6 o'clock last night until 10 o'clock this morning, 6.55 inches of rain fell, a record for Hot Springs. The rain caused the mountains surrounding the city to send a deluge of water into the town, which carried rocks, driftwood and debris, all of which was deposited in the city streets. Central avenue merchants were summoned from their beds at 2 o'clock to battle with water entering their stores, which at that time was two feet deep. Traffic with the outside world has been cut off.

WHAT IS A CHINESE TONG?

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Lai Wing Yew, Chinese Consul-General, voluntarily gave testimony at the tong inquiry today. He declared that if officials here, in order to put an end to tong warfare, would break up the tong organizations, the Chinese government would approve of the action. He added that his government would co-operate with Federal officials in the effort to disband the tongs, which are not permitted to exist in China, he said.

"What is a Chinese tong?" he was asked.

He said that originally a tong was a form of family organization created to aid members in a benevolent manner, but he added that they had fallen into bad purposes here and many good merchants had been forced into tong membership as a matter of protection.

"I think that deportation would be a good method of breaking them up," he said.

The inquiry, officially, is an inquest being held in connection with the murder of a victim in the present tong war. A transcript of all the evidence is to be submitted to the grand jury, the District Attorney and to the Federal authorities.

RE-ELECTED SEVENTH TIME.

Independent Oil Producers' Agency Elects Officers and Takes in Eighteen More Companies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the seventh consecutive time, L. P. St. Clair was today elected president of the Independent Oil Producers' Agency, and W. B. Robb, who has served as secretary since the first year of the agency's existence, was re-elected to that office, both without opposition.

S. W. Morshead was chosen vice-president, and M. V. McGuigg treasurer. Eighteen companies producing low gravity oil which the Standard several months ago refused to take longer were voted into the agency. The new Executive Committee is H. W. Thomas, W. W. Colm, Timothy Spellacy, M. L. Requa, H. H. Welsh, T. A. O'Donnell, W. L. Stewart, G. A. Scott, S. A. Guiberson, R. S. Hassltine and H. U. Maxfield.

A resolution was adopted and telegraphed to Sacramento indorsing the Sutherland oil protection bills now pending in the Senate and opposing their amendment.

President St. Clair's report showed consumption slowly gaining on production with 294,056 barrels added to stocks in 1912. The agency's sales for the year amounted to 14,523,913 barrels, bringing $11,600,532. The net price to agency members has been 34 cents per barrel for the past few months, but the president said it probably would be 36 cents next month, and 37 or 38 cents the month thereafter.

The agency, St. Clair announced, will at once begin the erection of a topping plant at San Luis Obispo, and will gradually expand it into a full refinery. This course was approved enthusiastically by the directors, several speakers declaring that the refining branch of the business is the key to the oil industry, and that the producers must enter it.

marily at the Japanese, the fact that it makes no discrimination of race in its contents, as well as the desire of the President not to interfere with the sovereignty of the State, has precluded any action by the Federal government at this time.

The President was told by Mr. Raker that the people of California would enact the law through the initiative and referendum if the Legislature refused. He declared the sentiment was five to one in favor of the law.

The President's position had been merely that of inquirer for information, following protests by the Japanese government.

Representative Raker had shown the President a telegram from J. B. Sanford, a leader in the Senate of California, requesting that the Federal government should not interfere with local affairs. The President's decision today, Mr. Raker said, would find approval in California.

President Wilson told Mr. Raker the whole question touched the sovereignty of the State and that he left it to California to make such laws as it deemed advisable for itself, with the hope, however, that no law would be passed which was in conflict with any treaty obligation of the Federal government. It is believed that the protest of the Japanese government will be held in the State Department until the legislation is actually passed. Then the constitutionality of the measure may be tested in the United States courts by Japanese residents in California.

TOKIO, April 9.—Widespread irritation has been aroused in Japan by the proposed anti-Japanese legislation in California. Commercial men threaten to boycott the Panama-Pacific Exposition unless the objectionable bills are withdrawn.

It is stated that Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, has made representations to President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. The Japanese Foreign Office is optimistic and believes that a satisfactory solution will be found.

The Executive Committee of the National Liberal party adopted a resolution today urging the governments of Japan and the United States to prevent the passage of the California land ownership bill, because of the serious effect it will have on the interests of the two nations and on their relations.

Indigestion Causes Many Ills

The hurry and bustle of modern life in cities and villages and in the seasons on farms leads many to indigestion. Impaired digestion is at the bottom of most human ills. It causes lack of proper nourishment, reduces the natural energy and powers of the body.

Poor digestion affects all the joys in life, including earning power. A poverished blood follows if food is not thoroughly digested and poor health results in physical weakness and reduced nervous energy. The reserve store of energy and vitality which is required to push and accomplish the things that success depends upon good health.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, taken just before meals, stimulates the secretion of saliva for the digestion of starches and the secretion of gastric juice for the digestion of other foods, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food, giving to the system its full share of nourishment. This action of Duffy's on the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nourishment necessary to their existence and indirectly to the whole system health and vigor.—[Advertisement.]

ERICAN SAVES ERT TO SERVIA.

Citizen Takes Charge of Durazzo.

Inhabitants Uncle Is Back of Him.

Think Powers Will Attempt to Interfere.

[PRIVATE WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

[BY BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Advices from Durazzo, Albania, received in tonight's Chicago Tribune, under the signature of Arthur Moorer, tells what Moorer calls "the story of the great Serbo-American conspiracy of Durazzo."

"The term 'Serbo-American,'" the Durazzo correspondent, "is truly the prime movers of the scheme for saving the Albanians from the Cossacks' claws and incidentally for saving a seaport to Serbia. It is an American, R. M. Gopcevic of Sacramento street, San Francisco.

"He was born sixty years ago in Dalmatia. But he was taken to America by his parents as a child and passed nearly all his life there. When the Balkan war broke out and at the first of the trumpets rang in the ears of Balkan Slavs throughout the world, Gopcevic could not wait for train and ship at once to rally his fellow men in Montenegro as he could.

"GOES TO DURAZZO.

"Having passed little opportunity for service in Macedonia, he returned to Austria and took ship down the coast to Durazzo, which at that time had just been occupied by the Dutch. Col. D. Boulitch, the local leader, was delighted to receive the assistance and prompt-witted chief of the Red Cross. Within 60 soldiers sick of fever and cholera-hardened town and to the regiment had three deaths, each doctor had to visit daily. It is not to the administrative powers were welcomed.

"GOSPCIC TAKES HOLD.

"Gopcevic at once 'got' into you Boulitch, Col. Boulitch. 'You know how we do things in America.'

"Amid the disheartening news from Austria and even other powers objecting to the Serb occupation of Durazzo, Gopcevic was indeed bringing such cheer to bear on the Servian government that the latter intimated to Boulitch it would be well to leave the coast as soon as possible.

"'By a thousand sight,' retorted Boulitch. 'We are here now. Who is to prevent us from staying? We can form a provisional government and we don't need to take orders from Servia or the powers either. If Austria wants to come down here, let it. We will retire into these mountains and we can there until the Turks and goes away.'

"PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

"The first thing to do was to form a provisional government and have it ready to spring upon the world when peace should be declared. In the discussion it was thus

"The day after our arrival in Durazzo with its Greek houses, its bits, and its big warehouses by the dock, the little steamer plying between the Italian steamer anchorage had just put on his new suit for the first time. There was the slightest doubt that Durazzo is him and in his suit every the great conspiracy

"MAKES BIG BLUFF.

"Italians know that 'I have the United States government behind me,' confided Gopcevic. 'Behind me are Servia and Bulgaria are behind me. Russia is back of them. Germany is divided against herself. Croatians, Bohemians and all hate the real Austrians. We have the majority of Italy with us.'

"'How is that?' I asked.

"'Why, how many Italy is of the Austrian.'

"'Indeed,' said the admiral, 'but you have the majority of the population is now in America, and as you know, will support the cause of its unified nation as soon as our projected Albanians freedom is known there.'"

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A telegram received today by Dr. Thomas McHugh from Dr. Friedmann in New York, brands as a fake any serum being used anywhere by others than himself and represented to be the genuine article. A number of patients have been treated here by Dr. P. M. Savage, county health officer, with serum received from Dr. Heid, of Pittsburgh and said to be the same as the Friedmann serum.

A case at Victorville was also treated by Dr. Garcelon of Pomona with serum received from Dr. Heid. A number of physicians in this part of the State have expressed doubt as to whether the serum being sent out by Heid was genuine or not and the question has been one that has created a great deal of interest.

Dr. Savage does not care to get mixed up in a controversary regarding the merits of the serum as to its being genuine, and in discussing the matter merely confines himself to the statement that he is quite satisfied with the serum he has received from Dr. Heid and being used here for experimental purposes.

Dr. Von Hoffman claims a prior contract with Dr. Friedmann for the commercial rights to the vaccine, and today gave out the alleged contract. This is dated, October 24, 1912, as follows:

"Dr. F. F. # FARMERS WANT BETTER PRICES.

Market Basket Conference Excited Over Problems.

Yoakum Declares West Needs More Railway Mileage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 9.—Everybody at the Farm Credits Conference got enthusiastic today, and some attendants became excited in discussing the high cost of living, the meager returns to the farmer on his products, and the best means of readjusting the economic problem among the agriculturists, middlemen and the ultimate consumers.

Prepared speeches were delivered by Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago; C. W. Thompson of Minneapolis, Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas, Tex.; J. H. Page of Arkansas, and W. J. Spillman of the Department of Agriculture at Washington. B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the board of directors of the Frisco lines, is ill at a sanatorium, but an address prepared by him was read to the conference. Louis W. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railway system, was to have discussed the relation of railroads to the marketing of farm products, but was detained at St. Paul.

CO-OPERATORS ON FARM.

H. S. Moberly, president of the Arkansas Farmers' Union, said that the University of Arkansas was doing valuable work in bringing about co-operation among farmers in his home State. In some cases, he said, farmers working together had increased their income by 200 per cent.

FARM CREDITS.

H. W. Summers, who is a member of Congress, said that, as the necessities of the people change, the scope of government must change, and that the matter of farm credits was a legitimate concern of the national government. The speaker said that, with the rush from the farms to the cities which followed the introduction of rapid transit, the margin between farm production and general consumption had become dangerously narrow. There is no system of carrying over the surplus of bountiful years to care for the lean years.

The speaker pointed out that a 16,000,000-bale cotton crop in 1911 brought $125,000,000 less than a 12,000,000-bale crop the previous year. The corn crop of 1912 was much larger than that of 1911, he said, but it brought the farmer $59,000,000 less.

"What should the government do?" he inquired.

"It must create a marketing bureau, clothe it with almost unlimited discretion, supply it with adequate funds and place upon it the responsibility of working out and helping to apply such methods of sale and distribution of farm products as would insure to producers reasonable, stable and remunerative prices, and to the nation an adequate food supply."

Thompson discussed reasons why farmers are not effectively organized, declaring that the greatest reason was that they were unwilling to pay enough money to obtain able managers. Also, he said, it was not enough that they should put their money into an organization; they must put themselves into it.

"Relations of the Government, Agriculture and the Railroads and Their Bearing on Better Marketing," was the topic of Mr. Yoakum's paper.

"Agriculture and transportation have laid the foundation which has made this the greatest and most powerful nation of the world. They are the biggest factors in America's growth. Since 1905 our population has increased 16 per cent. The value of farm products was 51 per cent. more in 1912 than it was in 1905, while that of the railroads was 40 per cent.

"There are now not more than 1000 miles of new railroad under construction. It would require the construction of 16,000 miles of additional railroad to furnish the same transportation facilities west of the Mississippi River that there are east of it, on the basis of area. That great area of rich country cannot grow as it should on 1000 miles per annum of newly-built railroads."

President Judson presided at the round-table discussion and luncheon at noon while the subject, "Why Is the Farmer Not Effectively Organized?" was discussed.

Arthur Capper, editor of the Topeka Capital; J. H. Page of Arkansas, and B. Youngblood, director of the Texas experiment stations, discussed the subject from various standpoints.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—On behalf of the Southern Pacific Railroad Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors, offered today to sell back to the government at the prevailing price, for grazing and agricultural lands 6300 acres in Kern county, Cal., which the government alleges the railroad obtained possession through fraud. His offer was declined.

Mr. Kruttschnitt was on the witness stand again today before the special examiner for the Federal Court of California in the government's suit to cancel the patent for this land granted to the railroad in 1904. The government contends that the land contains oil worth several million dollars.

In reply to Mr. Kruttschnitt's proposition, William N. Nells, special attorney-general, said:

"The government will not withdraw the charges of fraud so far as they concern the men in the conspiracy in the securing of these lands."

MINNEAPOLITAN DECLARES CITY EXCELS ALL OTHERS.

Finds Here Accomplished What Other Municipalities are Merely Dreaming About and Is Surprised Downtown Churches are So Crowded.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Californians in general, and Angelenos in particular, have manifested along many lines much more enterprise, public spirit and civic pride during the last decade than Minneapolitans and are far ahead of other cities. This is apparent at many points of observation," writes D. D. Webster, a Minneapolis investor, now in Los Angeles, to a friend here.

Mr. Webster records some of his observations thus: "Minneapolis has as good tracks and street cars as Los Angeles with low and easy steps. Los Angeles has more frequent service. Minneapolis talks about better pavements and good roads and Los Angeles has built them—in all more than 1000 miles in and about the city. Minneapolis has mentioned the need for a public toilet system, modeled after those in the principal European cities. Los Angeles has established one.

"Among the features of Los Angeles are a funeral street car, exhibit in the Chamber of Commerce Association of every product of forest, farm and factory in the State and a bureau of information with maps, pictures, advertising matter and statistics, as well as a register for every State; also a continuous course of lectures with lantern slides. Downtown churches have an acute problem in their Sunday-night services, not how to get the people into the churches, but how to keep them out."

Mr. Webster continues: "Imagine, if you can, a Minneapolis preacher apologizing and begging the indulgence of people because they cannot all get inside the building; that is what several preachers do here every Sunday."

Interested also in good roads as a member of the Minneapolis Real Estate Fraternity, Mr. Webster outlined a Los Angeles method of getting money for roads.

"One driving a high-power automobile over the delightful highways is almost certain to exceed the twenty-mile speed limit before he knows it," he said.

"Lookouts are kept and traps set, whereupon the surprised offender is invited to pay a fine of from $5 to $25. Forty augmented the fund the other day by $400."

Militants Disavow Letter Threatening Judge With Death.—Suffragette Leader Arrested.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 9.—British suffragettes declare they are not responsible for an anonymous letter threatening death to Justice Sir Charles Montague Lush, the judge who sentenced Mrs. Pankhurst to three years imprisonment.

The secretary of the militant suffragettes organization said today:

"Human life is sacred to us, as much so now as before the sentence on Mrs. Pankhurst."

Miss Annie Kenney, the temporary head of the militant suffragettes, appeared at Bow street Police Court today under a statute dating from the reign of Edward III, providing for preventive justice. She was arrested yesterday and released on bail.

"WANTED—A MAN"

By James Elliot.

What People Who Have Read It Say of It.

John T. Harding, General Counsel Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Railway: "I have just spent two hours with 'Wanted—A Man.' I heard it was excellent. It is more than excellent. It is great. Just the book that this end of the Nineteenth Century needs. Eighteen hundred and ninety-nine finds our shelves crowded with gilt-edged books; filled with brilliant vacuities of beautiful nothings. When we do find a book worth reading, it has generally gone to the other extreme; diction has been sacrificed on the altar of logic, and truth is so soberly habited that it becomes, instead of a stimulant, a narcotic. The pen of Mr. Elliot has violated the happy medium by uniting the extremes. In 'Wanted—A Man' diction has joined hands with logic; practical lessons have doffed the sober garment and now stand forth all translucent, splendidly brilliant. It is more than a friendly guide-post. It is a flaming signal.

"Young man, if you are ambitious, read this book. It will spur you on to better efforts. If you are not ambitious, read it twice, and if it fails to arouse a drowsy energy; if it fails to suggest a resolution to be stronger; if it does not kindle a smouldering spark, it is out, and you are a blank cartridge. It is decidedly a book of 'now;' it deals strictly with 'today.' It stimulates and refines; it begets confidence and applauds courage; it advocates industry and points toward Calvary. Its direction is upward and condemns indigence; it holds high and banner of truth. If America will read it, the tramp will disappear like the buffalo.

"It is fatal to idleness; its trend is happiness, and it ought to be in every home."

Judge B. M. Baker, Thirty-first Judicial District, Texas: "It is the very best book I ever read."

Western Economist, Des Moines, Iowa: "It should be in the inside pocket of every man, and can be read with profit once a week."

The Baptist Review, Little Rock, Ark.: "The general reading of 'Wanted—A man' by the young people would be an incalculable blessing to the nation."

Dr. N. Green, Lebanon, Tenn., the most prominent educator in the South: "Its sentiments are worthy to be engraved on the foreheads and in the palms of every young man."

Henry J. Raymond, President Security Mutual Life Insurance Co., N. Y.: "It is the best book of the kind I have seen, and should be in the hands of every young man who wishes to succeed."

Phil. E. Chappell, Banker, Kansas City, Mo.: "The sentiments expressed are wise and full of good common business sense, and it should be read by every young man who desires to make a success of life."

Sherwin Cody, New York, one of, if not the leading author and literary critic of America: "'Wanted—A Man' reads more like an ancient classic than the production of a modern business man. Like the Bible, it deals with the essential things of life, and like the Bible also, it is expressed in simple, homely, direct English, as if it were written for all time and all places.

"When we can get the life experience of a thoughtful, earnest, successful man (and in America such a man is almost bound to be a business man,) bodied forth in absolutely natural language, we have literature that can justly be called great.

"This book is short, like most great books, the subject with which it deals is old and trite; yet as we read we feel a refreshing inspiration, and we make up for the shortness by reading it over a few times. Reading a short book several times is far better than reading a long one once, and often it is better to read a single paragraph of a book a hundred times than to glide easily over the entire volume. 'Wanted—A Man,' however, is not a book to encourage skipping. There is nothing in it that does not have weight, and in a certain sense originality; and there is nothing in it that should not interest every creature, old or young, poor and struggling, or wealthy and successful. It is meat of the heartiest kind; yet it is so pure, so wholesome and natural that it will please the most delicate palate.

"It is not safe to say that Mr. Elliot is a great author, who will produce a shelf full of great works. He has produced one short work of genuine greatness which probably sprang spontaneously from a warm heart and a rich experience. It displays few of the arts of the rhetorician, and nothing of the polish and glibness of the modern literary man. There is, however, without doubt, a vast throng of men and women throughout America who claim something more than polish and glibness; their hearts are starving for spiritual food; they want to hear the ring of a confident and masterful voice.

"It is to be hoped that Mr. Elliot's book may awaken a new era of literary production of both volume and weight; and if such we may have it will command the attention of every civilized nation on earth."

A. J. Brown, Dallas, Tex.: "If read and heeded it will prove the most valuable book ever given mankind."

W. T. Dowdall, Illinois, editor, orator and statesman: "The book is full of common-sense and good advice, and will live in the memory of an intelligent people long after its author and the present readers have passed away."

W. M. Anderson, D.D., pastor First Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Tex.: "I think every man should read the first chapter twice, and then slowly read the entire book. I could hardly say that any chapter is superior to others, for all are valuable."

A. D. Brown, President Hamilton-Brown Shoe Company, St. Louis: "I consider it worth a fortune to any young man to read 'Wanted—A Man,' and travel the direction it points."

Cadeeman Pope, D.D., President Arkadelphia, (Ark.) Methodist College: "There is not a dull chapter in the book, nor a foolish sentence in its pages. The chapter on Personal Purity should be the 'vade mecum' of every boy and girl in the nation."

J. M. Greenwood, Superintendent Public Schools, Kansas City, Mo.: "'Wanted—A Man,' by James Elliot, ought to be printed in such a form that every boy could carry it in his coat pocket, and read from it every time he felt the least bit discouraged."

W. T. Wadley, D.D., Pastor Presbyterian Church, Waxachachie, Texas: "In my humble opinion no man or woman, young or old, of righteous ambition, can spend 25 cents and two hours' time to greater profit than to buy and read 'Wanted—A Man.' Indeed, it is worthy to be read over and over again, every line. It is full of inspiration and practical knowledge, and will help all to eminent success who will follow its principles."

Joseph Cratty, Prominent Lawyer, Chicago: "'Wanted—A Man' is a very bright book. I spent three hours yesterday reading it through. There are a great many things in it that had often been vaguely into my own mind, but I never had the power to express them. Mr. Elliot has put them into simple, natural language that will go home to any one, office boy or millionaire. The two best chapters in the book are second and third. If a young man will stick to those he will succeed. The seventeenth on 'Courage and Industry,' is a splendid chapter. So the thirteenth, 'Don't try to build up by tearing down,' and the twenty-first, 'Be Strong.' There is an enormous amount in that little book."

Hon. J. L. Peak, Kansas City, Mo., ex-Minister to Switzerland: "Truth, Work, Pluck, Grit, are the essential elements in human character which conduce to success and happiness in life. This quartette of indispensables forms the 'Old Guard,' in every noble and heroic character, and their value cannot be too profoundly impressed on the minds of young and old. They find happy and forceful illustration in 'Wanted—A Man,' by James Elliot, a booklet which should be the constant companion of every youth in the land."

John C. Fetzer, Chicago, agent estate of C. H. McCormick: "I have carefully read 'Wanted—A Man,' and consider it the best book of the kind that I have ever read. I think no greater benefaction could be done than to place a bound copy in the library of every high school in the country, that the rising generation of young men may read and re-read it again. It is one of those works that will stand constant re-reading and each time will bring out a new thought that will, no doubt, remain prominent in the mind of the youth during manhood."

Thomas B. Bryan, prominent lawyer, scholar and orator, Chicago: "I am impressed with the practical character and shrewdness of the suggestion and the judiciousness of the counsel imparted. In the present formidable competition in every avenue of industry, it behooves aspirants for success to weigh well and carefully heed just such sound advice as this essayist so emphatically presents."

Mrs. L. P. Miller, Monarch Book Company, Chicago: "The perusal of this book makes me feel that I would like to begin my business career over again. The chapter on 'The Law of Life and Remuneration,' is worth many times the price of the book."

Mrs. Clark, a prominent literary woman of Evanston: "The author takes hold of the young man and fires him with inspiration to be the best man possible in every relation of life. His terse sentences tingle with life, and he most crisply and succinctly writes very vigorous English."

SOCIALIST TURNOUT SHOWING STRENGTH.

Large Crowd at Harriman Night—Finkle Resigns as Head of Alembic Club, Declaring a Deal Was Made With Earl—This Is the Last Day to Register.

JOB HARRIMAN, two-time candidate for Mayor, introduced by Chairman Fred C. Wheeler as socialism's "John the Baptist," waved the red flag in the faces of cheering thousands of his followers at the first big socialistic rally of the campaign held last evening at the Auditorium and shouted his confident, defying cry, "we'll win at the primary. When I am Mayor I want our crowd in the Council, and we'll deliver the goods."

There is no denying the enthusiasm of the large audience which filled the theater with the exception of the topmost gallery, and cheered their leader for three minutes when he rose to speak, and again when he compared the initial meeting of the present campaign with that of a year and a half ago and told the crowd that it presaged the coming of the Socialists into their own; describing the rapacity of "capital" and how "his crowd" would humble the giants of industry and commerce and force them to divide with the "common people—the workers of the world."

There was an obvious attempt throughout all the speaking to placate the disgruntled Socialist Labor party and get it back into the fold. Almost every reference to Socialists was followed with the phrase "the party of labor."

Harriman was in fine fettle. He threw the tremolo of melodrama into his passages about the women candidates on the ticket, and cracked many a jest at the expense of the ogre "capital" which he pictures in mortal combat with labor, and which the chief function of Socialism is to destroy.

He called Shenk "poor little Shenk, the tool of the plutocrats," the plutocrats being, for the purpose of his argument, members of the Municipal Conference, who, he said, are planning to exploit the city, turn its power over to the trusts, steal the harbor for the Southern Pacific and elect to the Council men who will have no interest on earth but to keep up the price of electricity and do the bidding of their masters.

Harriman denied the statement made by F. C. Finkle that an alliance has been formed between Earl and the Socialists to swap support of the bonds in return for Earl's support of three Socialist Councilmen, said to be Wheeler, Wolfe and Criswell, and declared that Finkle is angry because the Socialists would not follow him in rejecting the bonds, in spite of the fact that to do so would leave power distribution "in the air," where the power companies would be compelled to "step in and save the city." "Vote for the bonds and put the Socialists in power," said Harriman, "and we will not only have the representation of which Finkle talks, but we'll have the whole shooting match."

Mrs. Mila Tupper Maynard talked on the beauties of Socialism, and its "perfect union with labor," pleading for the "solidarity of labor." The people, she said, are ignorant because they fail to recognize in Job a "great, broad-minded leader."

Tom W. Williams talked finance and succeeded in separating the audience from more than $100. Mr. Balfour sang a solo and the Salyer Quartette was heard in campaign songs.

LAST DAY TO REGISTER.

This is the last day for registration. Voters not properly enlisted by midnight will lose their votes. The Socialists are making registration an imperative duty. Every Harriman man and woman will be secure in his privilege before the time limit expires, and if the red menace is to be successfully met it is necessary for the friends of sane government to look to the beam in their own eye. The registration places are: Courthouse, Union Oil building, Central building, No. 262½ Central avenue, No. 3600 University place, No. 147 South Main street, No. 812 East Vernon avenue, City Hall, Seventh and Hill streets, No. 719 South Hill street, No. 616 South Spring street, No. 616 West Eighth street, No. 3766 South Vermont avenue, Y.M.C.A. building.

In addition to these the County Clerk will have several deputies in the field at large, and they will take as many registrations as possible. Early this morning deputies are to be sent on request to the California Hospital, Pacific Hospital, the city parks, and a number of camps and places where numbers of persons are employed. Lelande states that wherever five or more people may congregate and will notify him he will send a deputy at a given time to take registrations.

NO COMMITTEE YET.

The Good Government Committee of nine has not yet announced its campaign committee of 100. There is a noticeable lack of enthusiasm in this camp, as contrasted with the busy and workmanlike manner in which the Municipal Conference Campaign Committee is going about its task of downing the strong Socialistic propaganda and securing the election of Shenk, Stephens, Mallard and Myers.

The Councilmanic situation is involved. There are seventy candi-

Blood Bath Knocks Rheumatism

It sounds queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of a most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, dissolves acid secretions, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no attention but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, a tonic naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

The great Swift Laboratory has spent millions of dollars in perfecting, producing and placing in the hands of the public this wonderful remedy. So give your blood a good bath with S. S. S., for it knocks the worst forms of rheumatism every time.

You can get it at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle. It is a standard remedy, recognized everywhere as the greatest blood specific ever discovered. If yours is a peculiar case and you desire expert advice, write to The Swift Specific Co., 187 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

JURY CLEARS "BIG BILL" OF DISTURBING CHARGE.

VENICE, April 9.—Throwing pepper shakers in a restaurant, telephone books at the "bouncer," and playfully tossing show girls about cannot disturb the peace of a Venice cafe, according to the verdict of a jury which weighed the evidence against William Aldridge, boxing show promoter, who was found not guilty of disturbing the peaceof the Julius Cafe at 4:30 o'clock on the morning of March 22.

Aldridge admitted throwing the above "articles," but the jury did not see how this could possibly perturb a Venice restaurateur, and Attorneys Earl Rogers and Harry Dehm helped them to see it in this light. The trial lasted two days, and was replete with humorous passages, which was climaxed when Prosecuting Attorney Charles Lyons declared, after a witness had testified that Aldridge bit one of the show girls on the cheek, that he would probably want to take a bite at it himself.

Aldridge, Harold Elliott of the Venceball team, Arthur Traxler and two Orpheum show girls, Evelyn Phillips and Florence Burke, motored from Vernon to Venice and, entering the cafe, ordered a very early breakfast. Lenly Miss, the cook, Charles Miller, a waiter, and Walter Cleland, a dishwasher, testified that Aldridge, angered because one of the girls left the cafe, threw a pepper shaker in her direction. It hit the wall and was shattered.

Then( the witness testified, Aldridge seized Miss Phillips as they were going out, the girl grabbed a steam pipe and shook down from a wall of the cafe one of the works of art hanging thereon. The third alleged disturbance episode, according to the attaches of the cafe, occurred when Aldridge playfully picked up Miss Phillips and tossed her into his machine, telling the driver to take them to Los Angeles. Number four in the list was represented when Aldridge, in a spirit of fun, tossed a telephone directory at the "house officer."

When the girls had departed for Santa Monica, after Officer Berkline appeared, "Rowdy" Elliott missed a diamond pin valued at $150, which he is still missing.

Rogers intimated in his cross-examination that there was a well-defined movement in Venice to place Aldridge in such a light that the City Trustees would cancel his license for producing boxing shows in the Auditorium, thereby clearing the way for the granting of a license to another person over Shaw's saloon on Windward avenue. Miller, the complaining witness, was at one time a bartender in the employ of Shaw.

Consider The Location Of Arlington Square

Center of a Beautiful Residential Neighborhood

—Fifth and Broadway is worth what it is because of its location.

—The same advantage counts in residential property, in proportion.

—A lovely home in a unlovely locality is handicapped when you offer it for sale.

—A home in ARLINGTON SQUARE has added value because of its neighborhood desirability.

—The improvements, the transportation facilities, the high character of the homes surrounding it, the conveniences of gas, water, electricity, telephones, the proximity of two Grammar Schools, Manual Arts High School and Exposition Park, the beauty of its streets and the boulevards approaching it, and the desirable class of residents attracted to that neighborhood, all tend to give it dignity, tone and value.

—Notwithstanding these unusual features, the price is low and the terms are easy. People of refined taste seeking home lots, and others of sound judgment seeking investments, choose Arlington Square and make no mistake in doing it. Out-of-town parties familiar with the locality have purchased direct from the map.

FEAR TIE-UP OF TELEPHONES

Bay State Officials Seek to Prevent Strike.

Hello Girls Discuss Their Plans in Secret.

Union Waiters Will Refuse Meals to Substitutes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, April 9.—Practically all the peace-making machinery of the State was in motion today in an effort to prevent the threatened strike of telephone girls.

The Legislature decided to appoint a joint committee from both houses to consider the situation and make such recommendations as it deems expedient.

The State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, the Chamber of Commerce and city officials also, are trying to bring together the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and its 2300 disentitled operators.

SECRET PLANS.

Independent of the State board, representatives of the girls conferred today with counsel for the company. At union headquarters the girls declared their plans were secret.

WAITERS IN SYMPATHY.

A new element was projected into the situation today when the Waiters' Union declared whether its 750 members should serve food to 1200 or 1300 "emergency" operators brought here from other cities. The waiters decided to call out all union waiters and hotels employing substitute workers if the local girls declared a strike.

CONCESSIONS OFFERED.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company offered today to the Executive Committee of the Telephone Operators' Union a proposition embracing concessions on several points in answer to the Union's demands. This offer, made at a series of conferences, arranged in an effort to avert the threatened strike, was made the basis of further conferences which continued to a late hour.

The company's concessions are understood to have included the following: A small increase in wages, the establishment of night and one-half hours as the maximum working day, the readjustment of the so-called "split-trick system," and the appointment of a board of three operators to hear all complaints by operators and to report to the company officials.

MEASURE AGAINST MEXICANS.

His Requisition Opposed in Court Because of His Incendiary Utterances Against Mexicans.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Reported utterances of Gov. Cole Blease of South Carolina were advanced as reasons in a habeas corpus proceeding before Judge Ferguson in Quarter Sessions Court today when Joseph Grant, otherwise known as Frederick Brown, entered a plea with killing two white men, should not be turned over to officials of the State on requisition.

"Gov. Blease in public utterances," said Grant's attorney, "has announced to the world that he would not protect any negro accused of killing a white man. Public sentiment has been so aroused by these statements that a negro cannot have a fair trial as guaranteed under the Constitution." Judge Ferguson reserved decision.

MOOSE INSTALLATION.

Hundreds of Members of Antlered Order Attend Ceremonies and Inaugural Ball.

Nearly a thousand members of Los Angeles Lodge No. 384, Loyal Order of Moose, witnessed the installation of N. Banks Cregier into the office of Dictator for the ensuing term last night.

The members claim to see in the election of Cregier a new epoch in the order, and a campaign will be inaugurated at once to double the membership of the Los Angeles lodge, which at present totals 4500.

Other officers installed last night, who will assist in the membership campaign, are: Past Dictator, Bernard Mullen; Vice-Dictator, C. C. Pierce; Prelate, A. T. Richardson; Secretary, Ira K. Cummins; Treasurer, J. T. Bunn; Trustees, F. E. Parnell, J. H. McClintock and Charles Pike; Sergeant-at-Arms, E. H. Hitchcock; Inner Guard, M. L. Hudson; Outer Guard, Fred Moore; Lodge Physician, Dr. Almo de Monco.

Dr. de Monco acted as installing officer, and C. E. Cabot as supreme sergeant-at-arms.

A special meeting will be held tonight to greet the Supreme Dictator of the order.

The inauguration ball followed the initiation ceremonies last night. Dr. Rodney Madison and Mrs. Blanche Cregier, wife of the new presiding officer, led the grand march, while the Reception Committee was composed of the White Antlers' drill team and the F.E.B. band. The hall was decorated in the national colors, Moose emblems and flowers.

STARTLES THE POPULACE.

Englishman Walks Into Restaurant in Scanty Attire and Lodging-house Proprietor Calls Police.

REDONDO BEACH, April 9.—John Walter Jessop, an Englishman whose home is in Los Angeles, became insane last night while at the Emerald lodging-house, where he occupied a room yesterday.

Jessop was discovered at an early hour this morning garbed in a nightshirt removing the bedding and all of the furniture from his room to a hall in a distant part of the building.

While the landlord was communicating with the police Jessop walked across the street to a restaurant in the same scanty attire and ordered breakfast.

The police took the man to the Redondo Beach hospital, where he is being cared for. He is not violent and it is thought he is suffering from temporary insanity due to overwork.

In his rational moments he gave the address of friends in Santa Monica, who arranged to have him taken care of at the hospital. Jessop spent considerable time at the beach last summer.

RAILROAD DINNER.

A swimming party in the bathhouse and a dinner later at Mayer's Casino was enjoyed this evening by about thirty-five of the chief clerks and sub-officials of the Pacific Electric Railway Company. The party came here from Los Angeles in a special car and were guests of J. A. Ellis on the Lightning Coaster before the dinner.

The arrangements were in charge of A. L. Walters. The menus were made out as railway waybills and all of the courses served under railway terms. Following the dinner an English smoking concert was held.

Time passes so fast we had almost forgotten to dig down in our pockets for a new straw hat. Got to do it, though. We have counted eighteen of them on the streets today. And a funny thing about it is that out of the eighteen men, fifteen were wearing straw hats with their Winter suits. The combination is out of place, to say the least, and really there's no necessity for it when you consider that you can get a suit at this store, made according to the Braner standard, for as little as $20. It will fit, it will wear, it will give satisfaction.

That Los Angeles and Southern California is to be well represented at the Y.M.C.A. convention which will open today at Fresno, is indicated by the fact that a delegation of about 100 left on the Lark last night, preceded by others on earlier trains and a number more will go tomorrow. For Flood Sufferers.

LOS ANGELES GIVES A HUNDRED THOUSAND

LOS ANGELES gave $100,000 in two weeks for the relief of sufferers from floods in the Middle West, according to a resume made yesterday by F. J. Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Alice B. Chaffee, secretary of the Ohio State Society, and others who have been active in the canvass for funds. The results are regarded as highly satisfactory by persons interested in the aid movement. Here are the figures:

| | |
|---|---|
| Chamber of Commerce | $ 21,191.21 |
| Los Angeles Times Fund | 11,388.17 |
| Contributed through Red Cross Society | 2,855.45 |
| Collected by Ohio State Society | 2,125.70 |
| Contributed through Federation of State Societies Headquarters | 1,006.40 |
| Sent direct by Secret Societies (estimated) | 25,000.00 |
| Miscellaneous (estimated) | 30,000.00 |
| Total | $100,567.93 |

Almost one-fourth of the entire amount was collected by the chamber; the fund started by The Times amounted to $11,388.17; the local branch of the American Red Cross Society forwarded $2855.45. Dr. Chaffee was the custodian of a fund of $2125.70 which was donated through the Ohio Society; the amount of $1006.40 was received at the headquarters of the Federation of State Societies.

The amount forwarded direct to the needy districts by local secret societies is safely estimated at $25,000. One of the Masonic lodges raised a fund of $7000 in one evening. The miscellaneous contributions, including about $3500 from the churches; $2894.14 from the public schools; $1250 from the Los Angeles lumber dealers; $1000 each from the City Council, Wholesale Metal Dealers' Association, Retail Dry Goods Association, and Associated Liquor Industries, are estimated by the Chamber of Commerce at $30,000.

OHIO SOCIETY FIRST.

The cry of the flood-stricken was heard here two weeks ago yesterday. Since Ohio suffered the most from the high waters, it was fitting that the local Ohio Society should be the first to take up the relief work in Los Angeles. Early on the day that the news of the disaster reached this city, C. Elliott Miller, president of the Ohio Society, called a meeting of the Executive Committee in the office of Dr. Chaffee, the secretary, in the Ferguson building, and the work of collecting funds and planning for a series of benefits was begun at once. The Chamber of Commerce soon came to the front and with the usual quick results. Soon there was a loosening of purse strings among all classes.

"The ease with which the large fund was raised speaks well for the generosity of Los Angeles," said Wiggins yesterday. "The chamber has not solicited funds, but more than $20,000 was brought here in voluntary contributions, and the money is still coming in. We have received about $400 today."

The chamber had a balance on hand yesterday of $6748.20. Most of the recent donations forwarded by the chamber have been to small towns in the stricken districts that are out of reach of the relief committees in the cities in the flooded zone. These subscriptions were reported yesterday to the chamber: German-American Bank, cash, $1250; [illegible] a friend, $5; [illegible] Bloom, $5; [illegible] ment by T. J. # MULHOLLAND NAILS THE GRAHAM HIGH LINE.

Direct.

BIGGEST OF EXPERTS SHOWS ITS FALLACY.

Builder of the Aqueduct Declares High Line "Audacious Rapacity."

In Plain, Thorough Answers to Questions Propounded by Henderson of Public Service Commission Regarding Distribution of Surplus Flow He Makes Proposition Clear—Put Water Where Future City Shall Be.

CHIEF ENGINEER MULHOLLAND of the Los Angeles aqueduct states his views on the distribution of the surplus water clearly in the following letter:

January 25, 1913.

Mr. F. G. Henderson, Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of January 20, which seems to have for its purpose the securing of a definite statement of my attitude with regard to the question of the distribution of the water of the Los Angeles aqueduct, I beg to submit the following:

Your letter opens with the statement: "The Los Angeles Times is using your name in its effort to get the people of this city to confine distribution of the water as far as possible to the San Fernando Valley." I would say in this connection that I believe I have read all the statements in The Times, and could not gather from them that that journal either holds the view or is advocating the confining of the distribution of the water to the San Fernando Valley. Neither do I myself hold any such view, nor have I had any conference with the people of The Times for the purpose of presenting or elucidating my ideas on this subject. On the contrary, I will here state that I am as much opposed to the Chatsworth (which is the line designed to serve the northerly slope and the west end of the San Fernando Valley,) as to the high line, and for the same reason, i.e., namely that the city should not pay for either one of them. What my views on this subject were and still are, were presented to the Water Board two and one-half years ago. These views, in a general way, were discussed by the public in publicly-held meetings at that time and since, and conform in substance to the views of the special board of engineers employed to review and report on the matter.

You properly state that the question of distribution is one that the people must decide. In this particular all are agreed.

In answering your questions, to prevent confusion, I shall follow the order in which they are placed in your communication.

START RIGHT.

You start with the statement:

"First: You believe that the land owners or water users should be compelled to pay the expense of building the distribution system; whereas, we believe this cannot be done."

I always believed, and I still believe, that the legal machinery for accomplishing this under the existing statutes is perfectly developed, and Maj. Henry T. Lee, a most capable lawyer, when president of the Public Service Commission, fully relied on this promise and was proceeding on this assumption when death terminated his services with the city. If the legal machinery is imperfectly developed, then every effort of the city should be bent toward having the law so adjusted as to make this possible while the present Legislature is in session.

I believe it would be a most deplorable act at the present time for the people to be stampeded into inconsiderate haste, that would lead to the adoption of methods for the accomplishment of this purpose which would be hopelessly inadequate and confusing in the city's future development. The distribution of this water is a matter which will concern the city for all time, and a false step in its inception will be eventually more or less fatal to its future success. Since it will take several years to realize any financial returns from the high line, the matter of a few months delay in getting started right is not going to result in consequences of moment.

COME INTO CITY.

Your second statement is:

"Second: That you believe the water should be carried only to the amount of land that the surplus waters will adequately serve when every single acre that is fit for either homes or irrigation is using it, and that such land should be land which will eventually become annexed to the city of Los Angeles; whereas, we believe that no one at this time can tell just what territory it will be desirable hereafter to annex to the city, and we believe that the water should be carried to as much land as practical, the city's right to recover the same, when necessary, for domestic use in the territory now or hereafter within the city limits, being carefully guarded."

My report in this particular embraces a much larger area than can be covered by the 18,000 miner's inches at the rate of one miner's inch to seven and one-half acres, and was so laid out, advisedly for the reason that I rely with confidence on the judgment of the special engineers employed by the city, and in whose opinion myself and other engineers having knowledge of these matters fully concur, viz., that the return waters, if the districts in which the waters are used are well chosen, will in time fully compensate for the over-acreage embraced therein.

It appears to me that the people should be called upon right now, in advance of the working out of the plans for the distribution of the water, to express themselves as to the position of the ultimate boundaries of the city. I had this in mind when the map was made that accompanied my original report. At that time I used the greatest caution in the language of the report, to avoid any appearance of directing in a selective way the districts on which the water should be placed. It is certain that this method of proceeding would be more acceptable to the people than an arbitrary selection dictated by the importunities of people whose only interest in the matter is founded on their business necessities and who are not in any way interested in the future of the city of Los Angeles.

REASONABLE RATE.

Your third statement is:

"Third: That you believe that the water, both for domestic use and for irrigation, should be sold at a very low rate; whereas we believe that the water for domestic use should be sold at as low a rate as possible, but that the city should get as large a return from the water sold for irrigation, or profit-making purposes, as the water market will permit."

I have never advocated the sale of this water at a very low rate, but on the contrary, I have always insisted that the rate should be such that, within a reasonable time, it will pay all the charges due to the construction of the Los Angeles aqueduct, including interest, sinking fund, maintenance and administration charges. The determination of what this amount should be is a matter of simple arithmetic if all further expense is to be borne by the beneficiaries.

THAT HIGH LINE.

Under the present plan presented to the citizens of Los Angeles, there is no means of determining what these rates should be. Take the high line as an instance. This line is to be built without any predetermination of exactly where the water is to go, or what the aggregate distance of the laterals is to be, or who is to pay for them, or what form of enforcement the city can use in collecting for the water delivered thereby, should the people in a year or two tire of the bargains they now so reluctantly make in the alleged contracts they are signing.

The contracts now being circulated for intending consumers undertake to deliver water within one mile of the applicants' land, while fully 80 per cent. of the land designed to be served by it is over that distance. Who is to pay for the further extensions?

What would be the city's remedy at law for individual defaults on these contracts? Would it not be a separate lawsuit in each case?

The $5,250,000 estimate for this trunk line falls far short of putting the full case before the people. They have not been apprised of the fact that, if this line were put in full operation, even assuming that it were never necessary to spend any money for its lateral development, they lose over 4300

MASTER BUILDERS, THEY.

Jonathan Club Members Plan to Construct a Mountain Lodge With the Labor of Their Hands.

Clare Tappaan has issued a call to arms for Sunday morning. He is then to forget that he is chairman of the House Committee of the Jonathan Club and is to remember only that he is chief geologist of the Sierra Club for twenty-four hours. The latter organization is to build a rock lodge on the new Santa Anita trail below the Cascades, not far from Sturtevant's camp.

The members will build it with their own hands, and consequently they dare not leave a stone unturned in its progress. They have adopted the plan of having a new captain every Sunday until the lodge is completed. It will be the business of the captains to prove that they are master builders by assembling numerous energetic persons at the lodge site to assist in the high masonry work of the project.

Carrying stones and mixing mortar will be the work of the men, and providing lunch and good company the labor of the women. Membership in the club is not necessary as a condition for the donation of services. Tappaan desires to prove his ability next Sunday by assembling a host of laborers and, if possible, complete the task in a single day.

COSTLY AND OF NO REAL VALUE.

SO PEARSON DESIGNATES THE CITY POWER SCHEME.

Llewellyn Iron Workers Told to Look to Their Dinner Pails Before Voting to Add Eleven Cents Per Hundred to Their Taxes Through a "Tin-Tail" Enterprise.

Five hundred employees of the Llewellyn Iron Works gave a part of their noon hour yesterday to listen to a talk on the power bonds by Ben F. Pearson, general superintendent of the Southern California Edison Company. "Uncle Ben" was personally known to most of his audience and worked shoulder to shoulder with some of them in his climb up the ladder from a brush cutter in the canyons to his present place.

Pearson discussed the proposed power bond issue of $6,500,000 from the point of view of the wage earner and the small taxpayer who is buying his home on the installment plan.

"This is called a taxpayer's fight and so it is," said he, "but it is also a fight that affects every dinner bucket. Look at your tax bills for the taxes you paid on your little homes last year and then remember that every bond issue increases taxes. If all the bonds are approved at the election April 15 the total increase in taxation will be 30 cents on every $100. The approval of the power bonds alone will add 11 cents on taxes to every $100 of valuation.

"If we needed a distributing system for the electric power to be generated from the Owens River water it might be well to incur this debt. But we already have three complete distributing systems in Los Angeles, more than ample to take care of all the power the city will have to sell. Are we going to increase the burden of our taxes to build a fourth distributing system that is not needed?

"The power companies have made four fair proposals to the city: To lease the city their distributing systems, to market the power as employees of the city, to go into partnership with the city and divide the profits on an equitable basis or to buy the power outright at a minimum price of $750,000 for the first year.

"Considering only the last-named offer, could anything be more fair? The city would take its profit at the very beginning and the Board of Public Utilities would fix the rates at which the power companies could sell the power they bought from the city. With those restrictions the power companies could not get a stranglehold on the city if they wanted to."

Pearson's speech was received with applause by his audience and a number assured him that he had given them something to think about.

HE ADMITS KILLING.

Prisoner Says He Believed Victim Was Highwayman—Police Hold Murder Theory.

Juan Flores, wanted by the police for the murder of Jose Estrada, November 24, last, was arrested yesterday on North Main street by Detectives Williams and Leon. The accused admitted killing Estrada but says he thought the victim was a highwayman.

According to the story told the detectives after his arest, Flores was walking near the Southern Pacific tracks at Alhambra avenue when the two men called to him to stop. Thinking they were highwaymen, he says, he opened fire, killing Estrada.

The part that makes this story unlikely, according to the detectives, is the fact that the dead body of Estrada was thrown across the tracks so as to make it appear that a train had killed the man.

The police say they will show that Flores knew Estrada and that the killing came as the result of a quarrel between the two men.

JUNK TRUST CORNERING ALL OF OUR TIN CANS?

Magnate of the Rags-Bottles-Sacks Business, Lately Arrested for Grand Larceny, Sues Several Other Captains of the Alley Industry for Fifty Thousand Dollars, Alleging Violation of the Sherman Act.

Is there a junk trust in Los Angeles?

Philip Senegram, of the junk concern of that name, says there is and he is suing it for $50,000 for alleged violation of the Sherman act. Senegram was lately arrested on a grand larceny charge and he alleges that this is part of a general conspiracy.

IS THERE a junk trust in Los Angeles? Violations of the Sherman and Cartwright anti-trust laws, involving interstate commerce and restraint of trade, are embodied in a complaint filed in the United States District Court yesterday.

The complainant is Philip Senegram and the defendants are the Philip Senegram Company, the Great Western Smelting and Refining Company, the Charles Harley Company, R. Rosenberg & Sons, Joseph Rosenberg, Aaron Alper, Abraham Giant, David Blum, Joseph Mathis and S. Bauman. The complainant asks for $50,000 damages and that the defendants be restrained from interfering in any way with his management of the Philip Senegram Company.

The big chief in the list of defendants is the Great Western Smelting and Refining Company, a Maine corporation that has for some years been engaged in buying up metals for reduction, manufacturing metal goods and buying up rubber, bottles, rags, sacks and other junk. It is set out that the corporation has branch houses in Chicago, San Francisco, Portland, Los Angeles, Seattle, Vancouver and St. Louis, and alleged that it was organized for the purpose of controlling the junk market.

The complainant states that in September, 1909, at the instance of the defendants, Alpers and Giant, acting through the Charles Harley Company, he was induced to organize the Philip Senegram Company. He alleges that at that time he had been for seven years in the junk business in Los Angeles, operating under the firm name of Goldstein & Senegram, at No. 507 Alisо street, and that his net annual income at that time was at least $5000 a year.

It is asserted that as a part of the alleged conspiracy, the Great Western Smelting and Refining Company purchased the interest of Israel Goldstein in the business, paying him $5600 in cash, while the complainant was given the same amount in the capital stock of the Philip Senegram Company.

It is further claimed that it was agreed that the defendants should assist in building up the trade, and if necessary would advance $1,000,000 to carry on the business. The plaintiff was made president and general manager of the concern. Afterward with the growth of business he discovered that he could not advance his share of the money necessary to do business, and sold all of his interests to the Great Western company and the Harley company, with the exception of 30 per cent. of the capital stock that had been given for his share in the business.

Violations of the anti-trust laws are charged in the statement that it was not agreed that the Senegram company should sell all of their goods to the Great Western company, the Harley company, Rosenberg & Sons, or the G. Mathis Iron and Metal Company, but that Senegram should be allowed to make purchases and sales where he wished in the open market and remain an independent concern. This understanding was violated, he asserts.

It is also charged that the Great Western concern then commenced a system of restraint upon the complainant; that it compelled him to sell goods to the firms mentioned and at prices below what was prevailing in the market. Senegram complains that he was compelled to pay a portion of his profits to them; that he was prevented from making bids on goods, and that, when he grew tired of the arrangement and offered to sell out his interest and resign, they refused to buy him out; that no dividends have been declared by the Philip Senegram Company; that he has been compelled by the "trust" to hire high-priced lawyers not worth the money he paid them, and finally that, on April 2, 1913 he was arrested at Venice on the charge of grand larceny, which the complainant declares is unfounded. It is also charged that the 30 per cent. of the stock of the Philip Senegram Company, which he still holds, is worth at least $50,000, and that, but for the acts complained of, it would be worth not less than $100,000.

After Years.

BOXER'S BULLET LAYS A HERO LOW AT LAST.

THE son of a gallant officer and himself distinguished for service both in the Philippines and in the Boxer uprising, Capt. Merle M. Weeks, U.S.A. (retired,) died suddenly at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home on West Thirty-first street. His death was the direct result of a wound through the body received at Tien-tsin while serving in the Ninth Infantry, when Gen. Chaffee commanded the allied troops.

Weeks was born at Washington, D. C., being a son of Brig.-Gen. Weeks, formerly Quartermaster-General of the army. After being graduated from the Boston School of Technology, where he was a member of the Delta Psi Fraternity, he entered the army in 1898, and was made a second lieutenant in the Eleventh Infantry, with which he saw service in the Philippines. He was then assigned to the Ninth Infantry and went to China. He distinguished himself for gallantry on entering Peking, being one of the first of the foreigners to arrive in the Forbidden City. He was thereupon promoted to the first lieutenancy and after the engagement at Tien-tsin he received the commission of captain.

Weeks was a man of superb physique and wonderful vitality. He stood over 6 feet and weighed 220 pounds. Seeming to recover from the terrible shock of the wound, and returning to America in 1903, he was transferred to various posts until his disability compelled his retirement three years ago at Ft. Sam Houston.

He came to Los Angeles, accompanied by his wife and stepson, to make his home here and soon became the center of a large group of army people who admired him for his record as a soldier and his qualities as a gentleman. The richness of his Chinese trophies made his home one of the unique salons of the city.

Weeks was a cousin of Harry Ainsworth of Los Angeles, and brother of Capt. Weeks at the Presidio. His remains will be taken tomorrow to Washington, D. C., to rest beside the body of his father in Arlington Cemetery.

NEW CATHEDRAL FOR ST. PAUL'S.

Structure Will Be Ready for Nineteen-Fifteen.

At a conference yesterday of the Bishop of the Diocese, Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Johnson; the dean of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, Rev. William MacCormack, D.D., and the vestry of the church, it was decided to at once undertake the erection of a beautiful new cathedral on the present site, Olive street near Fifth.

This means a magnificent structure on the latest and most approved ecclesiastical lines, to front upon Central Park, where so many imposing buildings are grouped.

The cathedral will cost not less than $150,000. Plans have not yet been adopted, but there will be no delay.

St. Paul owns 140 feet frontage on Olive street with a depth of 200 feet. The church corporation was offered $300,000 for the realty last October. The congregation has persisted in staying down town and yesterday made a finality of its determination to always be a down-town church, in spite of the great value of its property and the demand for it for business purposes. St. Paul's will stick to the old site.

It was voted by the vestry to lease sixty feet of the frontage for ninety-nine years for an apartment-house or something of that nature, leaving ample space for a broad frontage for the cathedral.

The church already owns a fine parish house, built of brick, on the rear of the property.

It is planned to have the new cathedral ready for occupancy by the year 1915, which will be a great year for Los Angeles and California.

Bishop Johnson and Dean MacCormack will have charge of the enterprise, as the cathedral will be both diocesan and a parish institution.

BEAR; WOMEN; A TREE; POLICE!

BABY BRUIN BREAKS BONDS, STARTS SCHAMBLE.

Police Summoned to Capture Runaway—Nip Feels Spring and Call of the Wild and Starts on Adventurous Exploration Among Bungalows and Flowers.

Nip, a 12-months-old Cinnamon bear, caught the scent of spring in the air yesterday and started for the budding flowers and the purling brooks. He broke home ties—a triple-linked chain at the horse-dog-poultry hacienda of Andrew Dumller, Sixty-eighth and Main streets, and trotted away.

Before he was off the Dumller premises all the dogs on the place gathered for a farewell chorus and the neighbors, hearing the parting song, with Nip bussing out a snarling basso, rushed out to learn what was happening. They met Nip face to face. One of them, R. Duffy, more nimble of foot than his neighbors, reached the telephone first. He summoned the entire police department.

Lieut. Spellman at the University station dispatched Motorcycle Policeman Ellsworth to outfoot the young cinnamon. While Ellsworth was on his way, all the neighbors were also on theirs, the direction they took being just as opposite from Nip's course as the compass permits.

Behind Nip came a caretaker from the Dumller institution. He was burdened with a bell-mouthed old musket that came in from the Spanish Main a couple of scens ago, and was fired with a time-lock. He was setting his gun for a discharge when Nip turned on him. The caretaker threw the military relic at Nip and departed. He split one boot in doing so, according to witnesses from neighboring windows.

Enter Ellsworth, with his spots throbbing alarm. Nip looked at the fleeing caretaker, then at the approaching motorcycle. He compromised by shinning up a palm tree. After Ellsworth came Policeman Ocker and Post, and after them Patrolmen Andersen and MacGowan.

Nip snuggled closer to the palm tree and waited developments. The police intrigued for twenty minutes. Then Policeman Ocker volunteered to hazard a climb into the tree. He went up. He seized Nip's tail. The young cinnamon wasn't inviting familiarities. Nip's right front paw gilded out, and Ocker was fourteen feet below when he again began observing things.

While Ocker was falling, Nip tried to hit him again. It would have been a foul anyway; but, Nip slipped and fell, reaching the ground shortly after Ocker.

Ocker, with a bruised head, sat up and stared Nip in the face. Nip too was somewhat stunned. Ocker thought they had flirted long enough and departed first. The other policemen came on with ropes, straps and nets—enough paraphernalia for the capture of a menagerie—and returned Nip to his lair.

But Nip had been emperor of Sixty-eighth and Main streets for more than thirty minutes.

We do not oppose the passage of a proposed "blue sky" law.

We are already governed by State laws. A Building and Loan Commissioner is appointed by the State to enforce these laws and to give protection to our investors. You can write to this Commissioner in the Claus Spreckels Building, San Francisco, any time and obtain a true report of our financial standing. You can get the same thing from us.

No other form of investment, offering the liberal rate of 6 per cent interest, can give you this State protection. No Blue Sky Law could make our investments any safer than they are now.

You can invest $100, or any multiple of $100, with us and earn 6 per cent interest, payable twice a year. Or you can invest small amounts monthly and earn 6 per cent compounded twice a year.

These investments are protected by State Laws and secured by first mortgages on improved residence property.

horse power of continuous energy; that it regulates about one-half of the total flow of the aqueduct to a region that has never sought, but always resisted, any talk of annexation to the city of Los Angeles, and from which not a single drop of return water can ever be recovered to the future use of this municipality. It also involves the taking of this water in its fresh and potably useful state on this high line, leaving the balance, a very large portion of which will have to be impounded for months, and hence rendered more or less objectionable for the city's future domestic requirements. In other words, the city gets what is left.

Moreover, since all rates have to be uniform, why should the rate to be collected to justify the building of this expensive line be made the test rate for all other portions of the system? Suppose it were found that other lands over which of necessity the city will have to distribute this water temporarily, for irrigation purposes, should not find it commercially profitable to use the water at this rate, and the city were compelled, in order to sell its water, to make the rate more attractive by a very material reduction, what justification would there be in the way of adequate return from this properly dubbed "high-line" investment? Is it not more in conformity with business practice that the rate should be made on the basis of what all can afford to pay rather than that it should be fixed by the conditions of distress existing within a restricted district.

Let us here review the actual cost of the high line in comparison with the cost of distributing the water southerly and westerly from the aqueduct, as proposed in the plans heretofore submitted. The estimated cost of the trunk line alone, assuming that the city will not have to spend one dollar to reach the land it is intended to cover (much of which is eight to ten miles from the trunk line,) is $5,250,000. The loss in power the city sustains by reason of the high elevation of the diversion is 4200 horse power, worth at least $500 per horse power, or $2,100,000. The loss of return water is very hard to estimate, but would scarcely be less than 3000, miner's inches, which, at a valuation of $1500 per miner's inch, would be $4,500,000. The cost of the high line in excess of the average cost of a line that would deliver a like amount of water to the south and west would be not less than $3,500,000. Adding the latter of these three figures together gives a total of $9,100,000, the interest charge on which, at 4½ per cent., is $409,500. This, divided by the inch hours of 6000 miner's inches for one year, shows that the water would have to be charged for at a rate in excess of half a cent an inch per hour on this line more than it would be necessary to charge in the other regions, to make the rate equitable. Moreover, this takes no note of the event of withdrawing the water from the district (which, by the way, I do not believe to be possible, either in law or equity,) and leaving the city with a dead pipe line representing an investment of $5,250,000 on its hands.

WHERE CITY'S TO BE.

I desire to go emphatically on record here as stating that the city of Los Angeles with her eyes open fully should amply predeterminate where the future city is to be, then put the water there and keep it there, even though for a few years she may not be able to market all of it.

THE HIGH LINE DOES NOT SOLVE THIS PROBLEM OF AN IMMEDIATE MARKET, AS HAS BEEN REPRESENTED. IF THE BONDS ARE VOTED AS AT PRESENT SUBMITTED IT WILL BE SIX MONTHS AT LEAST BEFORE THE WORK OF CONSTRUCTING THIS LINE CAN BE BEGUN. IT WILD TAKE TWO AND ONE-HALF YEARS TO CONSTRUCT THE LINE THAT NOW

Candidate for Mayor!

JOB BEGS FOR FLAG VILIFIERS.

Harriman Heads Petition to Free the Magons.

Refused to Defend Them; "No Money in It."

Pleals for Pardon of Convict-Anarchists.

The local reds, with Job Harriman, Socialist candidate for Mayor, at their head, are heating at the closed door of the Federal prison at McNeil Island, demanding that Ricardo Flores Magon, Enrique Flores Magon, Antonio I. Figueroa and Liberado Rivera, the quartette of anarchists, be pardoned. It is their second attempt to secure executive clemency at the hands of the President since the incarceration of the four in June, 1912, when they were sentenced by Judge Bledsoe to one year and eleven months imprisonment.

Harriman and his legal partner, Lena S. Ryckman, were the attorneys originally retained to defend the men, and appeared for them in court. Suddenly and without any reason they dropped the case like a hot brick. Ryckman is authority for the statement that the firm did so because there was no money in the job for them. Since that time Job seems to have experienced a second change of heart and is now begging money for the men he refused to defend.

Just six months ago application was made for the pardon of the men by President Taft. On representations made to Atty.-Gen. Wickersham by Assistant United States District Attorney Robinson, in charge of the prosecution of the men, the petition was denied. With the inauguration of President Wilson the rumor for the release of the convicted anarchists is again in circulation. Robinson has again been called on to make a statement of the case from the standpoint of the government, by James A. Finch, pardon clerk in the office of Atty.-Gen. McReynolds.

Robinson prepared this statement Monday and forwarded it to Washington. The second statement differs from the first in setting out the fact that the Magons and their co-conspirators were active against the Mexican and the American governments, while they were at liberty on bond. It now appears that in June, 1912, soon after their arrest in this city, Ricardo Flores Magon sent a letter to Gen. Tirso de la Toba, the Indian chieftain, who for the past two years has been operating along the international boundary line, giving instructions as to the future conduct of his campaign. This was while the four were under indictment for violating the neutrality laws.

In this letter, a photographic copy of which is in the hands of Robinson, Magon tells De la Toba that he should not attack Tia Juana, but that with a small force he should march to the southern peninsula, where he would be able to find many rich men and plenty of food. He is told that he should touch Santa Rosalia and Magon writes De la Toba to tell the "brother Indians" to be on the lookout and that they will be ready to help. At the same time De la Toba is warned that he must keep from "letting the laborers to possess themselves of the lands and work for their own account without recognizing the rights of the rich," Magon says.

A petition addressed to President Wilson is numerously signed by reds from all parts of this city and vicinity, headed by Job Harriman. Accompanying the petition is an affidavit made by "Capt." Paul Smith, in which numerous unsubstantiated charges are made against the manner in which the case was conducted by the government.

Smith says in his affidavit that he knew the Magons until they were sent out to him at the County Jail, where he held a commission as one of the Second Division of the Rangers, signed by Ricardo Flores Magon. That document is in possession of the Federal authorities.

John Grant Lyman, who has served an eighteen months' sentence at McNeil's Island, learns the news that Figueroa, one of the convicted men, is in failing health and has been removed to the hospital at Washington.

...A STREET WORK.

Improvement Bonds Voted Monday Provide Means for an Immediate Beginning.

...ORNIA, April 10.—The improvement work to be prosecuted under the expenditure of $50,000 bonds voted Monday will be started as soon as the circulation of petitions can be accomplished. The signatures of the property owners on the streets to be improved being necessary, signifying their willingness to pay half of the expense.

The main thoroughfares in the city running north, south, east and west, and not the streets which are included in the proposed State highway through Pomona, will be improved first. North Garey avenue will be graded and surfaced from the point where the present paving stops, to the city limits; and East Holt avenue, from where the paving ends to the city limits. Work will be done on other portions of the highway within the city limits as soon as approved.

It will mean between three and four years of paving for the thoroughfares and will require nearly half of the $50,000; the rest of the money will be used advantageously on other roads here.

Superintendent Baker has for months been working on the improvement of city streets with the available and has graded, and sanded Hamilton avenue from the Phillips-avenue schoolhouse, extending from the South-Garey tracks to Phillips boulevard; Phillips avenue from the South-Garey tracks to Crowe avenue; Crowe avenue from the railroad to the city limits; West Holt avenue from White avenue to the west side of Towne avenue from the Holt tracks south to the cemetery; Barnsdallo avenue from Holt to Towne avenue; and Holt avenue west from Garey avenue.

It is planned to improve Phillips avenue from Garey avenue to the city limits near Pomona and Fifth avenue will be repaired from Reservoir street to Garey. Much work is being done by the division of Park Superintendent Pope in laying out new parks in the locality of Ganesha Park and in the southwest...

HAS A PROJECTED LENGTH OF FORTY-EIGHT MILES, AND THE PEOPLE A YEAR AND A HALF OR TWO YEARS HENCE, WHEN THE SECOND HALF OF THE BOND ISSUE IS REQUIRED, MAY BE NEITHER IN THE MOOD NOR CONDITION TO VOTE THE BALANCE OF THE MONEY NECESSARY FOR ITS COMPLETION.

IT IS DIFFICULT FOR ME TO LEAVE THIS SUBJECT OF THE HIGH LINE WITHOUT EXPRESSING MY SURPRISE AT ITS RAPACIOUS AUDACITY IN THE FACE OF THE EMPHATIC PROMISES AND DECLARATIONS THAT HAD TO BE MADE TO THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IN ORDER TO GET WHAT RIGHTS THE CITY ACQUIRED FROM IT IN THE OWENS VALLEY AND ACROSS THE MANY MILES OF RIGHT OF WAY INTERVENING. ALMOST UTTERLY IGNORING THE TREND OF GROWTH OF THE CITY AND THE NEEDS OF THE REGION OVER WHICH SHE IS RAPIDLY EXPANDING, 45 PER CENT. OF THE TOTAL FLOW OF THE AQUEDUCT IS TO BE DIVERTED BY A CIRCUITOUS, DIFFICULT AND EXPENSIVE ROUTE TO A SECTION REMOTE AND ALREADY IN POSSESSION OF A PARTIAL WATER SUPPLY, AND WHOSE TOPOGRAPHY IS SUCH THAT THE CITY CAN NEVER HOPE TO EVEN RECOVER THE RETURN WATER. WHEN TO THIS IS ADDED THE CONDITION THAT THE CITY IS TO PAY THE WHOLE EXPENSE (THAT MAY ULTIMATELY AMOUNT TO ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL COST OF THE AQUEDUCT) FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF DESPOILING HERSELF, IS IT ANY WONDER THAT OPPOSITION HAS BEEN AROUSED? DO THE MEAGER RESULTS OF FOUR OR FIVE MONTHS' ASSIDUOUS SOLICITATION FOR WATER CONTRACTS IN THE SAN GABRIEL VALLEY IN A BUSINESS WAY WARRANT OR ENCOURAGE SUCH A HUGE EXPENDITURE?

The districts on which the water should be used as outlined in my plan are at no point a greater distance than ten miles from the end of the aqueduct or the city boundaries. The people should be permitted to have the final word as to what, if any, modification should be made in the boundaries of this area.

The law provides very wisely that no water shall be alienated from the city without a two-thirds vote of the people. My voice with that of others was emphatically raised on this point at the inception of the enterprise. I also was committed irrevocably and in all honor to the proposition that this water was not to be commercialized in the manner indicated by your own words: "The city should get as large a return from the water sold for irrigation, or profit-making purposes, as the water market will permit."

Under the general heading, "Can we compel land owners or water users to pay the expense of building the system," you ask the following questions:

"(1.) Under our charter can the city officials convey to any water user or land owner a perpetual right to the water?"

We are doing it now within the city, and means can be readily made available, if earnestly undertaken, to accomplish this anywhere the city of the future is to be. City officials cannot convey a perpetual right to the use of the water to people outside the city limits, but if they are inside the matter will adjust itself, as every acre will have equal rights to a water supply. No land owner or water user asks for more than the implied right he gets when he pays for his extension, obtains his service and becomes a paying consumer within the present city limits.

"(2.) Is it not a fact that such a right can be granted only by a two-thirds vote of the people?"

Such rights are granted at the average rate of ten per day in this city now without a vote of the people. The right can be granted without any vote of the people if one-half of the people vote to annex.

"(2a.) Do you believe that two-thirds of the voters of this city would vote to grant a perpetual right to the water?"

Not on territory without her boundary, nor do I believe they will jeopardize their ownership in it by voluntarily building works to convey it to lands from which they may never be able to recover it. However, it would be proper, at least, to give them the privilege of registering their vote on the matter.

"(3.) Do you believe that any considerable number of men would be willing to form an irrigation district and put up the money, or bond themselves, to build an expensive distributing system, without a perpetual right to the water?"

I do not, and it would not be necessary.

"(4.) Without a perpetual right to the water, if they did bond themselves for such a purpose, do you believe the bonds would be salable?"

This does not require an answer in

A profit-sharing plan for large and small investors that comes but once in a lifetime

For the first and undoubtedly the last time, actually developed deep water frontage at our harbor is offered to the small and large investor.

This property is opposite the Craig shipbuilding yards and across the channel from the docks of the North Pacific Steamship Company.

This water frontage is to the harbor district what South Broadway property is to Los Angeles.

Not another square foot of deep water frontage can be purchased on the entire harbor front—this opportunity is limited. It will never be repeated.

It will easily be closed out in a few weeks. The Title Insurance and Trust Co. will hold the title to the property as trustee, and will be authorized to sell and convey it to some big corporation or steamship company when a specified price per square foot can be obtained.

THE GENTLEWOMAN'S MOTOR CARRIAGE

The New Packard "38" answers the demand for easy, safe and restful travel. This six-cylinder carriage combines the acknowledged advantages of left drive with electric starting, electric lighting and centralized control

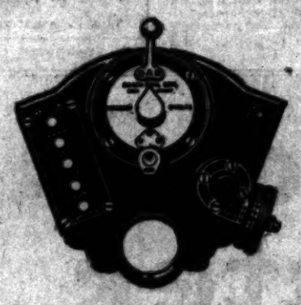
Centralized control is an improvement enjoyed exclusively by owners of Packard vehicles. The control board is on the steering column and the controls are operated without leaning forward or moving in any way from the driving position. This perfect mastery of the car gives a new sense of security and means entire freedom from fatigue and the nerve tension experienced when operating an ordinary car.



The Packard Control Board

The row of buttons on the left side of the control board gives instant command of the electric lights. The button at the right actuates the magnetic inter-lock of the electric starter. The Bosch coil switch controls the ignition and the hand wheel at the lower right adjusts the carburetor to meet all requirements.

Every detail of operation is at the driver's finger tips. There is no stooping or fumbling for switches on the dash.

A ride in the Packard "38" will convince you that left drive, with electric self starter and centralized control, is the up-to-date arrangement for motor carriages.

THE PACKARD GOVERNOR

The Packard governor automatically regulates the throttle opening in accordance with power requirements. In going up hill, for instance, the governor operates to increase the throttle opening and on a down grade it tends to close the throttle. The action of the governor prevents stalling the motor in traffic and avoids racing the motor when about to disengage. It provides agreeable uniformity of road speeds and adds polish to the performance of any driver. It preserves the life of the motor and is a factor in the low cost of upkeep which is characteristic of the Packard.

You enter the front compartment from the curb and start the motor without stepping into the road. You have the added advantage of the full view ahead and greater assurance in driving through traffic.

Partly because of advanced engineering and partly because of the maximum service quality, a Packard Six bought this spring will have a higher relative cash value next fall, next spring or five years hence than any other car purchased at the same time.

Will you accept a demonstration? Owing to the unparalleled demand for Packard Sixes this spring, it is necessary to act promptly in order to secure a desirable date of delivery.

Unique Affair.

An enjoyable affair of recent date was the "tacky party" given for members of the "Brownie Club" by Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Noble at their home, No. 1741 Crenshaw boulevard. Many novel games were played and the successful prize-winners were Mrs. E. R. Browne, Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. L. R. Browne, W. A. Browne, Mrs. L. A. Cottle and A. J. Epling. The guests who came in old clothes, were presented with April fool caps when they were at supper. There were covers for Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Cottle, Mr. and Mrs. George Bass, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Browne, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Epling, Mr and Mrs. William Tuthart, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Browne, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sperry, Mrs. W. W. Weller, Mrs. M. L. Wilson, Mr. H. G. Wagner, Mrs. William Bates Enó, Mrs. Jaques of San Francisco, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Craig and Carl Spelling.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. E. W. Gale, Jr., No. 305 North Grand avenue, entertained recently at which time announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Ruth Binder to Harlan Eckler, the wedding to occur in June. Embellishing the table was a lace cloth over pink satin, centered by a glass basket filled with pink rose buds and six pink shaded candlesticks. Cards with sketches of the bride marked covers and favors were baskets on which were the name of the bride and groom written in gold. Covers were laid for Miss Ruth Binder, Miss Carol Boone, Miss Ione Gale, Miss Frances Griffith, Mrs. George Bass, Mrs. Charles Ramsey, Mrs. Adam Hoppe, Mrs. Harry Garvey, Mrs. Richard Blackburn, Mrs. George Wilde, Mrs. Mary Griffith, Mrs. Ford Boone, Mrs. Lotspeich and Miss Binder.

Bridge-Supper.

Mrs. Marcy Woods (formerly Miss Margaret Wood) and Miss Isabel Wood, the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wood of Casa del Palmas, Alhambra, entertained their friends to a bridge-supper party on Tuesday evening. The guests were all either young married people or unmarried. The large picturesque patio in the center of the house was boarded in for the occasion with delightful effect and the scientific curtain formed an imposing centerpiece.

Mrs. Marcy Woods, who is spending here on a long visit, looked very graceful and girlish in a beautiful gown of white chiffon and lace over white satin, while Miss Imogen wore a striking gown in white and green which became her well. Mrs. Stanley Wood, their mother, in a gown of black, was of the company. Mr. and Mr. Wood will entertain again on their own account shortly.

Luncheon at Long Beach.

Miss Mildred Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hogan of San Gabriel, will give a luncheon party at the Hotel Virginia this afternoon to respond to the congratulations of her friends. It will be remembered that her engagement to Mr. Hannon of the San Gabriel Country Club was announced a short time ago. The date for the wedding is not yet settled, but will be in about two months. The Hogans are staying at the Virginia for a few weeks.

Bride Entertains.

Mrs. Thomas Bundy (nee Miss Ida Button) is fast making a place for herself among local hostesses. She is an adept in the art and her guests are wont to go with a swing.

Mrs. Bundy entertained with a bridge luncheon on Wednesday afternoon at her Thirtieth-street home with eminent success. Her bridges having small and congenial tables at frequent intervals rather than the "crushes" at long intervals will appeal to many as the more sensible plan.

Eastern Trip.

Mrs. John W. Thayer, No. 1[illegible] North Berendo street, will leave this morning for Chicago and other eastern points. While in Chicago she will attend the Biennial of the Federated Musical Clubs, which convenes in that city from April 21 to 26 inclusive, as a delegate from the Cecelia Club of this city. From Chicago she will go to Washington and New York City, and will be gone from Los Angeles about six weeks.

Musical Reception.

Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. [illegible] Fellows, Mrs. H. W. Chatman, Mrs. L. K. Garrett, Mrs. Roy S. Cleave, Mrs. W. H. Parkham, Mrs. John C. Percival, Miss [illegible] Stevens, Miss Marion Mason, Miss Carrie Trowbridge, Miss Josie Chapman and Miss Olive Berryman will be in the receiving line at the musical reception given tomorrow afternoon at the Ebell Clubhouse by the Delta Chapter of the Alpha Omega, for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, with the proceeds of which they hope to secure a site for the new hospital being built on Fremont avenue.

Patronesses for the affair are Mrs. Ellen Beach Yaw Goldsmith, Mrs. George Bovard, Mrs. Thomas Stowell, Mrs. Walter B. Stephens, Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, Mrs. H. Trowbridge, Mrs. Isaac Lee, Mrs. Albert Crutcher, Mrs. R. S. Ashton, Mrs. Morgan Jones, Mrs. J. S. Berryman, Mrs. J. S. Roberts, Mrs. Mabel Ross, Mrs. Victor Hall, Mrs. Odell and Miss Elizabeth Yeager.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. Charles S. Hall and Mrs. F. Whittier entertained some of their friends yesterday with a bridge party at the home of the former, 1114 Grand View. Pink and white was the color scheme chosen and was perfected by the use of sweet peas and carnations. Following the game an excellent musical program was presented by Mrs. William Ross and Mrs. Joseph Rosch. The prizes were awarded in reading to Mrs. George H. Kress, Mrs. Hickson and Mrs. William Ross of the Ebell Club.

CLEW TO RUNAWAY GIRLS.

The police were notified yesterday that Anna Stack and Martha Stack, two runaway girls from this city, were seen to leave Santa Barbara in an automobile with an unknown man yesterday. A letter written by the Stack girl to her mother, threatening vengeance if the mother and the authorities on her track, was the cause of the 14-year-old girl being taken into custody by the Santa Barbara authorities.

LEAVES FOR PARIS.

One of Constable Hynes's men started for San Francisco yesterday to get S. E. Stack, charged with having passed fictitious checks on the Mignonette street jewelry store. According to the information of Hynes, Stack bought his goods and had them charged, giving the check to a grocery.

Shows Its Fallacy.

"(3.) Is it practical, first, to secure an election at which the people of this city will vote by a two-thirds vote to sell to any municipality for irrigation purposes a permanent right to Owens River water; second, to get the people of the San Fernando Valley or any other section, to organize under the State law into irrigation districts for the purpose of voting bonds for a distributing system, without a perpetual right to the water; and then to secure an election at which the people of such districts would vote by a two-thirds vote for the purpose of issuing such system without a perpetual right to the water? I believe that these three things can be done, is there any reason to hope that they can be accomplished in any reasonable time?

"I believe that all these things can be done, if the necessity of doing them is dictated by the method above stated, years in advance of the exigency of the high line. It is because of these things may or may not occur that we should bend every effort to keep the only thing that can save us without plunging the city into a temporary expedient that is more than risky as far as the revenue of the city's title to the water is concerned.

"As to the general heading, and answer by twelve sub-questions I shall answer in their order.

"(4.) Shall the distributing system be built to reach only the amount of water which the surplus water will adequately serve when every district we are capable of using it is built?"

As I have stated before, the area covered in my report is much larger than that required for the distribution of the water at the rate of one inch and one-half acres, and I have given considerable latitude for the rate of use until the ground is fully available.

WHAT HE INCLUDES.

"(5.) Does the restricted district plan, as contemplated by me, include the city of Los Angeles, its territory to the west northwest of the city, the San Fernando Valley, Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra?"

My report on this subject to the Board of Public Service Commissioners under date of March 16, 1912, and 4, describes this very subject, to make this document complete in itself as may be, I quote herewith in full, as follows: "In my discussions of the whole subject of the distribution of the water of the Los Angeles aqueduct a word of caution was always to be emphasized against a proper spreading of this water over too broad an area. A thorough study of all the hydrographic conditions of the country to be served leads me to the firm conclusion that effective management and intelligence, under one head, of the distribution of this water, all the lands headed as follows can be supplied by having recourse to this water, which will, beyond doubt, appear within a few years that Owens River water shall be put to universal use, provided this water is used in water districts within basins the city could reach for the purpose of recovery, and in the conditions, also, that facilities are afforded for the storing of the winter flow of the Owens River.

"The district would be bounded on the north by the Sierra Madre range of mountains; on the east by the eastern boundary of Pasadena, proceeding from the base of the mountains northerly to the southerly boundary of the San Antonio ranch; thence westerly to follow the southerly boundary of said San Antonio ranch and the line of Manhattan avenue, southerly and westerly, including the south city limits to Inglewood with the Shoestring branch westerly to the Pacific Ocean. This area contains about 100,000 acres, not including the area of 100 which already will be provided with an ample water supply by the 1000 miner's inches of aqueduct water recommended in the Engineer's report, to which is added to that at Pasadena, and also when it is found that a considerable portion of the area embraced has now a partial supply, such, for example, as the areas covered by the cities of Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Santa Monica, Venice and other smaller communities. The area of 100,000 acres, about one-third of which are arable. As it was shown in the report of the Board of Engineers, on the distribution of water that 15,000 inches of water would serve 150,000 acres, 35,000 inches would have to be supplied by the aqueduct, which at the same rate of one inch to seven and one-half acres would require about 4700 inches. Credit were given for the reasons as above noted; I am quite confident that about 1000 will be recoverable within a few years after the aqueduct is in full general and complete use, and the area selected for this study shown.

"The area included within the bounds would make a compact one that, by reason of its natural and geographical relations to the city and the aqueduct, could be most cheaply and efficiently served. My report must be construed in connection other than that relating to physical and engineering. Moreover, it must be borne in mind that the city is happily in a position of being under no obligation, as far as the aqueduct is concerned, to any of her communities.

"It will be seen from the above that Pasadena is not included in the district, but a reference to the map shows it to be contiguous and adjoining the city's preserve, and it will no doubt, of things, desire to be in the near future. Certainly it will be more economical than San Dimas, for instance, which is twenty-five miles from the most expensive district to serve with water.

"WHAT IS NECESSARY.

"In the aqueduct water, with the present local supply adequately to supply district, when the district is capable of what is using it?"

"This, I believe, is fully answered in the question I have made in my report. I will add that, I do not no city is ever built up, some available water is necessary for the residents. A lot owner makes improvements, has got to be there for, even though it has to be a cistern. This rule applies in water-works practice, too well provided for in the district, which has water, in excess of what is actually cover. We use water to meet

"(6.) The distribution is restricted, as suggested by you, how long do you think it will be before half the water of the aqueduct is in use, and producing a revenue?"

I do not know, nor can anyone foretell this. All anticipations of the growth of this city have been far exceeded in the last ten years, and, in fact, in the last thirty years, and the presence of this water without its use, if the territory is all within the city limits, can be partially charged for in the general tax levy, as is commonly done in other cities. If this were done there would be very little idle land held for speculative purposes, and the use of the water would be very much accelerated.

"(4.) If the distribution is so restricted how much per inch per hour do you think the city will be able to get for the water for irrigating purposes?

"(4a.) What price should the city receive per inch per hour to pay operating expenses, upkeep, sinking fund and interest on the aqueduct bonds?"

IN FIGURES.

The heaviest year in the funding history of the aqueduct bonds will be 1914. The account in that year will stand thus:

|---|---|
| Principal to be paid | $ 713,900.00 |
| Interest payments on $24,500,000 | 1,082,892.00 |
| Maintenance | 50,000.00 |
| Depreciation of perishable structures consisting wholly of steel siphons on the aqueduct, 2½ per cent. on $1,250,000 | 32,000.00 |

ESTIMATED REVENUES.

|---|---|
| Assuming 10,000 miner's inches of water sold for irrigation, or 87,600,000 inch hours at 1½ cents an inch per hour | $1,314,000.00 |
| Assuming 1000 miner's inches of water sold for domestic use at 7 cents per 100 cubic feet (the city's present rate) | 441,504.00 |
| Total liabilities for 1914 | $1,878,792.00 |
| Total estimated revenues for same period | $1,755,504.00 |

This would put the project on an almost self-sustaining basis as early in its history as the first year of its existence, and during the heaviest year of its indebtedness, with only one-half of the water sold for irrigation, and I am quite confident that when the private works at present operating within the city limits are supplied from the city's sources, and with the added growth of the city up to the summer of 1914, the additional use of 1000 miner's inches of water for domestic use is probably very much underestimated.

CAN'T BE ESTIMATED.

"(5.) What do you estimate to be the cost of a distribution system as planned by the Public Service Commission over and above that of a system having capacity sufficient to care for all the aqueduct water in the restricted district which you suggest?"

The trouble with the plan put forth by the Public Service Commission is that no one may estimate what it will cost, as it contemplates nothing but trunk lines, leaving the rest to be determined later, and if the people taking the water are unwilling to pay for the trunk lines they will be unwilling to subscribe for the laterals, and for the same reason, namely, the plea of no title. It is the combination of high prospective price and uncertain tenure of use that is the principal factor in retarding negotiations for the use of the water.

To make a comparison, however, on the basis of trunk-line mains, on which an estimate alone can be made, all the districts to the south and west of the aqueduct, as contemplated in the report and calling out, of course, the Redondo district, can be supplied with one-half supply for $3,612,912, and with full supply for something less than 50 per cent. additional.

"(6.) If your idea is that the water should go only to such districts as may become a part of the city, how are you going to determine just what those districts are?"

By selection by the people.

"(7.) Is there any probability of the city of Los Angeles ever growing into the west end of the San Fernando Valley?"

The people should have a guess at that. If you are desirous of my opinion, that part of the valley is rapidly growing in that direction.

"(8.) If all the districts recommended by you eventually become annexed to the city, how are you going to prevent urban conditions extending into other territory and prevent the city from annexing such other territory to the city?"

I would not attempt to prevent it. The people outside must take their chances. There always has been and always will be a conflict between folly and reason, and I feel no responsibility for a future generation that would be foolish enough to annex territory in excess of the city's future water supply.

"(9.) In other words, if all the surplus water is put into use, how are you going to prevent the very condition which you claim your restricted plan will prevent, i. e., the necessity at some time in the future of taking water away from irrigators to apply to domestic use?"

As demonstrated in the growth of this city, it would never be necessary to take the water away from anybody by reason of conversion of the water from one use to another use. This whole transformation took place in the past in this city absolutely under my own personal guidance, without a lawsuit or threat of a lawsuit, or the imposition of hardship or even inconvenience to a single citizen, the process being as natural as the most simple function of nature.

ELIMINATES QUESTIONS.

"(10.) Is it not true that the principal purpose of a restricted district is to give a perpetual right to the water?"

It is. It was not designed specifically for that purpose, but it certainly will eliminate all questions of water right. And to end all possible future contention and bitterness and aid to enable the city to impose the burden of payment on those who seek the advantages of stockholders in her corporate existence, it is the only solution of the problem.

"(11.) The effect of restricting the district being to give a perpetual right to the water, would it not be much better to submit to the people the direct question as to whether they will consent to the granting of a perpetual right to the water, and then, if they do so consent, would it not be a very simple thing to raise the money for the distributing system by selling such rights to various irrigators? Could not a perpetual right to the surplus waters be sold for much more than the total cost of the aqueduct? And if so, why should the perpetual right be given to land owners in a selected district and not sold to the general public?"

That is my argument. Let the people decide. As to the latter part of the question, the general public might be as dispersed as to be everywhere and nowhere. But it would be rather a shortsighted policy to lay the foundation for that sort of a city. As to the possibility of selling the water for more than the total cost of the aqueduct to territory outside of the city and which will never become a part of the city, I would say that the people would be extremely foolish and blind to the primary purpose of the aqueduct to consent to any such proposition.

"(12.) Is it not a fact that the adoption of the plan of the Public Service Commission for a wide distribution system, will result in putting the water to use much more quickly and at a better price than the plan recommended by you?"

I do not think so, as the most industrious and persistent canvass on the part of the commission's water solicitor, extending over a period of four months, has produced such a discouraging result as apparently to render the matter hopeless. But that, I assert, is not the question. The water is obtained for the city's use and not for any purpose of peddling. This purpose had to be emphasized, and was emphasized with the approval of the people of the city of Los Angeles before the powers that granted the city the rights necessary for her to obtain before she could move a hand to procure this water. The question of the repudiation of all these solemnly-made pledges is now up to the people, and I have an abiding faith in their honor.

Should the question of annexation to the city be put up as a precedent to the distribution of the water over the territory desirous of being annexed, it is my hearty wish that the people of San Dimas, Glendora and the neighboring country should be given an equal opportunity with that of any other district.

Respectively yours,
[Signed]
WILLIAM MULHOLLAND.

TRYING TO SAFEGUARD OUR VAST INDUSTRY.

ALARMED at the threatened reduction in duties on citrus fruits, spelling ruin or near-ruin to an industry in which more than $200,000,000, is invested in this State alone, the Executive Committee of the Citrus Protective League met yesterday in extraordinary session and appointed General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, a director of the league, as the industry's representative in Washington during the discussion of the tariff bill. Powell will leave today for Washington and will remain in that city as long as the Executive Committee deems necessary.

"I am simply authorized to take such steps as may safeguard the industry in the tariff fight," said Powell yesterday in discussing his Washington mission. "I will keep our Senators and Representatives informed as to the general status of the industry, both at home and abroad, together with the probable havoc which a reduction in duty will work. Just what I can accomplish and the independent action which I may take, the future only can tell.

"Though the data which we submitted to the Ways and Means Committee in its tariff hearing was by far the most comprehensive submitted by any industry, it was completely disregarded in the tariff making. Our contention that the lemon rate was being formulated by a close corporation of lemon importers was completely disregarded, as well as our proven assertions that a reduction in duties at this time will harm an industry that is in its very infancy."

Though no assertion was forthcoming from either Powell or the Executive Committee of the Citrus Protective League, it is the understanding in citrus circles that but little beneficial action can be expected from the House of Representatives, where the revisionists are in control. Hope is therefore based on the Senate, where the citrus growers may derive some benefit from the promised fight of the wool, sugar and beet interests.

WE SHOULD WORRY.

Senator Jones recommends the confiscation of half the estate of anyone who owns $15,000,000. A good many of us will not have to dodge.

SHORT LIVED.

A Congressman has reintroduced his bill to repeal the free-tolls provision for the Panama Canal. Now we know how long a snowball would last in July.

READY MADE.

At Weaverville, Cal., a lady from Portugal arrived to marry a fellow-citizen, bringing her ten children with her. There is nothing like having a good start in life.

THEY ARE WELCOME.

Militant suffragettes in England tried to blow up the ruins of Dudley Castle. Great Britain would be happy if these aggressive persons would only confine themselves to the dead ones.

NO MONOPOLY.

Evidence introduced in Chicago shows that one firm in America manufactures 200 carloads of matches every year. They do not make all the matches at Santa Ana, but that little town consummates more than that many in six months.

A LITTLE TOO MUCH.

It begins to look as if Uncle Sam had finally reached the limit of his endless patience with the situation in Mexico. Actual wounding of four American cavalrymen while patroling the border at Naco seems to have been too much even for this long-suffering public.

THE AVERAGE.

Another golden-rule officer is under the threat of recall. It often happens that those who profess a good deal are able to accomplish but little. When a man is a thing he does not have to possess it. A poor man likes to pose as wealthy, but a rich man is busy dodging the tax assessor.

NOT PERMANENT.

The granddaughter of the former American Ambassador to France has left her home at London because she thought she was tired of a conventional life. About the time she becomes unconventionally hungry she will be very happy to return to the humdrum of a commonplace existence. Nothing reconciles a person to the natural order of things like a keen appetite.

DRINKING THE CREAM.

This administration seems to be rather lucky. A good many incidents of great importance are culminating at present, although they have been brewing for many years. Chinese recognition is one and the election of Senators by the people is another. These are not Democratic measures, but Mr. Wilson's administration will get much of the credit.

ALL TO THE GOOD.

Congressman Raker is there with the gallantry. He offers an amendment to the Federal Constitution favorable to equal suffrage. Raker is a Democrat and the chief of that party has already announced that he considers suffrage a question of State's rights. Soon we shall see whether a Congressman or the President amounts to the most.

NETTLE-GOWNS.

The silkworm is to have a respite. A German textile expert has succeeded in spinning nettle fiber and a factory for this industry is being opened in the province of Schleswig-Holstein. Nettle thread is lustrous and of a textile strength almost equal to linen. It can be advantageously mixed with cotton, wool or silk and can be used in the manufacture of lace and dress materials. Bye and bye the war lyric of Dr. Holmes will be paraphrased and we shall sing—

"Weave no more silk, ye Lyons looms,
To deck our girls for gay delights,
We'll make their gowns from nettle blooms

LEGISLATIVE FREAKITA.

Senator Works seems to have caught the legislative cacoethes freakita from Sacramento. He has introduced a bill to protect from deterioration the morals of Senators, Congressmen and department clerks in Washington. It prohibits the publishing of details of crime or scandal in any newspaper or other publication in the District of Columbia. A fine of from $500 to $5000 is provided, with imprisonment not to exceed one year.

Another bill to be introduced by the Senator is one making it a felony punishable by a fine of from $100 to $10,000 and imprisonment from one to fourteen years to in any way conspire or plan to injure the credit of a firm or individual, or to otherwise try to ruin the business of a competitor or drive him out of business by selling goods below cost.

A merchant who, in anticipation of the summer trade, has overstocked his establishment with hankeen breeches is "between the devil and the deep sea." If he advertises that he will sell those surplus pantaloons below cost and really sells them above cost then to jail he goes for infraction of some State blue-sky law. If he does sell them below cost then Senator Works's bill would trip him by the heels and give him a fourteen-years' job picking hemp in the penitentiary.

Between what a man may do, and must not do, and cannot do, it is going to be difficult to do business without getting into the penitentiary

MULHOLLAND ON THE HIGH LINE.

The Times today reprints the strong, clear and convincing letter of Engineer Mulholland, the great builder of the aqueduct, showing the folly of the proposition to vote city bonds for the construction of the Graham "high line" to Glendora and San Dimas. The letter was written in response to questions put by President Henderson of the Board of Public Service Commissioners. Mulholland's mastery of the subject was so compelling and his objections to the scheme were so forceful and overwhelming that the promoters of the foolishness were silenced for the time being. They have recently renewed their activities, for political reasons, and the voters of Los Angeles must pass upon the issue next Tuesday. Every man or woman who would vote understandingly should read Engineer Mulholland's letter. It leaves nothing to be explained.

In brief, the taxpayers of Los Angeles are asked to build forty-eight miles of pipe line to supply a territory thirty to fifty miles away, which never can become a part of the city and which has NOT AGREED TO TAKE THE WATER AFTER THE LINE SHALL BE BUILT. A bond issue of $2,500,000 is asked for, as a beginning; but it would cost anywhere from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to complete the line, requiring further enormous bond issues. The promoters of the scheme seduliously conceal from the people the fact that the $2,500,000 asked for is only a starter and will not build half the line; but in reality they demand that the people of this city mortgage their properties for $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, with no revenue in sight to come from the expenditure. The advocates of the Graham plan actually propose to strip the city of half the whole water supply of the Owens River aqueduct and carry it to people thirty to fifty miles away, who have not contracted to take it. Engineer Mulholland declares that the city should keep every drop of the water for the needs of the greater city that is to be, meanwhile selling the surplus to territory that is likely to be annexed. In the most emphatic manner he condemns the "high line" plan for selling this surplus. He says:

"The high line does not solve this problem of an immediate market, as has been represented. If the bonds are voted as at present submitted it will be six months at least before the work of constructing this line can be begun. It will take two and one-half years to construct the line that now has a projected length of forty-eight miles, and the people a year and a half or two years hence, when the second half of the bond issue is required, may be neither in the mood nor condition to vote the balance of the money necessary for its completion.

"It is difficult for me to leave this subject of the high line without expressing my surprise at its rapacious audacity in the face of the emphatic promises and declarations that had to be made to the United States government in order to get what rights the city acquired from it in the Owens Valley and across the many miles of right-of-way intervening. Almost utterly ignoring the trend of growth of the city and the needs of the region over which she is rapidly expanding, 45 per cent. of the total flow of the aqueduct is to be diverted by a circuitous, difficult and expensive route to a section remote and already in possession of a partial water supply, and whose topography is such that the city can never hope to even recover the return water. When to this is added the condition that the city is to pay the whole expense (that may ultimately amount to one-third of the total cost of the aqueduct) for the privilege of despoiling herself, is it any wonder that opposition has been aroused? Do the meager results of four or five months' assiduous solicitation for water contracts in a business way warrant or encourage such a huge expenditure?"

If communities far outside of the city desire to buy and use a share of the surplus water of the aqueduct, they should issue their own bonds and build their own mains, not ask the property owners of Los Angeles to do it for them. The Graham scheme is so preposterous that one cannot wonder that Engineer Mulholland's pen fairly burns the paper with indignation when he writes of it. He has given the best years of his life to the planning and construction of this magnificent water system; he has carefully and scientifically wrought out a plan for disposing of the surplus and securing the best revenues and advantages to the city. And now, to have a bunch of politicians seek to overturn his whole edifice and take the business out of his skilled, clean and patient hands, for their own selfish purposes—why, it must make him boil! We do not believe that the citizens of Los Angeles will vote to cut their own throats or to impeach Mulholland. We do not believe they will saddle themselves with an enormous debt, with nothing to be gained by it, merely to further the designs of a group of self-seeking schemers and against the outspoken advice of the father, builder and truest friend of the aqueduct.

BONDS AND TAXES.

It is the home-owners and not the wealth-owners of Los Angeles who are most interested in preventing the increase in taxation which an excessive increase of bonded indebtedness would necessarily involve. If all the bond issues that will be submitted to the voters on Tuesday next shall be carried it will require an increase of 30 cents on each $100 valuation of property to pay the interest on the debt created. If only the bonds for harbor improvement and the bonds for the aqueduct water distributing system are voted it will require an increase of only 6½ cents on each $100 valuation of property to pay the interest on the debt created.

If the unnecessary bonds are voted it will cause the owner of property worth $100,000 to pay $235 more taxes, which will not in the least inconvenience him. But it will cost the owner of a $3000 cottage to pay $7.05 more taxes, which may mean to him two or three days' earnings, or involve deprivation of some comfort or modest luxury to which he or his wife or children have been accustomed, and the loss of which—slight though it may be—will nevertheless be felt.

In pleading with the voters of Los Angeles not to fasten upon their backs an unnecessary burden The Times is pleading for the home-owners of our beautiful city and not for the capitalists. The latter can take care of themselves, and so will the former if they thoroughly comprehend the situation and act in their own honest interests, and decline to hang a millstone of unnecessary debt about their necks.

The Los Angeles trunk line of the aqueduct (No. 2) and the harbor improvements (No. 5) we must have and have at once. The Normal School site, and the municipal railway, and the new City Hall, and the aqueduct power and water distributing systems can wait. To defeat the proposed bond issues of $17,500,000 for these latter purposes is not to defeat them finally. These propositions can be renewed and again submitted to the people a year or two years hence, and nothing will be lost because of the delay. But if they are carried now the burden may be placed upon the people beyond their power to remove.

FOR A BEAUTIFUL CITY.

As a city of factories and business blocks, of extensive commerce and steel rails and copper wires the future of Los Angeles is already well assured. Nothing can hold her back. Her advantages, her opportunities, her central position between the East and the West have already marked her out as a world metropolis. The construction of the Panama Canal and the awakening of China are the two latest factors in this development.

We shall never lack for men of enterprise and brains to push our commercial possibilities; but there is another side to the picture, just as important, and not so likely to receive the same attention from our citizens. We want Los Angeles before everything else to be a city beautiful. In the rush and excitement of material advance this consideration is likely to be lost sight of.

Utility can assert itself—its requirements are self-evident. How to combine beauty with utility is a bigger problem. The more we hasten material development the less time we have to spend on artistic possibilities. Yet in a city situated and surrounded as is the City of the Angels we should never allow the beautiful to be sacrificed to the useful.

At present the congested state of the traffic in the downtown sections calls for immediate relief. The most obvious suggestion is to build an overhead railroad. Sometimes, however, the most obvious remedy is the last one that should be resorted to. An overhead railway would forever destroy the beauty of a city intended by nature for artistic and scenic effects.

Though our commercial necessities must be our first guide, we ought not to forget that the attraction Los Angeles exercises over the lovers of nature, of beauty, of art and of sport is also a material benefit to us. The residential portion of our city is a bower of glorious shade trees; we should see that these are not slaughtered to make way for electric wires. A city, like a sailing ship, doesn't look well under bare poles. We cannot expect to make the business section as naturally beautiful as the Westlake Park or Hollywood districts, but we can see that it is as beautiful architecturally as the rest is naturally. As a business proposition, then, our citizens should get together and work harmoniously not only for a city big and useful, but even more for a city beautiful.

ABOLISHING HOMES.

Socialism is defined in the dictionaries as the doctrine that society should be reorganized by regulating property, industry and the sources of livelihood, and also the domestic relations and social morals of mankind. It is especially the doctrine of a community of property or the regulation of individual rights in property.

David A. Wells says that Socialism has originated a feeling that conditions of men should be equalized by some other method than intelligent individual effort, self-denial, and a natural, progressive, material and social development; and that the state could, if it would, make all men prosperous; and should, therefore, in some way not yet clearly defined by anybody, arbitrarily intervene and effect it.

Do those who call themselves Socialists in Los Angeles understand that Socialism means "a negation of individual rights of property?" Do they understand that a co-operative commonwealth means a society where all property, real and personal, belongs to the organization? where the individual members possess no property whatever? Where the labor of each is dictated by the society, and the results of such labor belong to the society, and the worker receives from the society such food, clothing, shelter and amusements as may be accorded him by the society? Do they understand that the only practical distinction between voluntary slavery of white men under Socialism and the involuntary slavery of black men under the system which existed before the Civil War is a distinction without a difference?

Socialism crushes the purpose and the desire of a man to own and live in his own home. In America there are more home-owners in proportion to the population than in any country in Europe, and there are probably fewer tenants and more home-owners in Los Angeles in proportion to the population than in any other city in the United States.

"One man should no more be content to live in another man's house, if he can build one of his own, than one bird should annually take the risk of hatching in another bird's home."

Socialism does not actually prohibit a man from owning and living in his own home, but under the doctrine of Prudhomme that "property is robbery" and the definition of Webster that Socialism is "the negation of individual rights in property" it makes it difficult for a man to own his own home or to live anywhere except in a phalanstery.

Socialism as it flourished in Milwaukee, in Butte and in Berkeley, and as it endeavors to flourish here, is not a propogandism of the doctrines of Prudhomme and Marx. It is rather a political organization by which the Harrimans and the Darrows seek to obtain office for themselves and their henchmen.

Office is the alpha and omega of Los Angeles Socialist leaders. They are practical job-chasers rather than apostles of sentimental Socialism. It would be an evil day for the taxpayers if, through apathy, the voters should stay away from the polls and allow these humbug humanitarians to impede the prosperity and ruin the credit of Los Angeles. It would be useless to vote bonds for improvements of any kind if the Socialists should elect Job Harriman. Nobody would buy the bonds of a Socialist-ruled city.

The Poet Philosopher.

There's nothing sadder than the way great public characters drop out; they're cutting lots of grass today, tomorrow they're gone up the spout. We still hear much of William Taft, who lives in chaste retirement now; of laurel wreaths he wears a raft—but what's become of William's cow? Aunt Delia in the public prints still figures largely, bless her eyes! And we encounter frequent hints that she's compounding scrumptious pies; long may the good Aunt Delia wave, and give her loved ones pies enow; but Pauline, beautiful and brave—O, where's the stately Pauline now? But yesterday she browsed and grazed upon the verdant White House lawn; and statesmen bowed to her, amazed, so graceful she, and like a fawn. And men who wished to represent this country at the court of Greece, before Pauline their hinges bent—with her they had to make their peace. She was the arbiter of fate, she was the power behind the throne; oh, has she got her horns on straight—why is her destiny unknown? Let William Howard teach the youth of Yale how best to delve and plow among the fertile fields of truth—but where is William Howard's cow?

His Prompt Answer.

[St. Paul Dispatch:] Rev. Herbert L. Trenchman, in a lecture on "Woman" at a Methodist church in Duluth, was condemning the now type of hobble skirt.

"It's worse than last winter's," he declared. "It's altogether immodest. I wish all husbands had the courage of a Duluth man I heard about recently.

"This honest fellow's wife turned complacently from the mirror, and, smoothing her new hobble skirt—a skirt of that ultra sort which must be put on with a shoe horn—said:

"'I wonder if the hobble skirt will ever go out?'

"'Not with me,' the man answered firmly.'

REASONS FOR ADDING TO OUR NAVY.

BY THE NAVY LEAGUE OF THE UNITED STATES.

The navy has 21,000 miles of coast line to defend.

The United States navy has more harbors with large cities and a larger number of strategic points to defend than has any other nation's navy.

The navy must defend Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, the Hawaiian Islands and the Panama Canal.

"Better to be despised for too anxious apprehensions than be ruined by too confident security."

The neutrality of the Panama Canal, including the necessary safeguarding incident to the passage through the canal of the ships of belligerents, when other nations are at war.

The Navy Department's demand for higher qualities of steel and better mechanical devices has aided directly in America's success in the production of high-grade steel and in the building of bridges, bicycles, automobiles and aeroplanes.

The navy is a school of efficiency, teaching many trades; teaching discipline and cleanliness to young men, a large portion of whom are so young that they can hardly be considered as producing units.

The navy as a trade school has been called "Our Great National University." It returns to civil life annually as many trained, efficient and patriotic young men as are graduated from the five leading universities of the country.

Germany's prosperity and national efficiency can, to no small extent, be attributed to the training received by citizens in her army and navy.

The annual cost of the navy, which is about $130,000,000 for 1912, is cheap insurance against the cost of war and represents approximately the cost of the nation's automobile tires for 1912.

The navy is one of the foundations of national credit and is insurance against the unsettled conditions of trade and commerce which would be coincident with a reputation for naval weakness.

A NURSE TELLS HOW A WIFE DECEIVED HER HUSBAND.

In the April Woman's Home Companion appears a highly entertaining story written by a nurse who relates some of her experiences living with the wife of a newly rich man. Following is an extract in which the nurse tells something about her mistress:

"She played a game with herself—and the rest of the world—all the time. Best of all, she liked to fool her husband. Every morning she roused herself up when he did, flung on a lovely negligee, fluffed up her hair and sat in the baby's nursery, as if she could not leave the baby to have breakfast with him. She was a pretty blonde and made a lovely picture with the baby in her arms. Mr. Joyce would tear himself away, rush down to the nice breakfast Katie had waiting for him, and off to work, thinking that he had the most capable wife in the world. And before he was around the corner, she was back in her bed, fast asleep, and we would hear nothing from her until she rang for her breakfast about 9 o'clock.

"And that was the last time she noticed the baby till she played the pretty little comedy of domesticity for her husband the next morning.

"I'm not saying she deceived her husband. She never did anything wrong or dishonest. She was just shrewd and insincere, and I despised her as I never have despised any human being before or since. I used to wish she'd lose her temper and become hysterical just as the average woman would, but she was too clever to do either. They would bring lines to her face and tire her. It was easier to be cutting or suave, as the occasion demanded. I recall one day when Mr. Joyce was going to Pittsburgh on business, and she went with him. I had the baby downstairs at breakfast time—for effect. She fondled and kissed it—for effect. And then just as they were starting—for effect also—she called over her shoulder—'Katie, Nellie—I hope you will have a pleasant holiday while we are gone.' And all the time she knew she had left us for three days with half a head of cabbage, a little piece of corned beef, a few potatoes, and some carrots to eat. We both dug down into our own purses and bought a bit of lamb and fruit for our Sunday dinners."

Golden Points: By the Staff

The Municipal News is dead—but really deader than it has ever been.

The recent floods in the East have boosted wireless telegraphy. No poles or wires to down.

But President Wilson did not refuse that rebail pass. What have the Democrats to say to that?

Men who were never known to tell the truth are sorely tempted to draw the long bow during the trout season.

It is now admitted that rats infest the old courthouse. Why not give the Pied Piper of Hamelin a chance at the rodents?

With one hand stirring the tariff soup and the other busy arranging the corned beef and corn roast, President Wilson is a busy man.

Will President Wilson take a hand in the anti-Japanese land legislation in California as Roosevelt did? Remember the Colonel's butt-in?

Applicants for Federal positions in Los Angeles must have their claims vised by the investigating committee. But suppose someone "stuffs" the committee?

A Los Angeles couple have just waited for twenty years of courtship. But, we read brethren, the only way to become well acquainted is to get married.

It must be admitted that the hide of Secretary Bryan is thoroughly seasoned and beautifully tanned from sixteen years of exposure in the political wilderness.

But for the Bull Moose idiocy that made certain a Democratic Congress there would be no slashing of the protective duties. Let us place the blame where it belongs.

It must be said in extenuation of the conduct of the Indiana University Glee Club in making a tour of California, that it did not sing "On the Banks of the Wabash."

The Agricultural Department is struggling with the question, "What is sausage?" And the man who invests 15 cents in the sausage section labeled sausage can offer no suggestions.

President Wilson is quite English, you know. His personally-delivered message to Congress was a sort of "speech from the throne."

Arizona lawmakers are serving during the special session without pay. But this does not necessarily argue that their labors are worthless—as in some adjoining States, for instance.

Statistics show that the tide of immigration is falling off at the Atlantic ports. The immigrants don't seem to want to come to the United States while the Democrats are in charge.

President Wilson can smash another precedent by joining Col. Roosevelt in a vaudeville team on the restored White House grounds. They're both progressive and youthful. "Love all!"

Just to show that he is an old-fashioned Democrat Third Assistant Postmaster-General Dockery wears boots. They will come in handy when he begins to fire the Republican postmasters.

The elections this spring in various parts of the country show the almost total extinction of the Bull Moose vote. It will soon be nothing but a disordered memory and bad taste in the mouth.

Some of the Mexicans don't like Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson and have made their objections to Washington. If his front name had been Don Jose or Pedro or Marie there would have been no trouble.

Dr. David Starr Jordan has been granted a year's leave of absence in Europe to work for peace. Why not stop at Washington en route and see what he can do with the warring Democratic factions in that city?

Imperial Valley asparagus is making a hit in the East. In fact, it makes a hit wherever it is in the markets. Just thousands of dollars are pouring into the laps of the growers of the succulent stalk.

The mountain flowers are more profuse this year than ever before this spring, and the sides of the slopes are riots of color. It looks as if the Almighty had painted the landscape and left nothing to be desired either in hue or variety.

The city of Berkeley that elected Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist, has seen the end and at the primary but one candidate for Mayor indorsed by Stitt Wilson was backed that faith qualified. The candidate indorsed by Stitt Wilson was backed. Hurrah for Berkeley!

Miss Salome Tarr, the young stenographer whom President Wilson is trying to get a job in Washington, is said to be a New Jersey commercial college graduate. Her picture in advertising matter. It would seem that a girl as good looking as she ought to be able to get a job anywhere.

SHIPS SAILING TO WEST COAST.

The Falls Branch of the Oregon Short Line to Connect With Canadian Pacific—Canadian Pacific Will Buy Southern California Is Whole Playground.

The new all-steel steamer Oliver Olson, destined for the West Coast service of the Company's service between San Francisco and Portland, cleared the Golden Gate and Channel Island at dawn yesterday on its long journey from the Cramp shipbuilding yards at Philadelphia to San Francisco, where it will be equipped for service, according to advices received here yesterday. The arrival of this boat on the Pacific coast, coupled with the sailing from Cardiff, Wales, Tuesday, of the Olson & Co. steamer Coluna, and the arrival of the Santa Cruz of the same company early in the week, are hailed for the rehabilitation of the shipping interests of the Pacific Coast, and local steamship men.

The Oliver J. Olson, so-named in honor of the senior member of the firm of Olson & Mahoney, is a 3000-ton freighter with passenger accommodations for ninety persons. It is a sister of the Cordova, sold a year ago by Olson & Mahoney to the Alaska Steamship Company. The new vessel will be ready for service within ten days. Proof of the work was furnished by its makers in the passage from Philadelphia to the Horn to San Diego in thirty days.

Olson & Co. steamer Coluna, a freighter, with accommodations for twenty-five passengers, left Glasgow, where it was built, a few days ago, in command of Capt. Kennedy of the East India service and took aboard a cargo of coal. The Coluna is a sister of the Santa Catalina, the Santa Rosa and the Santa Cecelia, now lying at the Cramp yards, and all will be for service between this port and New York following the opening of the Panama Canal.

The Santa Cruz of the same company reached San Francisco yesterday after the long journey around the Horn. It is of the same tonnage as other boats of the Grace company and will eventually be assigned to service through the canal. At present it will operate via the Straits of Magellan. On its first outbound trip it will carry four passengers destined for service in South American ports. The substitution of the Grace company's service on the west coast is a boon to old-timers, as some years ago this company operated a fleet of windjammers between San Francisco and New York.

To Connect Lines.

Announcement was made yesterday by President and General Manager Bancroft of the Oregon Short Line that construction will begin at once on an extension of the Twin Falls branch south from a point in connection with the Central Pacific in Nevada.

In connection with the proposed damming of the Owens River by the Southern Pacific, this statement by Bancroft assures Southern California of through connection with Spokane and the whole Inland Empire.

The service has long been rumored but Bancroft's announcement makes it a certainty. "At present the Southern Pacific has a line from this city to Hazen on the Nevada Pacific, but a portion of this is narrow-gauge. In a local rate case some time ago Southern Pacific asserted the State Railroad Commission that it was the plan and intent to substitute standard for narrow gauge on this line. With the completion of the Oregon Line and the Southern Pacific's work, Southern California will be brought 300 miles nearer to Montana and the eastern part of Washington and Oregon. The benefit is apparent.

North and South.

The assertion that Southern California will always be the world's Mecca, but that Western Canada is destined to be the granary of the Northern hemisphere, D. McNicoll, president of the Canadian Pacific, bade farewell to the Southland after a week's sojourn. Of the climate, the sky, the scenery, in fact, everything conducive for joyous living, but we lack agricultural resources for the production of endless "foodstuffs," declared McNicoll. "You will grow because thousands of persons will find these conditions delightful; many home people will find a career abundant living and a career abundant living at home."

McNicoll was accompanied by his son, who had been passing the winter in Southern California.

Siberian Route.

Word from London in thirteen years hence is the alluring theme set forth by "The Great Siberian Route" in advertising matter received by D. F. Robertson, with notice of his appointment as local representative. The pamphlet bears all the marks of the best brands of railroad literature, but shows some startling facts about the service offered. For instance, service is limited to weekly, while courtesy on route has assured a scale of fines to which passengers are subject in case of misbehavior of passengers.

Traffic Convention.

Frank Blair of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Mountain System is preparing for Little Rock, Ark., for the annual meeting of the traffic representatives. He is accompanied by Mrs. Blair. He will visit New Orleans, Galveston, and other eastern points.

Under Commander.

Steamers Coming.

The Schooners are due in a day of the West Coast, Redmond and Whitney, with the arrival of this party the winter tourist business of this company will be brought to a successful close.

Technical Illegality.

SAWTELLE SCHOOL CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY.

THE COUNTY Grand Jury yesterday investigated an alleged technical violation of the law by A. J. Stoner and C. L. Edinger, school trustees of Sawtelle. It is charged by E. E. Mudge that an illegal demand for $20 was passed by the school board a few weeks ago.

Back of the apparently trifling infringement of law, which both Stoner and Edinger frankly admitted yesterday when seen at the Courthouse, is a private feud between Stoner and Mudge. It is alleged that the two quarreled over politics and that Stoner struck the other. At least Stoner, who is manager of the Sawtelle branch of the Montgomery & Mullin Lumber Company, declared he gave Mudge a slap in the face. This he avers started the other after him.

Both Stoner and Edinger said they did all they could to get the Palms school district merged with Sawtelle, for the reason that it would add about $2,000,000 taxable property to the latter. Sawtelle needed two schoolhouses, one having burned down, and the burden on the Sawtele tax payers was considered too much.

"In order to get an application for joining to our district to Palms, we admit without qualification that we colonized a part of the Wolfskill tract," said Stoner yesterday. "The cost of getting the colonization work was far in excess of the bill we put through the board. Mudge, the other school trustee, knew about it. Through desire for retaliation I contend, he took it to County Superintendent Keppel."

Asst. Dist-Atty. Ford presented the case to the Grand Jury. Several Sawtelle residents who presumably knew of the circumstances were witnesses. It is virtually certain that there will be no indictments.

HOAX OR HORROR?

"Suicide" Note Found in Westlake Park—One Body Recovered; But It's Not Jessie's.

Either the "movies" were operating in Westlake Park yesterday or a tragedy was announced with melodramatic extremity, for a vanity bag containing a heart-wrecking farewell note was found, announcing that the body of one "Jessie" would be discovered in the bottom of the lake. Up to a late hour last night only one body had come to the surface of the lake—that was of a duck, and the duck's name wasn't Jessie.

The note, folded among the rouge, puff and powder, reads: "To Those Who Mourn My Loss: Good-bye, dear Jack; I have decided on the best plan. You will hear of me no more. By 5 o'clock tonight my body will be at the bottom of the lake. Good-bye forever. Jessie."

The bag was found by a stroller, who handed it to Patrolman Thompson, who passed it on to the detectives, who notified the park watchman, who invites all the Jacks in the city to assist in dragging the lake.

U.S.C. WINS DEBATE.

Law School Defeats Northwestern University in Annual Argumentative Onslaught—Meet Drake Next.

Kyle Z. Grainger and A. H. Stockton, representing the University of Southern California College of Law, administered a trouncing last night to R. G. Southworth and D. S. Boyd, representing the Northwestern University Law School in the annual debate at the Gamut Club Auditorium.

The question was "Resolved, That the Federal bankruptcy law should be repealed," with the stipulation that the question was to be understood to imply that there shall be no Federal bankruptcy law of any kind.

Northwestern had the affirmative and the University of Southern California the negative.

The judges were ex-Judge Parker of the Superior Court of Illinois, Judge Shaw of the California Court of Appeals, and Superintendent Francis of the public schools. Judge York acted as chairman. The 22nd inst., debaters from Drake University of Des Moines are to try conclusions with the local debaters on the question of the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Yesterday at The Times School of Domestic Science

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Demons Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in Afternoon, Second Floor New "Times" Building.

There was a sudden and unexpected change of programme at the cooking school yesterday. Mrs. Haffner-Ginger was ill—too ill to appear on the platform although she had prepared everything for the benefit lunch according to schedule. The beans were there and the brown bread, both done brown—the meat salad—and everybody said it was delicious—the cake and the Puritas coffee—and the audience—not as large as on Monday, for there's a vast difference between the appealing qualities of chicken pie and beans and brown bread.

Now chicken pie will draw more hard cash from any man's pocket than any other viand ever placed on a bill of fare. Never knew it to fail. Chicken pie has undoubtedly dissolved more debts for ladies' aid societies of churches and clubs and organizations than any other one thing.

Times Reporter Takes the Platform.

When the curtains were drawn aside yesterday a new cook lady appeared on the platform—and she won a round of applause. She had roses in her hair just like Mrs. Haffner-Ginger wears, and her white bib apron was as immaculate as that donned by any chef; she brandished a big spoon in her hand, and she made a speech and quoted Shakespeare, and tried to fill Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's shoes.

It was The Times reporter who has recorded from day to day the doings of the cooking school, and the way she dished up beans and served salad and handed out slices of that sweetpea-blossom fruit cake of Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's was certainly a testimony to her knowledge of domestic duties. After this, no one can accuse her of being an ignoramus in kitchen affairs. It's quite easy and simple, you know, to serve food that has been perfectly prepared by an expert.

Total of $66 for Flood Sufferers.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger had cut the handsomely iced and decorated fruit cake that was exhibited on Monday and twenty-five generous, six-ounce slices were sold at two bits each. All told, the receipts were $16—which isn't a bad boost for a bean day, and completes a total of $66 for the benefit of the flood sufferers.

She Lapsed Into Poetry.

The Times reporter made the most of her opportunity, and even lapsed into poetry and read from her notebook the following effusion, which she said she swiped from the desk of the cook lady, who can write rhymes as well as cook dainties.

"I used to be dyspeptic once, I had such stomach trouble,
I could not gaze on food at all, I couldn't digest a bubble;
But now I'm hearty, hale and fat—
in fact, I'm better looking,
For my wife is learning rapidly the Haffner-Ginger way of cooking."

No More Lectures Till Monday.

Owing to Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's indisposition there will be no more lectures till next Monday, when they will be resumed. The special classes will also be suspended until next week.

She Wants to Know.

A Long Beach woman has written the cook lady a letter that fairly bristles with interrogation points. She wants to know all about the decorative art work with that fancy icing and in fact, all about everything. She says:

"I have been exceedingly interested in the accounts of your demonstrations in the culinary art, but owing to a series of accidents I have been unable to attend. I'm infatuated with all your dessert and salad instructions. I never can stew a chicken to make it taste rich and just right like my mother did. ## No Power Bonds Means Lower Taxes

Taxes are paid by everyone. The property owner pays taxes both directly and indirectly; the non-property owner pays them indirectly in the mere act of keeping alive.

But it is upon the small house owner with a fixed income that taxes fall heaviest.

The merchant, the professional man, the landlord—or proprietors of every kind, can—in fact must—add tax bills to the cost of service or commodities. Partly, at least, the burden is shifted down on the consumer and householder in higher rents, groceries, meats, clothing—in brief, the cost of living.

The small home owner with the fixed income is caught both by tax bills against his property and by the indirect tax bills necessarily imposed by every one from whom he buys.

Taxes may be increased in one of two ways, or by a combination of both; first, by increasing the assessable value of property, and, second, by advancing the tax rate.

The assessable valuation in this city is presumed to be about one-half the sales value. For a number of years the total assessed valuation has been raised about 10 per cent. annually, this increase probably not exceeding the additional property and property values accruing in the community.

But the city tax rate has gone up materially and the county and school tax rates, also, have climbed steadily.

In 1908-9 the city tax rate was $1.25 per 100 assessable value; in 1912-13 it had grown to $1.54.

The city tax rate is made up of two principal factors—one for deriving revenue for general municipal purposes such as general government, fire, police, sanitation, etc., the other for paying city bonds—the public debt.

The tax rate for general municipal purposes advanced but 5.75 per cent. in these five years—from 85.1 cents per $100 of valuation to 90 cents. The tax rate for bond interest and sinking fund advanced 148 per cent. or from 25 cents per $100 of valuation to 64 cents.

If all the proposed $17,600,000 bonds are voted April 15th, not less than 30 cents will be added to that part of the city tax rate provided for defraying the debt burden. The tax rate for debt interest would then be 94 cents per $100 of valuation, or a total of $1.84 for all city purposes.

The estimate of 30 cents additional to the tax rate is based upon a 10 per cent. increase in the total assessed valuation for 1913-14. If it should be less, the rate would be higher.

It is plain how vitally the municipal bonded debt affects both the tax rate and the actual amount of taxes paid by citizens.

In the $17,600,000 proposed additional bonds, the item of $6,500,000 for an electrical distributing system calls for useless and unnecessary public debt.

It is not necessary for the city to mortgage itself for this large sum to build a competing electrical distributing system, in order to market aqueduct power profitably and secure low rates to the consumer for lighting and power.

The companies have offered to co-operate intelligently with the city toward avoiding this useless public debt and accomplishing the objects mentioned (1) by purchasing the aqueduct power at a fair price; (2) by becoming the power distributing agents for the city; (3) by leasing their distributing systems to the city; (4) by handling the power on a partnership basis.

The city government, and not the companies, it should be remembered, makes the rates for electric light and power.

The increased tax rate resulting from the proposed $6,500,000 power bonds would be at least 11 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

If the companies purchased the aqueduct power, the minimum estimated revenue to the city at the start would be $750,000 a year, which would decrease the tax rate 18.75 cents per $100. This added to the 11 cents which would be saved by not voting the power bonds, would amount to 29.75 cents.

In other words, all the other bonds proposed might be voted, still the sale of the aqueduct power to the companies would prevent an increase in taxes. To the contrary, it would reduce the present tax rate $10.75 per $100.

When you hear it stated that the only way to reduce taxes is to vote the power bonds, think over the facts given in this statement.

In Belvedere.

TRYING TO RECALL A GENTLE JUSTICE

BELVEDERE, where they carry their own street lights by night in the shape of lanterns and the ancient egg is still the most favored token of public disapproval, yesterday filed a petition with the Board of Supervisors for the recall of its golden-rule justice of the peace, D. W. Garwood.

Neglect of duty is the allegation in the petition. More particularly specified by Constable Holts, Deputy Constable Page, E. G. Sherman and others who assisted in the circulation of the recall petition, Garwood's decisions are too often tempered with the milk of human kindness to promote respect for the law among Belvedere's gun-toting cholos, egg-throwing small boys, and other undesirables. It is also asserted by them that Garwood made his official duties secondary to his thriving real estate business.

"I made seventeen arrests and didn't get a conviction," said Deputy Constable Page last night. "Most of them were express and laundryman doing business without licenses. Garwood let them go with a reprimand, saying that if he [illegible] take their hard-earned [illegible] Mexican that I [illegible] was let go because [illegible] his father and [illegible] people."

FIVE YEARS OF LIFE FOR AUTO.

YOUNG REALTY MAN SENTENCED AS EMBEZZLER.

Takes Woman's Life Earnings for Ostensible Purpose of Building Her a Home—Court Regards Case as Aggravated—Defense Contended Prisoner Received Money.

Ira W. Holt, a young real estate agent, unwittingly exchanged five years of his life for the pleasure of owning an automobile bought with the life savings of Mrs. Grace M. Carter.

Holt was convicted of embezzlement, and Judge Unangst sentenced him yesterday to five years at San Quentin. A five days' stay of execution was granted pending an appeal.

So far as the authorities know, this is Holt's first offense, but it was an aggravated case. Mrs. Carter had saved $1102 by a life of toil. She had cooked, baked and scrubbed floors, putting by the money a penny at a time. She looked forward to the time when she could own her own home.

Her first investment was a lot. Then Holt came across her path. He learned she had money saved up, and induced Mrs. Carter to deal with him. She gave him the deed to her lot and bought a half acre through Holt.

He induced her to draw her savings out of the bank on condition that he would build her a house on the half acre. With $1101 in his hand, Holt bought an automobile, paying $625. He banked the balance of the money. This left Mrs. Carter with $1 in bank. The house was never built, and the only result of turning her fortune over to the young real estate agent was a ride in the automobile her money had bought.

Holt was convicted by a jury on the evidence presented by Deputy District Attorney Keetch. Holt's defense was that Mrs. Carter had given him the money to start him in business.

CHECK PASSER ARRESTED.

The Los Angeles Public Library, ... in the Hamburger Building, ... street and Broadway, is to be ... into a new building to be erected ... by the Metropolitan Fireproof ... Company at the northwest ... of Fifth street and Broadway ... April, 1914.

There has long been desired ... of Los Angeles, according ... library directors, who add ... present quarters are not only ... in size but that public opinion has long been opposed to the idea of having the library located in a department store, although the directors say they have received the most courteous service from their present lessors.

Most of all, they say, the move has been necessitated by the poor arrangements of the library departments, incurring great loss of time and inconvenience to readers. All this will be obviated by the new quarters. The future quarters will be in many ways ideal.

A central location, in quarters which will be built practically for library purposes, conveniently arranged for all the work and handsomely furnished, with perfect light and ventilation and capacious express elevator service, these are the points the directors believe will appeal to the population of Los Angeles.

Over 100,000 persons visit the present quarters each month, and it is confidently predicted by the library authorities that the circulation of the library, which last year was more than 1,000,000 books, will be increased by at least 50 per cent. For the last six months efforts have been made to find suitable quarters at the present lease with the Hamburger Company expires July 1, 1914.

At least fifteen propositions were carefully considered by the library directors, most of them centrally located; but practically none afforded the necessary space in which to locate the public parts of the library, so as to give convenient service.

WHO TAXES THIS ROAD?

In Supreme Court Case State and County Authorities Conflict Over Assessment of San Diego Line.

A petition has been filed in the local office of the California Supreme Court for an alternative writ of mandamus to compel the California State Board of Equalization to place the tangible property of the San Diego and Arizona Railway Company on the State assessment roll.

The line as originally projected, was to connect San Diego and Yuma, but according to the petition only 14.36 miles of the road between San Diego and the Mexican boundary line, are now in operation. It is alleged that at a meeting of the State Board of Equalization, held on the 3rd inst., a resolution was adopted setting out that the road was not in operation on the first Monday in March, last, and, for that reason, should be assessed this year for only county and local taxes.

The petitioners claim that the action of the State board was arbitrary and that the portion of the road now in operation should be taxed by the State. The fact that there is a wide difference between the tax rates levied by the State and the county, may have something to do with the filing of the petition. An attorney in the case said the property has been assessed at $200,000 by the authorities of San Diego county, on which a tax of $8000 has been imposed, while if the tax is assessed by the State, it is claimed the amount would be only $400, a difference of $7600.

ENIGMA JESTS BEFORE COURT.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER NO LONGER SILENT.

Defendants in Hill-street Mystery Do Not Take Stand at Preliminary Hearing—Story of the Shooting of Witness's Fiancee Reiterated Without Developing Statements.

James Murphy and Mrs. Lucille Moore, jointly charged with the murder of Mrs. Irene Mattie Smith, were held for trial in the Superior Court at the close of their preliminary examinations in the University Court yesterday.

The testimony in the Moore case, which was begun immediately following that of Murphy, was practically a repetition of that introduced in the former case. Witnesses told of Murphy and Mrs. Moore going to the Eby home on North Hill street, of the shots fired there; of the escape of the defendants, and the subsequent discovery that the victim had been shot just below the heart.

Much interest centered in the testimony of Morris Bohanon, the slain woman's fiance, who was a witness to the shooting. Bohanon again rehearsed the story told before the Coroner's jury, cross-examination by the defendant's attorneys failing to shake him.

Neither of the defendants was put on the stand, they preferring to tell their respective stories before a jury at their coming trial.

Mrs. Moore, who has been in the Receiving Hospital much of the time since her arrest because of her hysterical condition, apparently had recovered her spirits as well as her health yesterday, for she talked and joked at intervals during the day.

Deputy District Attorney Shannon, who is conducting the prosecution, intimated that he would bring the two cases to trial in the higher court as speedily as possible. He has no doubt of his ability to bring about a conviction.

The fact that attorneys for Mrs. Moore and Murphy were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury in connection with the case has aroused much speculation as to whether or not they will be called as witnesses in the trial of the cases.

STAY EXPIRES—PRISON.

Six Indians Convicted of Slaying Coahuilla Agent Must Begin Terms at McNeil's Island.

The fifteen days' stay of execution allowed by Judge Rudkin in the cases of Ambrosio Apapas, Leonicio Lugo, Francisco Pio, Pablino and Cornelio Lubo, convicted of murder, expired last night, and the men will be taken to McNeil's Island next Monday to begin their ten-year sentences.

Saturday will be "farewell day" for the prisoners and their families, and it is expected that many Coahuilla or Swoboda tribesmen will be on hand to say good-by to the convicted men. Apapas, the chief defendant, is broken in health, spirits and in pocket-book. At the time of the murder Apapas was one of the wealthiest Indians on the reservation, but his 180 head of fat cattle and other property was sacrificed to defend himself and his associates in their trials. Apapas had to carry the financial burdens of all of the defendants.

PARCEL POST GROWS.

Increased Business Necessitates Use of Eleven Vehicles in Addition to Carrier Service.

Postmaster Harrison reports continual growth of the parcel post business at the local office. With the inception of the business in January last, it was confined to "freak" parcels, but it has now settled down to legitimate mail matter.

The number of parcel post packages received during January were 49,850; February, 54,533; March, 59,966; dispatched, January, 66,537; February, 79,844; March, 85,812. Also, during the first quarter receipts for parcel post stamps attained a figure between $60,000 and $65,000.

During January the local office used for the dispatch of parcel post packages three vehicles. At the present time there are six automobiles and five wagons used exclusively in the parcel post delivery service. Since March 1, the volume of business has increased so that it is necessary to make two auto trips to the residence districts. These vehicles deliver from 1000 to 1200 large parcel post packages a day.

PROTEST TARIFF BILL.

Chamber of Commerce Wires Washington a Resolution Denouncing the Underwood Draft.

Contending that Senator Underwood's proposed new tariff bill, now before the Committee on Ways and Means, reduces customs rates on California products to such a degree that it will seriously cripple great interests here, the Chamber of Commerce passed and sent to Washington a resolution of condemnation yesterday.

It was wired to Speaker Clark, Underwood and to all California Representatives in Congress, with the request that they use every endeavor to have the proposed bill amended so that it "shall deal more justly with California and Pacific Coast products."

It also was resolved that all Chambers of Commerce of the Coast and other commercial organizations be requested to join in the protest.

It is specifically pointed out in the resolution that the bill introduced Tuesday indicates that California has been dealt with more severely than other States and that California's products are more unnecessarily exposed to foreign competition by it.

Combination of Dollars Profits From Co-operation

THE BEST INVESTMENT offered the public today is that which FINDS ITS SOURCE AND PROFIT IN THE LAND, and the growing trees that increase in value with it, welding its future with that of Southern California.

More profit can be obtained individually, when individuals place their dollars together in a great co-operating company, whose business is the growing of trees, development and subdivision of land, and selling the complete orchard home.

Shares in a company of this character have a greater intrinsic value than the scheduled market price, because while big profits are being made, greater ones are assured for the future, owing to increase in land and tree values.

The success of Gibraltar today is due to the combined strength of over 6000 shareholders, each one working energetically for the progress of the company

You will find in the Gibraltar plan the ideal working-out of a great co-operative policy, where the dollars of these 6000 shareholders are welded together in wresting wealth from transforming vacant land into bearing orchards.

There is a small number of the last issue of shares to be sold and when they are gone no more preferred shares will be offered for sale. At the conclusion of this sale, the company, with ample finances, will continue buying great tracts of land, subdividing, planting, and selling it.

Youth Perennial.

OCTOGENARIAN EVER YOUNG.

Pioneer Angeleno Returns to Look Us Over.

A lively, young-old Angeleno of 84, who trots about the globe like a boy of 28, and who thought nothing of taking a trip up the Nile when he was 80, is in the city from his adopted home in Connecticut, and after he is through taking in the now unfamiliar old scenes, which will be within the next few days, he will return to his eastern bailiwick.

Ex-Judge Mark D. Wilber is the man who refuses to grow old. He first came to Los Angeles in 1850, and in 1853 was a candidate for the Assembly on the Democratic ticket. He left here in 1853 when he was 24 years of age, and since then has traveled so far and done so much that it is difficult to imagine how he found time for it all. Among his journeys was one to the Arctic Circle, whither he went to spend his seventy-fifth birthday looking at the midnight sun.

He quietly makes the boast that he has traveled on every navigable river on the North American continent, from South America to the Arctic Sea. He was born before there was a railroad in the world and has ridden on practically all of them to date, for there is no part of the civilized world that he has not visited.

While doing all this he made a place for himself in the legal profession and on the bench, and found time to serve two years in the Civil War as a member of the One Hundred and Fifty-ninth New York Volunteer Infantry, a part of the time on the staff of Gen. Payne.

FINDS NOTHING FAMILIAR.

Since he left Los Angeles he has returned many times, but his last visit was fourteen years ago, and he said yesterday that the changes have been so great that he could find nothing familiar.

When he came "around the Horn" in 1850, he had just reached his majority and in 1852 cast his first Presidential vote for Franklin Pierce and his associates, and had the honor of being himself a candidate on the same ticket for the office of Assemblyman. So proud was he of his first use of the franchise and his place on the ticket, that he went to the polling place the day after the election and induced the officers in charge to give him back his ballot. He laid the identical piece of paper on a desk in The Times Office yesterday, having pressed it through all these years in a scrapbook. He "voted her straight" except that he scratched the name of Henry Meredith from the Assembly ticket and wrote in the name of J. W. Harrison, a Republican candidate.

THE OLD TICKET.

For Vice-President—William Rufus King of Alabama.

For District Judge—Lewis Aldrich.

For State Senator—L. Hermance.

For Supervisors—John W. Craig, John C. Coachman, C. D. Kallenberger, W. S. Manlove, Harvey Alvord.

For Public Administrator—A. T. Ward.

In 1889, when he was United States District Attorney in Brooklyn, Judge Wilber was elected president of the Associated Pioneers of the Territorial Days of California, organized and existing in New York City. In his inaugural address, among other things, he said:

"We all love the sweet flowery land we knew as territory, then as the new, and now the dear old State. We remember with becoming pride our first votes. Its political destiny was then in our keeping, our hearts beat for freedom, and those votes so decreed it. California came into the Union a free State. How controlling this action was, none knew, nor when viewed in the light of the history of the Rebellion can it be measured. California became a gem in the Federal coronet.

"It is a sunny land and merits the soubriquet, 'Italy of America,' with its clear skies, charms of climate, wonderful soils, wealth of mines, fabulous products and enchantments of scenery."

LISTEN TO THE BAND! TODAY'S CIRCUS DAY

Miss Emily Stickney,

One of the Sells-Floto circus stars.

"IT'S funny how some folks are always arguing that all circuses are alike, but it is generally noticed that the individual who talks loudest and longest along these lines is the first to come down on the street to see the parade pass by and the one who doesn't leave the circus lot until every vestige of the big top and its contents has been stowed away in the baggage wagon," says the advance agent.

"As a matter of fact, every circus is different from the last one. They are mainly different because we want them to be different and because they possess an appeal which no other form of amusement can boast of. Most people, whether young or old, can remember their first circus, and the memory of it so lingers and the lure is so potent that they have been going to circuses ever since, and will continue the habit as long as they live."

The Sells-Floto Circus, which is the first big show to arrive this season, will be on the lot out at Prager Park some time about sun-up, because they are making a very short run over from Pomona, and it is more than probable that the tents will be up and everything ready for business long before the little folks have crawled out of bed.

MEXICAN ESPEE IN HARD LINES.

Picking Up Bullet Holes Pastime in Nogales.

Telegraph Company Liable for Error in Message.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

NOGALES (Ariz.) April 5.—Nomadic Tucson is headquarters for the officials of the Southern Pacific Company in Mexico, but that fact is doing good to the community at present time. The railroad has recently been confiscated and President Randolph and his subordinates have been dispossessed of all authority, not even being allowed to ride on the cars trains without paying fare. The railroad is being operated by the men who have secured the assistance of a considerable number of men of some experience in the railroad business. So former firemen are being as engineers and the locomotives are said to be going to pieces without roundhouse attention of kind. The road bed likewise has a receive life of only a few weeks and altogether it is expected that more than ill-assorted things will be handed back to the Southern Pacific when the revolutionists tire of their plaything and guarantee some sort of security for the operation of the road in the hands of its private owners. The damage already is enormous throughout the state of Sonora and there is grave doubt whether any restitution can be forced against Mexico by the railroad company.

PATCHING UP ROOFS.

A thriving occupation during last week at Nogales was the repairing of roofs, it having been found that scores of houses had been made leaky by a rain of lead that passed over the International boundary at the time of the battle of Nogales, Sonora, March 12. Scores of a single residence were found bullet holes, besides three feet of the house.

Mr. Frank A. Duffy at Nogales contended that telegraph companies are liable for responsibility for error in transmission of an unrepeated message. The decision specifically states that the Western Union Telegraph Company cannot exempt itself in advance by an alleged contract from losses or damages resulting from its own negligence, thus sustaining the contention of the plaintiff that such contracts are against public policy and void, and that the addressee of a telegram cannot be bound by a contract entered into by the sender of that telegram." The case referred to is Roy H. Titcomb sued the telegraph company for $100 damages for a mistake in a message from New York concerning a shipment of material.

TO DEEPEN OIL WELL.

Robert A. Menzies and J. S. Bryant, who have an option on the oil lands of the Catalina Exploration Company in the Rillito district near Tucson, are preparing to resume work on the oil well, which is 300 feet deep and is well equipped for deepening operation. Oil has been struck in the well and has been lifted to the extent of one half a barrel a day, mainly from a water-bearing stratum of oil sand at a depth of 600 feet.

Tucson Masonic Lodge has decided it wants nothing but its share of the estate of D. J. Boleyn, a bachelor, who willed the order of an estate worth at least $100,000. "widows" contested for years after Boleyn died from burns received in a fire in Tucson years ago. Mixed up in the suit, but not prominently, also are scores of the heirs of still living who died a short time after his legal wife, one deserted in Canada, has been given out. She learned accidentally her husband was in Tucson and met her son, a member of the Masonic order, accidentally met on the streets of Tucson. Benjamin Boleyn, a resident of Los Angeles, appears to have married and divorced from his legal wife still lived. The lodge has furnished Boleyn with a home which he made his headquarters. The lodge believes it is entitled to some consideration and has been finally adjudged owner of half of the estate, which will be deeded to the woman and the balance to the estate.

MAYO LOSES SUIT.

Attorney of Los Angeles has been filed by him in the Superior Court at Tucson against Albert Mayo and others praying for an injunction of contract and for the recovery of money alleged to have been taken from him by "usurious" means.

Due to his father, Louis U. Mayo, committed suicide last Sunday he had been bothered with his affairs. The body of the man was found attached to the limb of a mesquite tree near Tucson, his feet planted on the ground. Death resulted from slow strangulation, the rope around the neck and that the circulation of blood was not retarded.

Bernard, a local saloonkeeper, Wednesday fell from a horse while on a ranch near Tucson and was fatally injured.

Mr. Mayo was that for which he is now in jail at Tucson. He came to the city a few days ago and secured a position in the office under the name of Mayo, presenting good letters in his application for employment. The next day the real Mayo, telling that Allen had forged letters of recommendation, left the former's valise in El Paso.

Mr. McClaine Powell, commander of cadets at the State University, died Monday morning, aged 20 years. He retired from the regiment on account of tuberculosis in the line of duty, after the Second, First and Twenty-second of infantry. Interment is in the National Cemetery, San Francisco. Mr. Powell, principal of public schools, died Saturday in Los Angeles. For years he was with the Phoenix schools as instructor of the Normal School and principal of the Normal School at Benson.

MANSLAUGHTER VERDICT AGAINST YOUNG CRAMLEY.

PURELY Circumstantial evidence, Avalon Cramley, a youth, charged with the murder of Joseph Fear in Pasadena, November 23, last, was convicted of manslaughter by a jury in Judge Finlayson's court yesterday afternoon. The verdict was reached after a long and earnest discussion of the evidence. The jury retired at 10:30 o'clock, reporting at 4:30 o'clock. The verdict was a triumph for Deputy District Attorney Richardson, who forged the links in a chain from unsubstantial and contradictory evidence, and conducted the trial in a manner which elicited a compliment from the court. Sentence will be pronounced on Saturday. The maximum penalty is ten years.

The crime was surrounded by mystery. Miss Nellie Greaney discovered Fear with his throat cut, and in a dying condition, and notified the police. It was learned that Cramley and Miss Greaney had been with Fear on the fatal night. Cramley was sought and was later arrested at Chino. He protested his innocence. Miss Greaney stated she was in the bathroom, leaving Cramley in the room with Fear. The officers found a revolver under a sofa, but no other instrument with which the deed could have been done.

With these few facts to work upon, Richardson, aided by the police, wove his chain of evidence. He was stoutly opposed at every stage during the trial by Attorney Charles S. McKelvey, chief counsel for Cramley. The hat and clothes worn by Cramley were produced. They were identified by a hunting license signed by Cramley and found in a pocket of the overalls. It was shown that Cramley had changed his clothes previous to his flight.

The main link connecting Cramley with the crime was his statement to his brother, Howard, that he had "cut" Fear and his demand for money so that he could "beat it." Howard repudiated this statement at the trial. It was shown that Fear and Cramley had been drinking, but the motive for the crime was not shown and in his instructions, which were impartial, Judge Finlayson said a motive was not essential.

The second strongest link was the absence of the weapon which disproved the suicide theory. Miss Greaney, who was first on the scene, said there was no sign of a knife or other sharp instrument. Richardson pointed out that there could be but one conclusion, namely, that the person who had killed Fear had disposed of the knife.

Cramley conducted himself during the trial in an apparently unconcerned manner, but while the jury was deliberating he showed the greatest anxiety.

TEXAN CAPITALIST PASSES.

LONG BEACH, April 9.—Thomas W. Mullaly died at the residence of his only brother, Charles B. Mullaly of Altadena, Monday. Congestion of the lungs, attended with heart failure, was the cause. He was ill only ten days.

The deceased was a member of Helia Shrine, Dallas, Texas. Mullaly came to California from Ft. Worth, Texas, a year ago. Previous to this, both Mullaly and his brother, Charles B., lived in San Antonio, Tex., where they organized and built up The Carter-Mullaly Transfer Company and were prominent politically in clubs and social and fraternal orders. He leaves besides his brother, a widow, who resides in Long Beach, a daughter, Gladys, of Denver, and Elliott, a son, who lives in Texas. His wife and brother were at his bedside during his last hours. T. W. Mullaly and his brother had recently opened offices in the Van Nuys building.

San Francisco Nurse Asks Marriage Annulment Alleging Man Has Another Family.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 9.—[Special Dispatch.] Mrs. Margaret Patterson, working in a local hospital under an assumed name and trying to recoup a fortune of $5000 she lost through her love for a New Yorker, more than twice her age, today brought suit for annulment of her marriage to George P. Patterson of Brooklyn, N. Y.

In 1903 Mrs. Patterson was employed in a Brooklyn hospital as nurse and Patterson was a patient. The broker wooed her and married her. He was then 60 years old and his wife 29.

Mrs. Patterson had $5000 which she entrusted to him. Then he disappeared.

Pasadena.

FLOWER SHOW STAR IS ROSE.

Best Ever Again This Year Officers Predict.

Annual Board of Trade Banquet Tonight.

City's Population Is Nearly Forty Thousand.

PASADENA, April 10.—The eighth annual spring flower show of the Pasadena Horticultural Society will open at 10 o'clock this morning in a huge tent that has been pitched on the tennis court at the Hotel Maryland. Several large trucks were kept busy all day yesterday taking the exhibits to the place, and the officers of the organization stated last night that they expect the show to be the best that has ever been given here.

There will probably be more roses than any other one flower. The exhibits come from all parts of Southern California, but especially from Pasadena, and there are some remarkable blossoms on the tables.

The interior of the tent has been decorated with palms, ferns and many rare potted plants and dwarf trees, so that it is a veritable Arcadia. The show will continue until Saturday night, inclusive, and there will be band concerts each afternoon and evening. It is expected by the committee on arrangements that it will bring many Angelenos and out-of-town people to the city.

The names of both men and women appear on the list of judges. Those who will pass on the floral decorations are Mrs. Theodore Welch, Mrs. H. C. Barroll and Mrs. T. E. Curtin. The other judges will be W. E. Folgate, W. Farrell, William Donald, Fred Howard, H. R. Richards, S. Tyler, Theodore Paine and Robert Leithead. Many prizes will be offered. Following is a list of the patronesses:

Mrs. H. I. Stuart, Mrs. J. V. Elliott, Mrs. Mary Torrance, Mrs. Samuel Allerton, Mrs. T. E. Curtin, Mrs. D. M. Linnard, Miss Marian E. Sharpe, Mrs. E. M. Neustadt, Mrs. David B. Gamble, Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson, Mrs. W.H. Cornett, Mrs. Willis B. Fry, Mrs. W. R. Staats, Mrs. H. H. Henry, Mrs. F. B. Cruikshank, Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, Jr., Mrs. Theodore Welch, Mrs. William B. White, Mrs. C. W. Leffingwell, Mrs. Thomas H. Foote, Mrs. Pitzy Watson, Mrs. Henry Clay French, Mrs. Helena Childs, Mrs. John E. Scott, Mrs. H. M. Singer, Mrs. Charles F. Driscoll, Mrs. Edward H. Greenendyke, Mrs. Hugo R. Johnstone, Mrs. G. A. Gibbs, Mrs. George Gerald Guyer, Mrs. Hampton L. Story, Mrs. Edward H. McFherran, Mrs. W. E. Nash, Miss Elizabeth Sanborn, Mrs. Clayton Hamilton Garvey, Mrs. William Thum, Mrs. Edwin Francis Heinzen, Mrs. Eva S. Fenyes, Mrs. C. F. Willard, Mrs. Arthur L. Libby, Mrs. Walter Raymond, Mrs. Ernest H. May, Mrs. R. Schiffmann, Mrs. William H. Vedder, Miss Genevieve and Mrs. H. C. Barroll.

James MacGillivray, president of the Horticultural Society, will this year be manager of the show. He will be assisted by the other officers.

TO ECLIPSE ALL OTHERS.

All arrangements have been made for the 1913 annual banquet of the Pasadena Board of Trade, which is to be given tonight at the Hotel Green, and the indications are that it will be the most notable banquet the organization shall ever have had.

A novel feature is that ten former presidents will attend. They are H. R. Hartel, Walter A. Edwards, Charles D. Daggett, David W. Herlihy, D. M. Linnard, A. J. Bertonneau, C. D. Sargent, E. T. Off, Hasty Geoheagan and R. D. Davis. They will be given seats of honor.

The dinner will be served in the main dining-room of the west building of the hotel and will be preceded by a reception from 7 to 7:30 o'clock. A large reception committee has been appointed. The programme follows:

Invocation, Rev. Jesse P. McKnight; introduction of toastmaster by President Lewis H. Turner; remarks by toastmaster, Dr. Robert J. Burdette; address, "Currency Legislation," George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental Commercial National Bank of Chicago; address, "What Constitutes a Good Citizen," Dr. Henry Van Dyke, and address, "The Victories of Peace," Dr. William Carter.

CITY GROWS.

Albert G. Thurston, publisher of the new Pasadena city directory, which was issued yesterday, places the population of Pasadena for the winter months, when the tourist season was at its height, at 38,000. A count made by Thurston's canvassers last fall, before many of the winter visitors had arrived, showed 34,767. The government census of 1910 placed the population of the city at 30,291.

There are 21,333 names in the directory, which is an increase of 19 per cent. over the number in last year's. Of this number 5000 are not those of residents of Pasadena proper, but of Altadena and Lamanda Park, which are embraced in the scope of the book.

CITY BRIEFS.

With the summer vacation approaching, the Board of Education is having the playgrounds at the schools overhauled and fitted up with new equipment that recently was purchased, so that the children may have some use of it before the close of the school term. There will probably be a movement later to petition the board to allow the children to use the playgrounds during the summer months if they are deprived of Carmelita Playground.

The pitching of horseshoes has become a science among the habitues of the Pasadena Tourist Club, one of the historical institutions of the city. The club last Monday took a close match from Long Beach with a score of 25 to 24.

The city yesterday put men to work laying a new water main on Raymond avenue to improve the service in territory extending along Mountain street, where there has been considerable complaint.

The directors of the Tournament of Roses Association tomorrow night will give a dinner at the Hotel Maryland at which the guests of honor will be Harrison I. Drummond and Miss Jean French, who were king and queen of the Tournament of Roses last New Year's Day.

The graduating class at the Pasadena High School this year will be the largest in the history of the institution. Between 125 and 150 pupils will receive diplomas.

The proceeds of the concert will be devoted to the clubhouse fund, work on which will soon be started.

DRS. SHORES, Specialists

Mrs. A. J. and G. W. Shores have spent years in the study and treatment of Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 cases in the past twenty years—an experience rarely ever granted any specialists—and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. Every moment is given to the treatment of CATARRH, CHRONIC and NERVOUS DISEASES EXCLUSIVELY. There is where they excel and there is where they can serve you better than most any one else.

They know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to CURE it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat and the Lungs, and they know what to do for these troubles.

PROMINENT SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

THE HEAD AND THROAT.

Is your head stopped up?
Does your nose discharge?
Is your nose sore and tender?
Is there pain in front of the head?
Is your throat dry in the morning?
Do you sleep with your mouth open?
You can be easily cured now. Don't let it run into complications.

THE BRONCHIAL TUBES.

When catarrh of the head or throat is neglected or wrongfully treated it extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes, and after a while attacks the lungs.

Have you a cough?
Do you take cold easily?
Have you a pain in the side?
Do you raise frothy materials?
Do you spit up little cheesy lumps?
Do you feel like you were growing weaker?

Don't risk neglecting these warnings—stop the disease before it reaches the lungs.

OF THE EARS.

Catarrh extends from the throat along the eustachian tubes into the ears, causing partial or complete deafness.

Is your hearing failing?
Do your ears discharge? Do they ring?
Is the wax drying in your ears?
Do you hear better on some days?
Does a cold make your hearing worse?

OF THE STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually caused by swallowing poisonous mucus which drops down from the head and throat at night.

Are you constipated?
Is there nausea?
Do you belch up gas?
Do you bloat up after eating?
Is there constant bad taste?

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND EAR NOISES.

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well known and reliable people, who have been cured of Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments, why not come and see the Doctors who cure? Call or write.

Blight of a Bad Breath.

Do people shun you, because you have an offensive breath? Catarrh, forms of catarrh, commonly called "ozena" or dry catarrh, have a very offensive odor.

KIDNEY AND LIVER.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT COMES AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

"The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" goes on at an amazingly prosperous rate at the Majestic Theater and the Morosco production of the new Oriental extravaganza the cleverest and brightest offering of recent times. In the few performance there have been many changes made in the playing of the piece, alterations that have increased the comedy values of the performance. Mr. Gottschalk's delightfully tuneful music, Mr. Morosco's extravagance in staging "The Tik-Tok Man" and the general excellence of the work of the various players as well as the two score of pretty young women of the chorus all combine to make the Gottschalk piece one of the most enjoyable offerings.

The amazingly popular farce, now in its eighth week, "The Elixir of Youth," is the perpetual wonder of theatrical world. While it is not a remarkable achievement for the dramatic performance to endure for a week or even ten weeks at a stock playhouse, the eight weeks of a play constructed for but laughing purposes has broken all previous theatrical records set by the Covington-Simonson play far in advance of any of the best the local stage has known.

Morosco proposes to give "The Tik-Tok" a production in New York this fall, with as many of the cast as can be conveniently spared, to show the theatergoers of that city a thoroughly funny affair and explain why it has kept the patrons of Los Angeles in a state of mirth for more than two years.

Rose Stahl and the Morosco company will continue to present Walter's great play, "The Easiest Way," until the end of the week. On Sunday afternoon, it will give way to "The Million," a French origin, which had a long and successful season in New York.

"The Million," Malcom Williams makes his first appearance as a member of the Morosco company. Mr. Williams is an actor of wide experience, thoroughly capable actor in the development of the drama, and will prove a most valuable acquisition to the Morosco forces.

"Maggie Pepper" is a lively farce that deals with the pursuit of a lottery ticket that has won the capital prize, $100,000. The ticket falls in the lap of a poor washerwoman, who is called on to aid him to disguise himself as the winner of the lottery ticket in order to keep one of the best prizes ever reached the natural hands of France, where this entertainment was originally produced.

The biggest, most expensive vaudeville bills that the Sullivan & Considine circuit has sent to the Orpheum in many weeks will come to the Empress Theater next week, beginning with the usual matinee on Monday.

Two features of almost equal worth will head the new bill, the first being Nat Carr and a company of twenty-two in the new musical comedy success, "The End of the World," and the second the most famous animal act in vaudeville, Albert's Polar Bears.

Nat C. Carr is one of the best known Hebrew comedians on the stage today. He gained fame as the star of "Wine, Women and Song" and other equally successful musical plays and since that time has been appearing in vaudeville with uncommon success.

His present vehicle, "The End of the World," is the first to come from the new Sullivan & Considine producing department. It is from the pen of Aaron Hoffman, whose humor in the Sunday papers has made his name familiar to almost everybody. He is the author of several big musical plays and is just now engaged in writing a series of one and two-act musical plays for the Sullivan & Considine people.

Mr. Carr is supported by twenty-two clever people, including a chorus of twelve, who can really sing and dance.

Albert's Polar Bears, "Ten Tons of Terrible Teddies," as they are known to the little folks all over the world, should also prove unusually attractive. This is probably the biggest and most spectacular animal act on the variety stage.

Besides these two splendid features there will be five other new acts, besides the comedy motion pictures.

The present bill, headed by the Romany Opera Company and "The Battle of Bay Rum," continues to attract capacity audiences at every performance. This bill will be seen for the last time on Sunday night.

Orpheum.

With Rock & Fulton only remaining at the Orpheum this week—a keen disappointment to the many admirers of their clever work—it will be some satisfaction to know that an equally clever headliner, though along another line, will top the bill the coming week—Mr. Digby Bell, veteran of comic opera, musical comedy and straight comedy, who comes with a well selected company in George V. Hobart's funny play, "It Happened in Topeka." Mr. Bell has for years been at the top of the list of American comedians, both singing and others who; for legitimate and at the same time merry fun making he has no equal. The play is said to be a fit vehicle for him. As to what did happen in Topeka, it would be unfair to say, but every indication is that much took place there that will amaze and amuse.

Mason.

Mr. John Drew's stay at the Mason Operahouse is limited to this week only. In nothing of late years has Mr. Drew appeared to greater advantage than in "The Perplexed Husband," the smart and witty English comedy by Arthur Sutro and it is a pity that his stay is so short.

After Chauncey Olcott, next week, the Mason in quick succession will offer Rose Stahl, "The Feathers," Maude Adams, Raymond Hitchcock, Alla Nazimova, and a number of others; in fact, the house is now booked solid through June, with most of the summertime also engaged. The best stars in the country are to make the spring and summer season at the Mason most notable in its history.

Olga Steeb Tonight.

Los Angeles is not the most cordial city in the world toward her own, as has been demonstrated several times when a singer or pianist who had been acknowledged successful elsewhere returned, but in the person of Olga Steeb, the brilliant little pianist, coming to the Auditorium tonight, they evidently feel entirely different. The demand for tickets has been most gratifying and with the excellent programme she has selected, presented in the usual "Steeb" manner, an evening to retain in one's memory will be the result.

Cleopatra.

Of the many interesting figures in history, Cleopatra was probably one of the most written about, one of the ones whom no student of history ever forgets. Her coming to the Auditorium the week of April 21 in film form—with Helen Gardner in the name part—is already creating interest.

Clune's.

A home-product comedy drama will be featured at Clune's Fifth-street Theater next week, as "A Wise Old Elephant," a two-reel comedy drama made at the local Selig studio at the wild animal farm near Eastlake Park will be the attraction. Toddles, the elephant, who has been seen in many parades in Los Angeles, will have the principal role. As an animal comedian he is said to be unexcelled. At Clune's Broadway Theater the Pathe Weekly, with the latest authentic pictures of the Dayton flood along with a fine bill of first-run pictures, will be shown.

Pantages.

John L. Sullivan will certainly be the big feature of the Pantages show next week. John L. was, and is, the biggest of the bunch pretty nearly everywhere that he ever traveled, and they say he has got no smaller since his training days ended. The ex-champ is telling Irish stories and entertaining vaudeville audiences with inside information on the "fight game."

Julie Reid and a bunch of clever youngsters present "Examination Days." The new show will also include Seamon and Killion, those "tailor-made girls;" Purcella Brothers in their "convict dance," "A Night at the Lodge," and Prevost and Brown, "The Corkscrew Kids."

L. A. Symphony Tomorrow.

The last recital by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra will be given tomorrow afternoon at the Auditorium, the programme starting promptly at 3 o'clock as usual. The organization in spite of reports to the contrary has enjoyed a successful season, financially and artistically; it will be able to show a small balance on the correct side of the ledger at the close and have presented in each instance soloists of merit. Their last soloist, Josef Lhevinne, is without doubt the most representative of the type of soloist most gratifying to the public.

How Pantages show looks To "Times" girl.

Two musical stars,

Joseph Lhevinne, who will be the Symphony soloist, and Olga Steeb, who plays at the Auditorium tonight.

Up and Down Broadway.

FOY ON HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Morosco Buys Riding Horses for Wife and Son—Attractive Headliners Booked for Orpheum and Other Vaudeville Houses—Gossip Up and Down the Rialto.

Eddie Foy, this season under the management of Werba & Luescher, stated in his dressing-room during a recent performance of "Over the River," that he considered the talk about the high cost of living overdone.

"Why," he said, "I know a man who lives on 15 cents a day. Here's his menu:

| | |
|---|---|
| 10:30 a.m.—Glass of beer, sausage, beef stew, bread, cost | .05 |
| 2:30 p.m.—Glass of beer, sausage, beef stew, turned beef hash with individual forks, bread, cost | .05 |
| 4:00 p.m.—Glass of beer, sausage, chowder, beef stew, roast beef, onion salad, pickles, bread, cost | .05 |
| Total | .15 |

Mr. Foy advises that he is willing to furnish the route and stops to anyone who will communicate with him.

Oliver Morosco yesterday added to his stable two of the handsomest saddle horses in California for the use of Mrs. Morosco and his son, Walter.

Charles Ruggles is a "Rum" fiend. He does not make his appearance in "The Tik-Tok Man" until 9:15 every night. The new game with the boone name is said to be very popular now and Charlie plays it up to the last minute.

William Rock saw a performance of the "Tik-Tok Man" last night. After the performance he met James Morton, who plays the title role, and told him how it ought to be played. Morton listened attentively and then went to bed.

This morning he commenced to remember things, and casually remarked that he once played on the same bill with Rock and Fulton at the Majestic in Chicago. He said he did not remember Mr. Rock very well as Morton and Moore were about the whole show in Chicago. However, when he sees Rock again he will apologize for not remembering the incident.

William Desmond will make his Los Angeles reappearance at the Morosco Theater in about three weeks, filling the place of juvenile leading man made vacant by George Relph.

The advance in the art of Alice John, since she was a Belasco leading woman here, is most remarkable to those who have seen her with John Drew at the Mason this week. Miss John did not, as memory serves, create any great furore here in stock, and no one started anything when she left. Probably it was the hampering influences of a new play weekly that prevented. But she is now a finished player, and ranks quite with Mary Boland in the Drew support.

Which reminds one also of the remarkable unfolding of Joseph Kilgour, who was positively the worst leading man Dick Ferris ever had, but by far the best Brocton "The Easiest Way" ever saw. Miss John's friends here are more than glad to see her give so fine an account of herself this week.

Henry B. Dixey is seen to follow Digby Bell on the Orpheum circuit, both having deserted the musical comedy and comic opera ranks for the twice a day. Bell was long the best exponent of musical fun in the land, and Dixey's "Adonis" days will never be forgotten by the older generation of the theatergoers. Both in their new field are making host of friends and retaining all their old admirers.

Maude Fulton, during her Orpheum week, is enjoying home life with her mother, who resides here. Frequent home meals are her huge delight just now.

Mlle Mercereau fulfills the promise of her girlhood; she is a wonderfully beautiful young woman, with the graces of figure and movement that might serve for a model for Terpsichore herself. This is something you don't have to take anybody's word for.

Out of Luck.

Oakland, 4; Portland, 1.

AT THE present rate of progress the Tigers bid fair to greatly improve their standing in community and in the percentage table during the sojourn of the Seals in our fair township.

Fortunately, the Seals came just at a time when they were most needed. The Tigers were considerably mauled both in body and spirit, and needed something to cheer them up. Howard's men have done this in their modest, unassuming way. They helped set things right by losing Tuesday, and yesterday further boosted the Tigers along the way by dropping a neat little hunk of the great national game.

Score, Venice, 3; San Francisco, 0.

Those Tigers certainly are getting up a full head of steam. There was nothing fluky about their victory. To win, they had to beat "Rube" Douglass, one of the biggest pitchers that ever grew, and "Rube" has a lot of things besides altitude. Hogan's men dented Douglass's dispensations but five times, but one of these dents, a home run, inflicted by Dick Bayless in the sixth spasm, stood for two tallies.

KOESTNER ONCE AGAIN.

Elmer Koestner experienced another of his winning spells, and Hogan's grin broadens every time he thinks of that Portland deal. Koestner forced the visitors to distribute their five hits throughout six innings, and that is an arrangement not calculated to promote run-getting on the part of others. Koestner was as good and his support as unwavering that only two Seals came within sight of the plate, and they lacked ninety feet of hitting the mark.

Howard reached third in the first on a walk, and Johnston's single. But two being down at the time, and Johnston speared by Tonnemann after having set sail for second, Howard was lost within sight of home and friends.

The same fate befell "Tub" Spencer in the third. "Tub," the first man up in that frame, hit the ball to the left field fence, and by diligent running reached second. "Tub" is a living example of the principle that great bodies move slowly. It took a couple of fateful outs to advance him from second to third, "Tub" making the trip by easy stages. McArdle flied to Meloan, and "Tub" languished and died.

THE FIRST RUN.

The Tigers scored their first run without a hit, using a walk, an error and a partly successful double steal for the purpose. Bayless walked with one down in the first. McDonnell hit a lazy grounder to Cartwright, who fielded it languidly and then threw wide to first. The toss drew Howard over into the line of the runner, and McDonnell also tore Del's left arm from its socket in the consequent collision. Del let the ball and writhed in pain while fellow-players replaced his arm. Bayless running to third in the meantime.

Bayless and McDonnell then conspired to loot in unison, and Bayless smacked in while four-ninths of the San Francisco team were running McDonnell to death on the line between first and second.

Douglass threw a "temperament" fill of fervent behavior. He threw this on the Tigers for four hitless innings. But a drought overtook "Rube" in the fifth. With two Seals in this round, Hallman singled, the first hit off Douglass. Eddie then stole second, as behind the situation Tonnemann singled to left, and Eddie undertook to score, but Jimmy Johnston made it a point to say that the ball beat him to it.

MR. SPENCER GUARDS.

Not only was the ball there, but "Tub" Spencer was guarding the plate like a good-natured Cerberus. Spencer's breadth is such that you can't get around him without running six feet out of the line, and when it comes to sliding under him—well, you might as well try and dive under the Malibu Mountains. Consequently Eddie did the next best thing and mauled some distance from the plate.

Douglass ran clear out of mentions in the sixth, and the Tigers took advantage of his predicament to score six out a couple of perfectly good tallies. The operation was short and simple. With Carlisle on second, as the result of his force-out of Kaufmann and Meloan's sacrifice, Bayless directed himself of a blow that sent Johnston and Zimmerman back to the fence in as fine a foot race as you could expect to see in a ball game. "Rube" won by a nose. Most of the San Francisco infield ran out into the wilderness to help the thing along, but the whole caboodle of them couldn't get the ball back into circulation in time to prevent Bayless from adding a home run to his illustrious career as a hitter and base runner.

There will be another entertainment today.

HAP GETS CLASS FROM DISCARD

Koestner and Harkness Proving Their Worth.

Were Considered Dead Ones in Portland.

Harry's Gossip on Diamond Side Lights.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The deals which Hap Hogan put through for "Speck" Harkness and Elmer Koestner would seem to establish him as the David Harum of the Coast League.

When Hogan traded Carson for Koestner and then put through the deal for Harkness, a lot of fans wagged their heads and assumed a "show me" attitude. They couldn't see the two Portland recruits.

Up in the Oregon metropolis, Koestner and Harkness, from a baseball standpoint, were about as highly regarded as a couple of second-hand corpses, and a good many people down this way entertained similar opinions.

Hogan looked them over, saw unmistakable signs of life and placed them on his pay roll. They were not dead, but merely sleeping—just playing possum, as it were. Thus far, Hap's judgment has been vindicated, and then some.

These pitchers, recruited from a hostile club, were the only ones able to deliver in that terrific series with Los Angeles. Each bagged a game. Koestner continued in the winning column by beating the Seals yesterday, and his game was a classic. Harkness vows to repeat when his turn again rolls round.

Harkness and Koestner, of course, will get bumped from time to time, for that is the unhappy lot of all pitchers, but they will win a comfortable majority of their games as long as they continue in their present form.

Hap took them when there wasn't anything like a mad scramble for their services, and he is entitled to the best that they have for the next seven months.

* * *

Tonneman Returning.

Charley Tonneman is getting back to the form that earned him a number of trials in the big league. His pegging yesterday was flawless. Tonneman lacked a lot of being in shape at the opening of the season, and he admits that every time he throw, his arm "felt like a toothache." As there was a boil on it, there is no reason to doubt his assertion.

* * *

The Bright Side.

Los Angeles was halted temporarrily yesterday in its mad flight pennantwards, but the defeat was not without its compensations. That three-hit game by Roy Crabb must have felt as good to Dillon as a victory. True, Crabb walked seven men, yet the opposing pitcher was just as prodigal, and got away with his game. Just another example of the luck of the game. Sacramento, of course, is likely to bump any of them right in the heyday of their prosperity. The Senators seem to be inhabiting the cellar largely through force of habit. On paper, Wolverton has a good club, and being a master hand himself, should cause considerable annoyance between now and October.

* * *

Maier's Blow-out.

Ed R. Maier returned from "the ranch" in time yesterday to witness the subjugation of the Seals by the Tigers. He was absent only one day, or just long enough to start preparations for the entertainment of the Elks on their annual outing May 4. Far-famed as a host, Maier is planning to break all records on the coming occasion.

* * *

Will Help Along.

Andy Ferguson, assistant secretary of the Los Angeles club, will leave for Fresno on April 17 to assist in launching the new Fresno team. He will remain there until after the big opening on April 19.

* * *

Stockton Team Moves.

Jack Thomas last night moved the Stockton club bodily to the scene of its future activities. The squad has been working out at Venice, but will finish its training in Stockton.

The men taken North were Smith, Wilhelt and Pitman, outfielders; McClelland, Butler and Boekel, infielders; Simpson and Cook, catchers; Jones, Andrade and Lewis, pitchers. These, with Bletz, an outfielder from Oakland, who will join the team in Stockton later, and a couple of pitchers yet to be secured, will complete the club. Thomas will take care of first base himself.

Boekel, Smith and Cook are local boys, and have had only limited professional experience. Wilhelt is a Chicago semi-pro, and a protege of Pop Anson. McClelland grew up in these parts, but has played professional ball elsewhere for a number of years. Thomas secured him from Johnstown. Pitman played last season with Great Bend, Kan., and bought his own release a few days ago as he prefers to remain on the Coast. Butler was with the Tigers this spring.

Lewis is a local boy who was given a brief tryout by both Oakland and Spokane. Oscar Jones will be the "anchor man" of the pitching staff. Andrade was taken to Cleveland by George Stovall two years ago, but lacked the necessary experience, and wound up in the New York State League.

MITCHELL TO PITCH.

CLEVELAND (O.) April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Manager Joe Birmingham and the Cleveland American League team arrived home from the spring training trip late tonight in excellent condition. Willie Mitchell probably will pitch the opening game with Chicago on Thursday, as Gregg, star southpaw, is afflicted with a slight cold. Birmingham seems determined to send a left-hander against Chicago for the first game.

Bud looks worried.

It is not over K. O., however, but because Van Court thinks he will be stale on the day of the fight.

INSPECTION OF MOTOR BOATS IN MAY.

The quarterly members meeting of the Los Angeles Motorboat Club was held Tuesday night at the Hollenbeck Hotel and from the interest shown in the proceedings, the coming season promises to be a very good one.

It was decided to have a general inspection of the fleet on May 4 and after this inspection, there will be a cruise of the boats outside of the breakwater. The Port Captain and the officials of the club will constitute the inspection board. This formality is gone through with every year in order that any new members may become acquainted with the requirements of the government in regard to lights, bell and preservers.

A. J. Werner, chairman of the Regatta Committee, stated that the committee would get busy at once in the matter of races off Long Beach this summer. No set programme will be issued, for it is the intention of the club to work with the South Coast Yacht Club and by working together the two organizations may have a very prosperous year.

Bill Reuss has not launched his new boat yet but threatens to do so very soon. This is exactly what he has been threatening for several months. He says he will serve on the Regatta Committee.

Ed Walter's Phantom, which is now at Venice, will be moved to the club anchorage at Wilmington this month and regularly put into commission.

Port Captain De Camp's boat, the Marian D, is on the ways at Larsen's, as is Rear Commodore Werner's boat, Nymphaar. C. L. Shinn's boat, Volsdora, will go on this week.

AD WOLGAST SWEET ON JIM AZEVEDO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, April 9.—For the first time since he lost to Harlem Tommy Murphy in San Francisco three months ago, Frankie Burns will be seen in the ring next Wednesday night. He is booked to fight Joe Azevedo of Sacramento before the Oakland Wheelmen's Club in the ten-round main event. Burns has been in training for three weeks and says he is in fine condition.

Ad Wolgast, who goes into training today, has expressed himself as favorably impressed with the work of Azevedo and has invited him to visit the training camp at the Ocean Beach. It is likely that the Sacramento lightweight will be added to Wolgast's training force.

SWEDE ATHLETES BID TO AMERICAN GAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 9.—Swedish athletes who won championships at the Olympic games in Stockholm last summer, are to be invited to participate in the American Olympic games to be held here from June 28 to July 6.

If the athletes decide to come they will be given a free trip by Charles S. Peterson, president of the Swedish Club of Chicago, and by Everett C. Brown, director general of the games. All of the expenses of the ocean trips over and back would be borne by Peterson while their expenses from New York to Chicago and return would be taken care of by the management of the tournament.

WARD RELEASED.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Manager Carl Mitze of the Oakland team today released Vinnie Ward, his utility outfielder. Tub Hackett signed the youngster up for his Quincy club.

Leg Stump.

CRICKET WILL BE STARTED SOON.

SAN DIEGO HAS FORMED A STRONG CLUB.

The Border Team Has Signed Up Some Hot Talent, Who Promise to Give Los Angeles a Strenuous Time When They Clash in Series of Test Matches.

The San Diego Cricket Club will commence active practice on April 20 in anticipation of getting in as much work as possible with bat and ball before they play a series of test matches with Los Angeles, Fresno and Santa Monica.

The border team will be exceptionally strong this year as they have a large following and several new players have lately joined. Last year Los Angeles administered crushing defeats upon San Diego, and, smarting under the treatment they received at the hands of O. D. Rasmussen, who dismissed ten of their best batsmen for a paltry score, and F. J. Higgins, who broke up their bowling, they are determined to make things hot for the locals when they play at Coronado.

The San Diego attack will be in the hands of R. Gautteron, who headed the bowling averages for British Honduras; G. D. Page, late of Carishrooke College, New Zealand, and of the Dunedin Cricket Club; H. B. Pennington, A. Taylor, F. Gautteron, Thorn and Kemp. The batting of the borderers will be difficult to master, as they are all keen and have excellent strokes.

San Diego will draw her eleven from the following named players: J. H. Bradshaw, W. B. Prentice, G. A. Davidson, George Burnham, Ed. Willoughby, Dr. W. G. Oliver, H. W. Martin, H. B. Pennington, H. H. Smith, R. Gautteron, G. D. Page, C. Hellier, F. Gautteron, J. A. Roddie, T. L. Kemp, H. F. Thorn, A. Taylor, F. Radcliffe, H. W. Martin, J. A. Patterson, D. S. Ballantine, E. G. Corkill, W. Hardill, George Rodgers, C. Chappell.

OXY TO MEET BEAVERS.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE (Pullman, Wash.) April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Football fever is high here already, though the actual season is months away, for it was announced today that the State College team will travel to Los Angeles in October, and the date of October 25 has been accepted for a game with Occidental College. This will be the last game of the season so far as Washington State College is concerned.

NO BERTH FOR COBB.

DETROIT, April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] President Navin of the Detroit American League baseball club announced today that Tyrus Cobb, the clubs center fielder and champion batsman of the League, would not start the season with his team at St Louis tomorrow. President Navin added that he intended to make no further inducements to Cobb, who is "holding out" for more salary.

RED SOX WINNERS.

BOSTON, April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The worlds champions had their last workout prior to the opening of the American League season at the expense of the Holy Cross College team today, winning 8 to 1.

CADETS TAKE ANOTHER.

WEST POINT (N. Y.) April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Neyland, the Army's star pitcher, scored his fourth straight victory today when the Army defeated Lafayette, 8 to 5.

At the Barrier.

BIG LEAGUE WARRIORS START BATTLE TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 9.—Firing will begin along practically the entire line in major league baseball tomorrow. Formal openings in seven cities will mark the real start of the American and National League pennant races.

Philadelphia, which by virtue of its victory over Brooklyn in the latter's new field in the only game of today, holds undisputed possession of first place in the National League race, will have Brooklyn for an opponent again tomorrow, but with the scene of the encounter changed to Philadelphia. In New York the champion Giants will meet the Bostons. In the West, St. Louis plays at Chicago. The Cincinnati field has been adjudged too wet for play and the season there will not open until Saturday.

There was no preliminary opening in the American League, and the first games in that circuit are scheduled for tomorrow. The Boston Red Sox, present world's champions, play on their home grounds with the Philadelphia Athletics, while New York and Washington will meet in the latter city. In the other half of the circuit, the openings will be at Cleveland and St. Louis, with Chicago playing in the former and Detroit in the latter city.

Aside from the enthusiasm incident to the annual opening of the season, varied reasons are responsible for especial interest in the showing several teams will make in tomorrow's contest. Boston and Philadelphia are admittedly strong rivals for the American League championship; both teams are in fine fettle and a notable struggle between them is anticipated. The form which the National League champions will show in their game with Stalling's men here also is a matter of interest. Johnny Evers will make his debut as a big league manager at the head of the Cubs in the game with St. Louis.

What of This.

VAN COURT HURLS PUGILISTIC BOMB.

Says Bud Anderson's Condition Far too "Fine."

Must Take Off Five Pounds Before Battle.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

Bud has just returned from Wheeler Springs, where he has been putting in a couple of weeks traveling over the hills and mountains, getting himself into good condition.

He appeared yesterday afternoon at Doyle's training quarters in grand shape. He boxed two rounds each with Harry Carter from New Orleans, two with Freddy Anderson and two with Battling Chico.

Bud showed plenty of class, with each of these boys. Plenty of speed, good hitting and all that could be expected of him.

After he finished his work I asked Dick Donald, his manager, to allow me to put him on the scales and see just what he weighed. Dick balked at this, but Earl Mohan, his trainer, agreed I should see Bud weighed to show the fans just his proper condition. We will have to hand it to Earl for this.

After Bud finished his work-out and had his bath, I was invited into the dressing-room to see for myself just what he weighed. I balanced the scales first, then weighed myself and discovered that the scales were correct. Bud weighed just exactly 138 pounds stripped.

I also took a good look at him while he was on the training table and decided that he was down to his best weight at the present time.

SERIOUS SITUATION.

He has just five pounds to take off between now and next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. Judging from his present condition, he will be in worse condition than when he met Knockout Brown the last time.

Five pounds is a lot to take off when a boy is in perfect condition. If Bud Anderson does this and is at his best I will agree to eat your hat.

I have been a great admirer of Anderson from the start, but have always claimed that he is a welterweight. If I am any judge of a man's condition, Bud will be badly stale when he enters the ring next Tuesday night with Brown.

It has been also claimed that Bud wanted to quit when he met Kayo the last time. I will never believe that Anderson is a quitter. But he was in such poor condition that he did not have strength enough to put one foot before the other to follow up the advantage he had.

Bud had the confidence, the grit, the gameness and everything that goes with a high-class boxer, but he was so stale from overwork that he could not do what he wanted to do.

Both boys received a lot of hard punishment which will do neither any good. But the boy who is in the best physical condition in the coming contest surely has the better chance to win.

Knockout holds his right hand forward and should be a mark for any man who knows anything about the game.

Bud Anderson is one of the largest lightweights that ever fought and has as hard a punch with either hand as any man who ever fought in his class. But if he is not in good condition, he will have a poor chance.

I really do not think that Anderson can get himself in perfect condition taking five pounds of weight off of himself between now and next Tuesday night.

Brown Works Hard.

Kayo Brown is going hard at his training down at Venice these days and is not overlooking anything to get himself into great shape to meet Bud Anderson. Wednesday afternoon Kayo was minus a sparring partner when Jack Lowe run out on him and refused to work any more. Brother Adam took his place and went three rounds at a fast pace. Kayo is in grand condition and says he will win sure this time.

* * *

Kilbane and Cowboy.

Johnny Kilbane and his sparring partner, Cal Delaney, are putting in a lot of spare time horseback riding. Johnny has rigged himself out in a full cowboy's costume and is fast learning all the tricks of the western cowboy. He rides several miles every day and is rounding into great shape before he starts to train for Johnny Dundee.

Kilbane had an offer to meet Joe Rivers over the twenty-round route, but said no. Jimmy Dunn says he will allow Johnny to meet Rivers over the ten-round route, but would be giving too much weight away for a twenty-round bout.

Look out, Jimmie, Rivers has improved a lot since Johnny met him last.

* * *

McAllister Pleased.

Bob McAllister, the new Frisco sensation, is spending his spare time in visiting the different training quarters around Los Angeles and Venice.

Bob is much struck with the methods of training and the quarters and said that he thought he could get himself into the best of condition in the southern country. Billy Shannon has the best in the north, said Bob, but he has nothing on Jack Doyle's emporium.

* * *

Some Cook.

"It is great to be able to eat and drink any and all you want to do when in training," said Kayo yesterday, when asked what trouble he had in making the weight.

Miss Buhlo is the cook, and she knows just what Kayo wants and it is always on the table for him.

"It is great," says Kayo, "to sit down to a table and not know what you are to get until it is set before you, and you can bet that it is always just something you like and want."

The Tread That Makes the Brake Effective

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires

Best in the Short Stop

Goodrich Safety Treads not only give you safety and sureness all the time, driving, turning or stopping—

They are not separate parts—they are made right in the tread, an extra thickness of splendid rubber, compounded in the Goodrich way, which has forty-three years of rubber experience in it.

Goodrich Safety Tread tires are not emergency propositions. They are made for all day and all night work, if you so wish to use them.

In addition to the safety and security they give you it is worth your while to consider the extra value and service you secure in them.

The five thick, tough rubber fingers of the Goodrich Safety Tread, all the time your car is running, are digging right down through the mud, slush, ooze or other slipperiness, and making a constantly clean safe path.

The human hand-grip they get on the road or street is a powerful defense against any chance of a skid. Goodrich Safety Tread Tires are made just as all Goodrich Tires are made—unit molded construction.

Your tire dealer will show you the Goodrich Safety Tread; he will not need to explain it, for its principle and sureness are self evident.

GOODRICH SAFETY TREAD

There is nothing in Goodrich Advertising that isn't in the Goodrich

There is nothing in Goodrich Advertising that isn't in Goodrich Tires

Again the Goodrich Rubber Co. are the First to Announce Lower Prices on Automobile Tires to Consumers.

The readers of The Times will become the recent announcement of reduced prices on Goodrich Tires. Coming from no dominant a power in tire field, it is reasonable to expect that other tire companies will follow the Goodrich lead.

No explanation or reason was given in this announcement, but crude rubber selling at a much lower figure than that prevailing a year or more past and the wonderful devising and application of new efficiency methods of the Goodrich tire, the reduced Goodrich Tires are but a natural outcome, and for instance before us, show the fairness of a great corporation to the buying public the benefits accruing from changed and improved conditions.

We understand that the market betters the present price to the 5 per cent. This coupled with the reduction first put into effect by the same company nearly a year ago enables the purchase of tires by the user now at a material saving in prices prevailing prior to April last year.

Seraphs Shut Out—Oaks Prove Too Strong for Beavers.

ANGELS FALL BEFORE THE AVENGING WOLVES.

Stroud Has Dope in the Pinches While Crabb Gets All Balled Up and Issues Much Free Transportation—Moran's Three Bagger Spills the Seraph Beans With Much Eclat.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kenworthy and Stroud, on the stickwork and Ralph Stroud, on the shutout pitching work, which made good the promises of Wolverton, and started the Sacramento Wolves on their upward climb from the Coast League cellar, for nothing was the count made by Hilen's Angels took, and for the revenge more sweet for Tuesday's shut-out which the Angels suffered, they allowed only one Angel baserunner to go as far as second base.

Crabb, late of the Davenport "Bus" League team, was on the mound for the Angels, pitching a good game of the league season. He had enough on the ball to hold the Solons to three hits, one of them a bunt variety, but he also had enough on the ball so that he could control it, and seven members of Wolverton's camp meandered to first on free transportation. He also walked seven men during the game, but was far more effective in the pinches and got by without giving a tally.

WOOD CHIN MUSIC.

Crabb was drawing walks in a good many for a long game, and there is continual wrangling between the players and the umpire, likely to go even longer. Yesterday today's game dragged for two hours and twenty minutes, the fans begged and dared Crabb to hurry things up a bit. It was the seventh of the game for the local lot, and it was the seventh to run over the two-hour mark.

Hilen showed his membership in the "Ain-Bad" Club, which he formed last week, in the seventh inning, when he banished Cap Crook to the clubhouse after a row with him for about three minutes. Wolverton stepped beyond the coach's line to third base in the seventh and waved his hand contemptuously when Held ordered him off the territory. This offended the dignity of Mr. Held and he waved Wolverton to the bench. But Wolverton refused to be waved, and, in a heated argument at the plate, Held ordered him to the clubhouse. Held dared, and Manager Wolverton was sent.

Angels put over one run in the fourth frame when Shinn reached second, took third on a wild pitch and scored when Kenworthy took a fluke bounce off Held's pedal extremities. Angels held until the seventh when the Wolves hitless, and enough to get by without a score despite his liberality with passes.

SENATORS SCORE THREE.

In the seventh, however, Jimmy Lewis reached for a high ball wall over his head and lobbed it just over second for a single. Stark fouled to Boles; Bliss filed to Ellis. Then came the banishment of Wolverton and the filling of the bases by walks to Stroud and Shinn. Moran saw one to his liking and poled a vicious drive to the left-field scoreboard for three bases, driving in three runs and putting the game hopelessly beyond the reach of the Angels.

Check and Boles, and Munsell and Bliss will be the opposing batteries tomorrow.

REDLANDS "U" TO PLAY RUGBY FOOTBALL.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

REDLANDS, April 9.—If the plans that are being agitated and advanced by the students of the University of Redlands are carried out, the American style of playing football will be relegated to the rear and Rugby substituted instead. This is the announcement in athletic circles at the university today, and it is reasonable to believe that next year nothing, but Rugby will be played on the local gridiron. A strong sentiment has been brought to bear against the American game for the reason that practically all of the schools and colleges in the southland are playing Rugby and in order that the Baptists can be in line with the others they are endeavoring to effect the change.

A strong movement is on foot among the students for the change and at a meeting which will be held next week, practically everyone of them will vote for the change and it is more than likely that the faculty will submit to the change.

Field Manager Harold Ostrom met with the Mayor and other city officials, and the city's head stated that he most heartily favored the race, and would do all in his power to aid in the promotion of the event that will do so much to attract the attention of the world to California's roads. The Mayor immediately got into communication with the members of the Portola Committee and this body will hold a special meeting today to consider the project.

Falls From Grace.

HIGGINBOTHAM GETS HIS BUMPS FROM THE OAKS.

Champ's Win, Puts Them at Top of the League Tied With Seraphs—Malarkey Is Stumbling Block to McCredie's Hands—Lindsay and Fitzgerald are Duck Stars of the Game.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Erve Higginbotham's fall from grace has tied the Oaks with the Angels for first place, and if the Commuters do no more they will be able to open their home season tomorrow afternoon with a standing which ought to satisfy the champions of last year.

Higginbotham was far from being in as good shape on the mound as he was on opening day, when he let the Seals down with five hits, and the fusillade was so strong before the fifth inning was more than under way that he was retired in favor of Rip Hagerman.

Malarkey, the veteran Oakland twirler, on the other hand, was very much of a stumbling-block. He held the Beavers to six hits that were scattered in all save one inning, when, thanks to the fleetness of Justin Fitzgerald, they tallied their one run.

WELL WALLOPED.

It was 4 to 1 at the close and there wasn't any question as to the thoroughness of the defeat that had been administered to the enemy from Oregon.

Higginbotham was no more wild in the box than Hagerman, who followed him, although the latter might have stayed out the limit but that McCredie elected to use a pinch hitter. As things turned out, it gave the fans a chance to look at Stanley, the newest of Portland's pitching department. Stanley only worked one inning, but so thorough was his style that there were some of the enthusiasts ready with the remark:

"Portland hasn't a bad pitcher in the bunch."

There has been some talk that McCredie would like to turn Stanley over to his Northwestern League club if waivers can be secured, but after Stanley's brief appearance of today there isn't much chance that he will be allowed to withdraw from the league. There are too many clubs in the league, including the Seals, who are needing twirlers, for anything of that sort to happen.

Mitze's bunch figured more to its 1912 form today than on Tuesday. The boys didn't get a world of hits—seven all told—but they made their singles count along with the walks, and, what is all important, they clouted the ball when there were men on the bases.

Bill Lindsay was the bright and shining star of the Beavers in the hit column, coming out with a choice assortment of three—just half the sum total for the Oregonians.

It was the daring of Justin Fitzgerald on the bases that brought the visitors their only run. Fitzgerald accomplished a feat that is rarely successful, getting a three-bagger on a hit to right field. Fitz smashed the ball past first, where it took a bound that carried it up against the right-field bleachers.

While the fielders were busy recovering, Fitzgerald was engaged in sprinting around the bases, and when he finally had to call a halt, he was at third, from which position Lindsay sent him home with a single.

THE FIRST SCORE.

The Oaks were the first to score. Manager Mitze singled to center field and Malarkey laid down a sacrifice. Leard's out advanced the runner to third, and Schirm scored his man when the ball cracked to the right-field territory.

Two walks by Higginbotham in the second gave the Oaks another. Zacher drew a pass and Coy flied to center. Hetling walked, and, although Ness fanned, Cook hit one past third into left that sent Zacher around the sacks.

The other two runs were doubled up in the fifth. Higginbotham fanned Malarkey, but put himself in a hole by walking Leard. Schirm's single toward second sent Leard around to third base, and Zacher drove to left to score his man. Higginbotham was replaced by Hagerman, but with Zacher caught between first and second, Derrick was guilty of stupid work in handling the ball that not only allowed Schirm to score, but saw Zacher at second. Coy's out put Elmer on third, but Hetling popped to Rodgers.

BASEBALL PUTS OUT THE TARIFF SCHEDULE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Dropping tariff schedules for the baseball schedule, President Wilson is expected to open the American League season here tomorrow by tossing the first ball into the game between Washington and New York, if the weather permits. Rain and cold weather was the prediction for tomorrow.

Although probably not quite as enthusiastic a "fan" as former President Taft, President Wilson has accepted the "Presidential pass" and hopes to attend many games.

LOCAL SEASON OPENS SATURDAY.

OXY TIGERS HAVE BEST CHANCE FOR PENNANT.

Presbyterians Meet Quakers on Bear Field—Pomona Team Does Not Seem so Good as Last Year. Whittier Has no Apparent Chance. Foster Gets Home Run.

The local intercollegiate baseball season starts off on Saturday afternoon with a clash between Occidental College and Whittier College on the Tiger diamond. This will be followed by a game between Pomona College and Occidental, April 19, and an other between the Tigers and the University All-Stars, April 26. With these three games the local season will be over though Occidental plays Pomona at Pomona, Redlands at Redlands and Whittier at Whittier on the three following Saturdays.

It looks very much at present as though the Tigers had the southern title well within their grasp as Pomona is hardly as strong as last year and Whittier is very weak, while the Tigers seem to be about twice as strong as last season.

The Tigers put in a few good licks yesterday afternoon when they took on South Pasadena High School in a practice game and came out on the long end of a 4 to 3 score.

Both Foster and Walk were used in the box for the Tigers, Foster celebrating his first turn at bat, with a home run. The Tigers will have a full team in the field next Saturday, as they do not intend to take any chances with the fighting Quakers.

PRINCETON IN FRONT.

PRINCETON (N. J.) April 9.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Playing loose, erratic baseball, Princeton defeated Johns Hopkins here today by the score of 10 to 6. Piper, who pitched the entire game for the visitors, was a mystery to the Tigers in the first two innings. Slashing hits by Gill and Carter broke the ice in the third, driving two runs across the plate.

MANUAL ARTS IS IN LINE.

High School Lads Enter the Times Marathon.

U.S.C. Had Squad on Course Last Season.

Full Team from the Indian School Entered.

BY AD G. WADDELL.

The team entered in the Times Modified Marathons from Manual Arts High School is the first interscholastic long distance squad ever organized in Southern California.

A team was entered from the University of Southern California, in the Times race last year, and the college boys made an excellent showing, notwithstanding the fact that they lost the team trophy to the L.A.A.C. by a narrow margin.

This was the first time in the history of the marathon game in this country, that a college had entered a team in an open race.

St. Joseph's Club is to be represented again this year. U.S.C. is to have a stronger squad than last year, and in addition to the Manual Arts quartette, there is to be a full team entered from Pomona College.

Sherman Institute will not be in the for first individual honors, but according to Joe Shoulder, will have a full team entered, which will give the college squads a hard run for the team trophy.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club is to be represented by a team again this year, and the organization has a strong thumb hold on the team prize.

MANUAL STRONG.

The boys who are to run under the Manual Arts colors, are a set of youngsters compared with the other team entrants, but the boys have attractive chances.

Emil Lemare, one of the Manual Arts runners, made his first appearance as a marathoner in the Times' race last year, and it is due to his interest in the sport, that the team has been entered from the High School. Lemare won a place far down the line last year, but he finished within the time limit and was not discouraged by his showing.

He persuaded Blick Bangerter, Robert Miller and Cecil Bills to take up the marathon game and the boys have been training for the distance running for the past three months.

Bangerter is the most promising of the lot, judging from showings made in practice runs, but Lemare and Bills have been suffering from blisters on their feet and should make fast time in the race if their feet are in shape for running.

The boys wore tennis slippers while training and the contact with the paved streets produced the blisters which were aggravated by continued running. It is advised that the runners keep off the pavements as much as possible while training.

Many capable runners have lost races on account of not being properly shod. High shoes are preferable to low cuts, and tennis shoes are not at all suited to running on paved streets.

Leather spikes are as good as can be found, for marathon running. The spikes are so short that they will take hold in the asphalt and on the oiled roads, the only danger being in crossing car tracks.

GREER LEADS AT POCKET BILLIARDS.

Burgess won from Pennell by 100 points to 32, in the Majestic pocket billiard amateur championship tournament, Pennell making high run of fourteen, in sixty-three innings.

Greer won from Beatus, in seventy innings the closest game of the tourney by 100 points to 32, Beatus taking high run of sixteen. The game was a neck and neck affair throughout, and was lost by Beatus only through his lack of knowledge of the rules. He repeatedly failed to call fouls and scratches made by Greer, and in the sixth frame, when leading by eleven points, lost fifteen balls by making a third successive safety scratch, two by omitting to call Greer's scratches, and two more on safety plays, besides leaving Greer a set-up instead of requiring the balls to be refreened and broken from the triangle, according to the rules providing for his forfeiture. He actually pocketed many more balls than his opponent, losing finally on an unlucky lie for his last shot.

In view of the close and even play exhibited, arrangements are being made for a match of 200 points between the two.

Averes now stand as follows: Greer, won three, lost none; Scholz, won three, lost one; Barnes, won two, lost two; Beatus, won one lost three; Pennell won none, lost three. Play continues tonight.

HAYES TIES INGRAM AT ENGLISH GAME.

In the last game scheduled for the English billiard tournament at the Majestic, Dr. G. Hayes saved his skin by winning from Jack Ingram, and thus compelling a playoff of the tie between them for first place and the trophy representing the championship of Southern California. This tie is to be decided on the result of a 500-point game next Tuesday evening.

Ingram had won his first three games, beating Hayes once and Hughes twice. Hayes had lost to Ingram, then won twice over Hughes, and was compelled to beat Ingram in the last round in order to prevent his taking the event with a clean score of four wins.

Ingram, having had no play for ten days prior to the game, showed little of the form which had won his previous games, and Hayes had no trouble in making 500 to 264 in 126 innings. The high break of 24, however, went to Ingram, indicating, in a way, that neither player was doing his best work.

SULLIVAN COMING.

James E. Sullivan, the practical head of the Amateur Athletic Union, is to arrive here this morning and will be tendered an informal luncheon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club at noon today. All desiring seats should notify Wallace Robb at the Dyas-Cline Store. Everyone who is interested in amateur athletics is invited to be present at the luncheon, when Sullivan will have a few remarks to make about the Thorpe case.

STANFORD BIDS SOUTHERN LADS.

Secretary of A.A.U. Says to Let Bona Fide Preparatory Students Compete and Stanford's Board of Governors Changes Law to Accomodate Athletic Tzar.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 9.—Under a revised ruling today of the interscholastic board of governors, Beckes of Occidental prep and Borgstrom of the University of Southern California preparatory department may compete next Saturday in the Stanford Pacific Coast interscholastic field and track meet, for which entries have been received from principals as distant as Portland, Or.; Boise, Idaho; Phoenix, Ariz., and Reno, Nev.

Borgstrom broke, last week, the world's interscholastic pole vault record. Beckes is a star man in the high and broad jumps.

The first action of the board barring Beckes and Borgstrom was taken on the strength of a published interview with James E. Sullivan, secretary of the A.A.U., which Sullivan yesterday repudiated in a conference with the board.

He was understood to say for those who had represented a college to compete against high school lads, worked an injustice.

To the board he explained that if the athlete in question was a bona fide prep or high school scholar, the fact that he had worn college colors in a higher department of his institution ought not to be counted against him.

Sullivan did believe, though, that boys preparing for college ought not to be permitted to compete on college teams until they had matriculated, even where the school they were attending was a preparatory department of the college they later intended to enter.

SULLIVAN TO DIRECT ATHLETICS AT FAIR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—James E. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, will be athletic director of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, it was announced today.

In accepting the appointment Sullivan said the programme of games and sports that he would formulate would bring to the exposition every world's champion, and he said the stadium would be the most remarkable ever built, surpassing in equipment the stadium of London, Stockholm or Athens.

BEACH FISHERMEN ARE WAKING UP.

Beach fishing is improving every day and with the return of warmer weather the boys may expect a recurrence of the old-time runs. Gus Loobs registered this week at the Rod & Reel Club a corbina that weighed almost four pounds. He caught it at Anaheim landing last Sunday.

The Rod & Reel Club is to meet next Wednesday at Burbank hall and will hear the report of the Tournament Committee on the plans and prizes for the coming summer season.

TENNIS TEAM PICKED.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The tennis team which will represent Stanford against the University of California in their annual tournament on April 23-24 was announced today. The following were chosen: Lyn Murray, Capt. Sheldon, Will Hutchinson, Louis Sloss, and H. L. Mahe.

TOO MUCH WETNESS.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Wet grounds caused by the heavy rain of the past twenty-four hours makes it necessary to postpone until Friday the opening game of the National League season of 1913 in this city. Pittsburgh was scheduled to meet Cincinnati.

Getting Busy.

MANY ENTRIES NOW IN FOR TENNIS TOURNEY.

ENTRIES are pouring in rapidly to Glenn Morris, who is interested in the Mt. Washington men's doubles tourney that is to be played Saturday on the Mt. Washington courts, and it is expected that when the lists close this evening all the needed players will be ready for business.

Up to yesterday noon those entered were as follows:

Frank Conger and Horace Donnell, Kenneth Newell and Glenn Morris, Billy McCarthy and E. M. Snider, H. F. Weller and Maurice Hartman, Jim Powning and Berne Barker, Lloyd Campbell and J. Raymond Hunt and James Riddell. None but members of the club can play, for it is for the annual men's doubles championship.

Play is to begin at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, but it is not likely that there will be many matches that day, for the chances are that the majority of the boys will wait until Sunday, when the finals will surely be reached.

It is expected that at least eight of these players will go to Nordhoff this month for the Ojai tournament, which is set for April 24-25-26.

The Southern California Tennis Club, which practically consists of the older and more experienced players, will really do little until the big contests in July. Many of them are too busy to even practice. The chances are that Tom Bundy will not go East to play in the men's doubles at New York, and unless McLoughlin can get a suitable partner, the Coast will lose the men's doubles title.

All Speed Here.

FINE PROGRAMME FOR RACING ON SATURDAY.

BY GREY OLIVER.

THE members of the Driving Club have prepared themselves for the big matinee on Saturday at Exposition Park, and from the number of horses entered, and the kind, good sport is assured.

From the looks of the card the feature is to be the free-for-all pace, in which are entered Little Bernice, Diracho Boy, Imbro and Junior Dan Patch. The 2:15 trot promises equally good sport, for Etta McKenna, Piedmont Boy and Neeretta have nothing but speed.

Pacing, 2:15 class: Iris, b.m. (J. D. Mahoney, owner and driver;) Tim Whiffler, b.g. (Joe Walker, owner, and Fred E. Ward, driver;) Nordwell, br.g. (L. E. McLellan, owner and driver;) San Jacinto, br.h. (James McGuire, owner and driver.)

The officials are to be as follows: E. A. Montgomery, F. H. Smith and Frederick L. Matthes, judges; J. W. Nickerson, George T. Beckers and James R. C. Buxton, timers; E. J. Delorey, starter.

HALL MATCHED WITH CHICAGO WRESTLER.

Young Hall, the local boy who claims the welterweight wrestling championship of the Pacific Coast, is matched to grapple with George Nichbison of Chicago, who holds the Greek welterweight title, at the Century Theater tonight.

This magnificent automobile for all you can ask, for a modest car

Ask the Chalmers Owners Who Have Driven Their Cars Four or Five Years

Almost any car will give satisfactory service for six months—or a year.

The differences in quality begin to show after that time.

Ask the men who have used Chalmers cars for four or five years—the men who still cling to their old Chalmers cars even after they have been driven 50,000 to 100,000 miles.

| Owner | Address | Mileage |
|---|---|---|
| Fred Roberts | Corpus Christi, Tex. | 80,000 |
| Geo. Stump | Independence, Kas. | 140,000 |
| Frank W. Fiske, Jr. | Buffalo, N. Y. | 54,752 |
| Louis Pacheco | Oakland, Cal. | 122,000 |
| Dr. F. S. Cuthbert | Kingman, Ind. | 75,000 |
| A. D. Williams | Buffalo, N. Y. | 100,000 |
| W. H. Caffery | Kansas City, Mo. | 125,000 |
| P. May | Kingsley, Ia. | 50,000 |
| E. Watson Gardiner | Amsterdam, N. Y. | 78,648 |
| R. L. Holt | Burlington, N. C. | 120,000 |
| W. C. Kramer | Joplin, Mo. | 75,000 |
| | | 1,020,400 |

Cars built of poor materials or by slip-shod methods don't make such records.

Men don't continue to drive, year after year, a car which gives constant trouble or which is expensive to maintain.

Ask the Chalmers owners who have made these records why they continue to drive the Chalmers in preference to other cars.

Then decide if the Chalmers isn't worth your careful consideration. If you are looking for real service you will hardly want to select a car, after reading these records, without seeing the Chalmers. Won't you call or write and arrange for a demonstration?

FINES CLUTCH RUSTY PISTOL,

Boys Discover Skeleton of Unidentified Person.

Roger Bright's Campaign for Re-election Begun.

Young Man Run Over by Circus Train.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 9.—The decaying bones of an unidentified man were found concealed in the brush near the bank of Warm Creek about distance east of Waterman canyon this morning by a lad named Dostovitch, who, with other boys was playing along the stream.

The man had evidently been dead several months as the flesh was nearly gone. A rusty pistol was still in the hands of the right side. The clothes were evidently those of a well-dressed man, and bore a mark of a Denver clothing firm. The marks had been removed from the handkerchief and shirt by a sharp, perhaps with the intent to hide his identity.

Owing to the condition of the body nothing of the deceased was possible. Sheriff Ralphs and Coroner Fuller took charge of the remains and will seek to unravel the slender clue by which the man may be identified. The Denver clue will be followed up.

Inquiries in the neighborhood report the disappearance of several weeks vultures have been hovering in that vicinity, indicating the body has lain there for some time.

ROGER'S CAMPAIGN.

An active campaign is being waged for the re-election of Mayor J. Bright, who has served the city for two years. He has the Republican, Democratic and Prohibition votes and has the dominating support in all of these parties back of him. Realizing that a strong effort is being made to defeat him and tear down the city's government by getting it into power through the election of J. W. Carr, an independent, the business men and substantial citizens of the city are rallied to the support of Bright.

The Executive Committee has taken charge of the work of getting out the vote, the committee being composed of J. W. Carr, George M. Cooley, W. M. Ingraham, F. H. Barnum, Joseph Yeager, W. H. Swan, A. O. Anderson, W. H. Swan, A. O. Swan, V. A. Vale, J. F. Parker, F. M. Wright, Charles Post, J. W. Bishop, H. E. Rowe and L. A. Atwood.

Mayor Curtis has selected a committee of 100 citizens to back the work of the Executive Committee in getting out the vote and insuring the continuance of the present administration of city affairs.

The following of subcommittees have been appointed as follows: Finance, H. E. Cooley; canvassing and publicity, Charles Post; automobiles, Chairman; Karl F. Tuttle is secretary of the General Committee.

Meeting of the General Committee will be held Thursday evening at headquarters to further the campaign.

RUN OVER BY TRAIN.

Joseph Colton young man, while crossing the Sells Photo circus at an early hour this morning had his leg cut off. He was taken to the County Hospital, where he is in a precarious condition. Mr. J. W. Morgan, a well-known man, is widely among the people of this part of the city, was severely bruised last night when struck by an automobile on Fifteenth and Third street. For years he was head clerk in the Palace Hotel.

NO BREATHS BARRED.

Men with the smell of liquor on their breath need apply at the office of Clerk Charles Post for a marriage license. While this rule has in many cases been enforced it was given today by Clerk Post, who issued instructions of an iron-clad character that no marriage license should be issued from his office to any person with the taint of liquor on the breath. Post says young men and even young women will be married when under the influence of liquor, there is no marriage which will repent of when sober.

DUTY REWARDED.

Sheriff Jesus Amlarias was recently complimented and rewarded with a substantial reward by John C. Ralphs for detecting the wholesale jail delivery at the County Jail Monday morning. Amlarias detected the men in the break and quietly summoned the aid of a couple of deputies to help him and they fell on the first of the party to escape the bars which had been sawed.

POOR FARM.

Riverside's Real Estate Goes Dry Contain Oil—City Has Bought Yacht.

SANTA BARBARA, April 9.—Riverside county may yet realize on its investment for the construction of a county hospital with open air pavilions, romantic Spanish and other features admired by the public, and now available to only the rich. Plans for such a hospital were made by a Los Angeles firm and approved by the supervisors several months ago, the question of raising the money by a bond issue came before it was voted down.

Ways for getting the money have now seems favorable. The supervisors purchased the Gabots to be used for years ago, they got for $50,000. Yesterday offer was made to them of $50,000 cash. It was turned down and they declared they believe property would soon be worth more. If they can ever get it they will have realized to build the poor-house they have in mind.

Some oil operators who have an option on the farm and claim to be true, the Santa Fe poor farm may be the richest poor farm in the whole world.

DIVORCE IS DENIED.

Judge S. R. Crow has rendered a decision in the Robert C. Hopkins divorce case in which Hopkins sued and his wife sought separate maintenance. The judge refused to grant the divorce and allowed Mrs. Hopkins $40 monthly. The case attracted considerable attention owing to unusual features.

TO BUY YACHT.

Santa Barbara yachting devotees are anxious that this city be represented in the usual regattas of the southern coast this summer and as a result are endeavoring to raise enough money to buy a yacht to replace the Alert, which was sold a few months ago. By the sale the local club was left without a defender and unless another boat is purchased it will be impossible to pull off the customary regatta here. As a result steps have been taken to raise money by personal subscriptions to buy the Monsoon of San Francisco.

DAY FOR ELECTION.

The City Council has set May 13 as the date for the "wet" and "dry" election, petitions bearing the required number of voters' signatures having been filed and the fight is on. However, there has been very little activity on the part of either side so far as the general public has been apprised. Both sides are well organized.

STREET CURBERS CURBED BY COPS.

RAILWAY RUNS AFOUL OF BLUE COATED CLUBMEN.

Great Building of Twelve Stories to Be Erected by Investment Company for Apartments—Youth Charged as Motorcycle Thief Pretends Insanity Officers Allege.

LONG BEACH, April 9.—A difference of opinion between the Board of Works and the Pacific Electric as to the ownership of the crossing at Fourteenth street today led to a squad of police being called out to forcibly stop the work of a gang of section men who were preparing to lay curbing across it on the company's private right of way.

Pacific Electric cars stop at Fourteenth street and when the city paved American avenue the railroad company paid its assessments on the right of way at the disputed point. Last week the city laid a water main across the disputed territory without opposition, and later ordered the Pacific Electric to complete the crossing over its tracks.

The railroad, however, claims that it operates along a private right of way at this point, and refuses the city's claim to a street crossing, and today instructed its road foreman to close the right of way by building a curb.

A city employee happened to notice the work and notified the Board of Public Works, and police interference followed. A truce was then called and work abandoned, following a conference between the city and the railroad company to determine who is right.

CONCRETE BUILDING.

Directors of the Oxford Investment Company today made public some of the details for the immediate improvement of the block of ground east of Pine avenue, and just north of the Auditorium. The building is to be of concrete, twelve stories high, and will contain 700 apartment rooms, exclusive of storerooms, lobbies, halls and baths, and will cost approximately $700,000. The company has secured the services of John Schultz, a construction engineer, who is an expert on steel and reinforced concrete structures. Construction of the building will be begun at once.

Last night C. F. Van Dewater, a member of the company, secured permission from the City Council to excavate beneath the bluff for storeroom purposes, agreeing in return to build a retaining wall and after parking the bluff keep it perpetually in good shape.

SAY IT'S ALL BLUFF.

Shaking like a leaf, and muttering incoherently to himself, Roy Workman, aged 19, supposed to be a leader of a gang of motorcycle thieves, was arraigned before Justice Brayton today and held to the Superior Court in the sum of $1500 to answer a charge of grand larceny. Workman has refused food for a week in the County Jail, and his haggard appearance excited pity among the spectators, but derision of the officers, because Workman is alleged to have told an officer after his escape and recapture that he was going to play "crazy" and get out of his trouble.

AUTOS ARE BARRED.

Despite the fact that the city has just paid $12,000 for repairs on the pier, the Board of Public Works refuses to open the lower deck to autos and vehicles, arguing that thesuperstructure, built to be sustained by concrete piling, now rests on wooden piling, and the vibration caused by vehicle and auto traffic would be dangerous. It agrees, however, that no danger is to be feared from any crowd of pedestrians on the wharf.

OFF FOR GOTHAM.

Otto Pritschau, the 6-foot-4 German globe-trotter who expects to cross the continent in six months solely to see the country, started on his long trip today from the Hotel Virginia, and, stopping at the Y.M.C.A. rooms long enough to get his overcoat, struck out again, going north on Locust until he struck the boulevard en route to Los Angeles. A big crowd saw thestart, and the presentation to him of a tiny barrel of sea water, an American flag and a letter from Mayor Hatch to the Mayor of New York. He expects to complete his trip in six months.

BLIND PIG FINED.

Wm. Noyes, once a city employee, but now owner of a feed stable off American avenue, was arrested last night on a charge of running a blind pig. The police secured considerable evidence in the way of bottled goods. Arraigned this morning before Judge Hart, Noyes was given a fine of $150 or seventy-five days in the City Jail. He paid.

ACCUSED TELLS HOW HE DID IT.

Policeman on Trial for Life Is Good Witness.

Orange Growers Ask Lower Tax Assessments.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The feature of today's sessions of the Superior Court in the trial of E. J. Barrett on the charge of murdering Acting Chief John R. Baird in December, was the testimony of Barrett himself. In the circumstances he made an excellent witness. It is likely that the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

Dist.-Atty. Evans made his opening statement to the jury this afternoon, Attorney Estudillo following in the first argument for the defense. Attorney Gill, associate counsel for the defense, will close tomorrow morning.

Barrett told his version of the shooting without any apparent agitation. In answer to questions of counsel, he stated that he is 53 years of age and had been in the employ of the city for sixteen years. He has a wife and four children, the youngest being a daughter aged 12.

The patrolman's story did not differ materially from others who related what they had seen of the shooting, except for the claim that he shot the acting chief in self-defense.

The quarrel was related in detail, the witness admitting that his superior officer had chided him for drinking while on duty, and acknowledging that he had taken a couple of drinks from a flask.

"Baird was greatly agitated," said Barrett, "and said 'd—— you, I'll fix you.' As he said this he made a grab for his overcoat pocket, as though to go for a revolver. I fired three times as quick as I could. As I fired the third shot I noticed that they took effect. Baird sank slowly down and fell on his left side."

WANT ASSESSMENT CUT.

Prominent orange growers and shippers, including R. M. Irving, chairman of a committee representing orange growers in Highgrove and Arlington Heights, and E. F. Wolever, E. A. Chase, J. M. Milne, W. P. Lett and A. Hotson, appeared before the Board of Supervisors today to protest against the old assessment on tree and land values.

The board was urged, in view of the present horticultural and economic conditions, to do all possible to lower the rate. The commitee was referred to County Assessor Montague, with the promise that the request would have the best attention of the board.

POLO BURRO-BACK.

The next big event for the lovers of polo is scheduled for May Day at Chemawa Park. In addition to a programme of automobile and motorcycle races, the polo'ists will be seen in action in a burlesque match in which the mounts will consist of burros of the good old California type. The ladies of the club will serve tea and society will be out in force.

SMALL HOPE FOR RELIEF.

Ex-Congressman George Curtis of Clinton, Iowa, who is heavily interested in citrus property at Bloomington, is not sanguine of the chances that are likely to be presented for the California Democratic Congressman to keep their pre-election promises when the citrus schedule comes up for debate.

"We might have some hope," he says, "if the items were discussed separately, but I fear there will be no chance for that unless our Democratic friends down in Florida would get up on their hind feet and make a noise."

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PROJECT.

Bishop Conaty is a guest of New York friends at the Glenwood here. It was learned from the Bishop that the plans for the establishment of a parochial school here on the valuable property owned by Francis de Sales Church at Twelfth and Lime streets, have been deferred for the present. The property on which the present church building is located comprises an entire block.

DESPONDENT, HE DIES.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abe Goldman, a member of the firm of Rawics Brothers and Goldman, proprietors of the "Red Front," some time this afternoon shot himself over the right ear, dying instantly. His body was found tonight in the bath-room of his elegantly furnished. G-street home. Goldman left the store at 1:30 o'clock, saying he was going home to shave. His wife was at the home of her parents because of the illness of her mother. When Goldman failed to appear at the dinner-hour, an investigation was started and the body found. He came home from New York about five years ago and married and engaged in business here. No cause for the act is known except that he appeared despondent of late. Coroner Fuller will arrive in the morning and investigate the affair.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. L., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That sage exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles.

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercolized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax; one ounce is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

For wrinkles, dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel; bathe the face in this. Immediately every wrinkle is affected, even the deeper lines. Both treatments are remarkable facial rejuvenators.—[Advertisement.

EPISCOPALIANS IN CONVOCATION.

JUDGE RICHARDS LECTURES ON PAUL'S EPISTLES.

District Between San Francisco and San Luis Obispo Sends Delegates to San Jose Where Apportionment and Sunday-Schools are Discussed by Delegates.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, April 9.—The second day of the convocation of the Episcopal churches of the district between San Francisco and San Luis Obispo opened at 8 o'clock this morning, with holy communion followed by the breakfast service in the parish-house. At 10 o'clock, after litany, the Rev. D. C. Gardner, dean of the Convocation Episcopal Church, spoke, and references were held on the "apportionment" and the "Sunday-school."

Luncheon was served in the parish-house at 12:30 o'clock, and at 2:30 a meeting of the Women's Convocational Auxiliary was held. The speakers were Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, vice-president of the House of Churchwomen; the Rev. D. C. Gardner and the Very Rev. Dean J. W. Gresham of San Francisco.

The convocation proper closed with the luncheon at noon. Superior Judge J. E. Richards lectured this evening on "Paul's Epistles," from the historical, literary and religious points of view, and a meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew was held this evening, led by G. S. Shelby of San Francisco, western secretary of the organization.

GIRL ACCUSER LEAVES.

Candy Salesgirl Who Prosecuted San Francisco Doctor Reported to Be in Los Angeles.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Ethel Williams, a candy salesgirl who charged Dr. Otto C. Joslen with having betrayed her, has left the city, the District Attorney's office learned today, in company with her mother and her sister, witnesses for the prosecution.

Mrs. Williams, it was learned, sold her furniture and departed a week ago for Los Angeles, whither her two daughters had preceded her.

The first trial of Dr. Joslen resulted in a disagreement. In the second trial the jury reported that although it unanimously agreed Dr. Joslen was guilty as charged, there were circumstances surrounding the conduct of the girl which prevented it from conscientiously reporting a verdict of guilty in his case unless the girl could be punished as well. Accordingly the second jury also disagreed, in spite of instructions from the court that the conduct of Ethel Williams had nothing to do with the case under their consideration.

Southerners Slated for Jobs.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—[By A. P. Day Wire.] Henry C. Breckinridge of Lexington, Ky., is slated for Assistant Secretary of War, and William H. Osborn of Greensboro, N. C., for Commissioner of Internal Revenue. This information came today from the White House.

STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The market during the early trading reflected the buying of American issues in London, based on moderate buying for the continental account, particularly of copper and Erie issues, was reported, but after it was announced that St. Paul will issue $20,000,000 in bonds and later that Pennsylvania will issue about $45,000,000 in stock, the list became heavy and declined rather sharply. Pennsylvania led and was subjected to heavy selling pressure for what was described as Philadelphia account. The point at issue is whether or not broadening tendencies in stock market can be brought about in face of the known great requirements of corporations for new capital without a marked hardening in money rates, if not a strain, as it is recognized that as time for notes is reduced in Europe the various powers will be in the market for loans which have been estimated at amounts from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000. Aside from other considerations money is far from easy the world over, and while, of course, bull movements have been conducted in the stock market in the face of heavy money rates, such movements have invariably come to grief. Strong interests still appear to be swayed on the buying side and may succeed in forcing a somewhat higher range of prices, but immediately it is believed that there is a sufficient warrant for the supposition that reactions will probably come with sufficient frequency to make it advisable not to climb for stocks.

Nicholas F. Brady has succeeded his father, Anthony N. Brady, as president of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company.

A London cable says that the financial situation is strengthened and that an early reduction in bank rate is probable.

The Supreme Court further has ordered, not treaty to be made with the Chicago street railway strike.

Americans in London were firm, ¼@¾, on Twelve Industrials advanced ¼ per cent. Twenty active rails advanced .03 per cent.

The Sun says that the market is very professional and that this probably is not indicative of a permanent state of speculative sentiment.

The Commercial says that the financial interests feel inferiority and pessimism more than they do the bears.

The Herald says that the striking character of the market is the readiness with which American stocks sold by the bears, who continue to be in control, are taken by the bulls, of the last fortnight there should be a reaction.

The Tribune says that a reported improvement in the foreign markets is helpful to home bears, especially Canadian Pacific, which is a feature of foreign market.

The American says that the market has a good tone and that there are many individual issues of merit which are being overlooked, neglected and underpriced by speculators.

The Financial says that the Governors of the Stock Exchange will meet today to take action regarding closing the exchange during the funeral of J. P. Morgan next Monday.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Rhubarb was waste yesterday, but shipments are expected today. Some extra choice stock was quoted around $1.75, and there was very little of it. Several shipments of white asparagus came in and sold at $1.50 per dozen bunches, although quoted by one or two dealers at low as 3½ to 4 cents a pound. The concensus demand most of this variety. Green grass was plentiful. Curled lots are received. Spinach and potatoes were quoted at about 7 cents a pound pretty generally. This is somewhat lower than the recent prices. Cucumbers and Imperial Valley onions are still in evidence at about the same price. Australian Brown are practically all storage and very

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Public Utilities fixed the rate on light, power and gas yesterday, according to the schedule announced, making a 70-cent gas rate for the city and a $1.20 rate for San Pedro, and making cuts in the electric rates that will affect about 95 per cent of the consumers.

The Supply Committee of the Council took up the subject of a municipal employment bureau yesterday, and will make provision for it during the ensuing week. A ground-floor location will be secured, probably in the Temple Block.

The Police Commission granted to the Corona Development Company yesterday the last of the 200 retail liquor permits which the city's ordinance allows to be issued. This is for a hotel bar in a new eleven-story building to be erected on South Spring street.

Judge Craig decided yesterday that stockholders of Arizona corporations doing business in California, even though protected in their own State, are liable for corporate debts here.

What was expected would prove a long legal battle over the late George Rhinechilds's $50,000 estate was amicably settled by the widow and her step-son yesterday.

The Bar Association has started disbarment proceedings against Attorney W. H. Scale as a result of charges of fraud in a stock transaction filed against him by Grace A. Hillborn.

At the City Hall.

LIGHT, POWER AND GAS RATES NAMED.

BOARD OF UTILITIES ACTS AS ANTICIPATED.

Approves Schedules that Will Save Consumers Nearly Half Million Dollars During Next Fiscal Year. No Contest Probable by Companies Directly Affected by This Cut.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday afternoon fixed the rates for light, power and gas in conformity with the recommendations of Engineer James D. Barker, whose report was received the previous day. Such action was anticipated, although Commissioner Foulkes asked for a day's delay when the report was received, as he hoped to be able to bring other members of the board to an agreement for a 68-cent gas rate and a 5-cent rate on light and power.

The gas rate for the fiscal year 1913-14 will be 70 cents per 1000 cubic feet. This is a reduction of 5 cents per 1000 cubic feet from the present gas rate, and means a saving of $225,000 to consumers during the year.

The rates on electricity will effect a saving of $350,000 to consumers, according to the estimates of the board.

For the first 100 kilowatt hours in one month, 6 cents per kilowatt hour; next 150 kilowatt hours, 5.75 cents per kilowatt hour; next 250 at 5.25 cents per kilowatt hour; next 500 at 4.5 cents per kilowatt hour; next 1000 at 3.5 cents per kilowatt hour; next 1000 at 2.6 cents per kilowatt hour; over 3000 at 2.3 cents per kilowatt hour.

The power schedule provides: For the first 100 kilowatt hours consumed in any one month, 5 cents per kilowatt hour; next 200 at 4.5 cents per kilowatt hour; next 200 at 4 cents per kilowatt hour; next 500 at 3 cents per kilowatt hour; next 500 at 2.5 cents per kilowatt hour; next 500 at 2 cents per kilowatt hour; next 1000 at 1.8 cents per kilowatt hour; over 3000 at 1.3 cents per kilowatt hour.

For the furnishing of electric current for power purposes under this schedule a charge of 35 cents per month per horsepower installed shall be made, provided that the minimum charge shall not be less than $1 per month.

After the rates were fixed yesterday, Comissioner Foulkes issued the following statement:

"The Board of Public Utilities has settled upon an average rate schedule for the electric current for the coming year, that is, outside of railway power, a half-cent lower than the average rate for current charged by the municipal plant in Pasadena.

"The base rate for power fixed for the companies is the same in this city as it is under municipal management in Pasadena, but the average rate is lower. Our base rate is now only one cent above the electric light rate for Pasadena, and we give free lamps which is equal to four-tenths of a cent in rate. Before the aqueduct power can reach the city, even though the bonds carry, the Board of Public Utilities will have so reduced the rate of the power companies in this city that the municipal plant would not be able to earn the large sum figured by Engineer Scattergood. The reduction this year is from 6½ cents to 4 cents, which is one-third the sum that Mr. Scattergood figured the city would earn by selling its own current.

"Mr. Scattergood's figures are wrong in two particulars. In the first place he figures on electric earnings on the basis fixed last year by the board. In the second place he figures that there are to be no reductions in electric light rates in the future.

"The action of the Board of Public Utilities speaks for itself."

The resolution of the Utilities Board fixing these rates must be published for five days and go to the City Council, and thereafter the Council must allow fifteen days within which protests may be made against the schedules. Should the Council desire to change the rates, this can only be done by a two-thirds vote.

Members of the Utilities Commission stated yesterday that they do not anticipate any protest from the companies directly affected. It is possible that San Pedro people will protest, as no change from the present gas rate there is made. The San Pedro rate is $1.20 per 1000 cubic feet.

Municipal Employment Bureau.

After months of delay it now appears as though the city will actually have its proposed municipal employment bureau in operation within a short time. The Supply Committee took up the subject again yesterday, and decided to devote considerable time during the ensuing week in securing a proper location and making practical provision for this institution.

A suite of rooms on the second floor of the Temple block had been proposed for this bureau, but Councilman Langdon yesterday raised objection to this plan.

"We must have a location on the ground floor, where we will have every advantage to attract the people," said Langdon. "We want to be in a position to attract the employers of labor, and to assure them that the help furnished through this bureau is qualified for the places to which they are sent. I believe there are great possibilities for helpfulness to both the employers and the unemployed in this project and that it should be started at the earliest possible date."

Councilmen Betkouski and McKenzie, the other members of this committee, also heartily agreed as to the need of this service, and on motion of Betkouski the subject was carried over for one week, in order to work out practical arrangements and secure a ground floor location, probably in the Temple block.

Will Listen to Complaints.

The Harbor Commission has set the 18th inst. as a day for keeping "open house" for the purpose of hearing complaints and suggestions from all persons interested in harbor wharfage and warehouse rates. This commission will have to fix the rates for these for the next fiscal year, during the first part of May.

Action On Liquor Permits.

At yesterday's session of the Police Commission, the applications of John Gramy for a restaurant liquor permit for No. 123 East Fourth street, was denied; similar action was taken on the application of Basil J. Lambros for a restaurant liquor permit for No. 130 East Fourth street.

The board granted a transfer of a wholesale liquor permit from M. A. Goodman to Baron Kates for No. 247 South Main street.

The board continued for one week the application of Nuccio & Crevolin for a transfer of the saloon permit held by Siglie & Siglie at No. 230 North Main street. The board now requires that invoices be filed in cases of transfers, and it was not satisfied with the showing made, and will investigate.

A transfer was granted of the wholesale liquor permit from Dunkin & McDowell to Goetz & Rudel for No. 200 South San Pedro street.

A No. 1 restaurant liquor permit was granted to Hite & Parker for No. 622 East Fourth street. This is in the Hotel Waldorf property, owned by R. C. Owen, whose restaurant liquor permit was revoked by the commission some months ago. The place will be run for negroes especially.

Gets Last Liquor Permit.

The members of the Police Commission heaved huge sighs of relief yesterday when they disposed of the 200th retail liquor permit—the limit under the city ordinances. This permit has been held for months. It was the means of causing numerous applications from men who had ambitions to acquire it for a saloon, but after numerous hearings, all of these applications were turned down and the commission decided to hold the permit in reserve for some large hotel.

Yesterday it was granted to N. W. Stowell, as secretary of the Corona Development Company, which proposes to erect an eleven-story hotel building at Nos. 414-16-18 South Spring street.

The permit is to become effective for a hotel bar on June 1, but Stowell stated yesterday that the company would not be ready to use it for at least two months thereafter, but was willing to pay the regular license fee in the meantime.

Stowell, who is a realty operator, has been a resident of the city for thirty years, and declared that the hotel was to be under his own personal supervision.

Want Block Reopened.

Numerous requests have been before the Police Commission recently for the closing of blocks in the downtown district to further liquor permits. A new phase was presented yesterday when a petition was presented from what is claimed to be a majority of the property owners and lessee-holders of the block on South Spring street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, asking that the block, which has been closed to the issuance of new liquor permits, be reopened. The petition was referred to the Chief of Police for checking and report.

He Gathers Them In.

H. McPhillips, police license inspector, made his report for March to the Police Commission yesterday, showing that for the month he had collected $344.30 on delinquent licenses, $299.30 on new business, and had secured fines in the police courts amounting to $105, making a total of $748.60.

Without Recommendation.

Recently Leo Ryan appealed to the City Council to adopt an ordinance requiring operators of "business chances" concerns to secure permits from the Police Commission to operate such business. This was referred to the commission for its consideration, and yesterday the petition was sent back to the Council without recommendation. Ryan appears to be the only person asking for this legislation.

Special Police Approved.

Approval was given by the Police Commission yesterday to the action of Chief of Police Sebastian in appointing as special police without pay the following men:

Adam Lang and John Boswell, park department; Charles M. Vance and L. F. Wright, water department; Dennis Johnson, library department; I. A. Corrales, Housing Commission; Marion F. Crissman, Globe Savings Bank; Neil Du Ross, Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Police Department Activities.

Chief of Police Sebastian reported to the Police Commission yesterday that for the month of March there had been 2708 arrests, of which there were 1207 convictions, and 1538 cases were dismissed. Fines collected amounted to $10,613, as against $10,056 for March of 1912.

Something Else Again.

Morris Marcus conducts a second-hand business under authority of a permit from the Police Commission at No. 207 East First street. Marcus discovered that it "was something else again" when he found the other day that he was reported among the delinquents who had not paid their license fees and therefore was subject to having his permit revoked. An investigation showed that Marcus had paid for the wrong permit—one in someone else's name—and the Police Commission straightened out the difficulties yesterday.

City Hall Brevities.

The Harbor Commission decided yesterday that hereafter no shells or other material can be moved from city lands within the harbor district without permits from the commission. N. Sharff recently made application for an exclusive privilege to gather shell material from the city's lands, and this brought about the decision to allow gathering only through issuance of permits.

The Industrial Accident Commission sent to the Board of Public Works yesterday a demand for a full and detailed account of the explosion at Jawbone Canyon, wherein three aqueduct employees were killed several weeks ago.

The Board of Public Works yesterday approved the plans of Commissioner Handley for routing and oiling numerous streets in the Garvanza district.

The Board of Public Works yesterday approved the recommendation of the Aqueduct Advisory Board that the City Attorney be authorized to engage special counsel to represent the city in litigation in Mono county, at an expense of not to exceed $1500.

THEN YOU'LL KNOW WHETHER FISH FRESH.

BY ITS ACTION at the session of last Tuesday in adopting the report of the Public Market Committee the City Council has tacitly put itself on record in favor of what it termed the fish ordinance, as the committee's report recommends the adoption of that ordinance, and it will be before the Council for formal action next Tuesday.

The fish ordinance will bring about some innovations in regard to the handling and sale of cold-storage fish. When you glance over the menu at your restaurant you will see in cold type the announcement of "cold storage" after the name of the sea food served, if it really comes out of the cold storage—otherwise the proprietor of the restaurant will be liable to fine or imprisonment.

One section of the ordinance provides for this notice to the public. It states that the proprietor or person in charge of any restaurant, cafeteria, lunch stand, hotel, or any other place where cold storage fish is sold, served or given away as human food, must cause to be printed upon the menu card or bill of fare the words "cold storage" immediately following the name of the fish thus offered, and the letters shall not be less than the size used in describing the variety of fish served. The idea is that fish not fresh is sometimes dangerous.

If a menu card or bill of fare is not used, then a sign must be displayed stating in plain and legible type that the fish served is from cold storage. Such a sign must be displayed directly above the place where the fish is sold or displayed.

The ordinance places strict regulations upon fish handling and selling. It provides that no fish offered for sale shall be taken from unclean or contaminated waters, and that it is a penal offense to have in a dealer's possession tainted fish. Persons placing fish in cold storage must keep a record of all fish coming into his possession, showing the name and address of the owner and the date of the arrival of the fish, the quantity, etc. Record must also be made when the fish is removed from the cold storage plant, and all records shall be open to the inspection of the Health Commissioner or his deputies.

Sellers of cold storage fish must have their sales accompanied by plainly written or printed slips showing the amount of fish delivered and the fact that the fish has been held in cold storage. This statement must be delivered to the purchaser. The seller must also display placards over each receptacle where such fish is kept or displayed, announcing that it is "cold storage" fish.

The Health Commissioner and his deputies are given extensive powers under this ordinance to make investigations, and condemn fish unfit for sale and to order destruction of fish that is condemned.

The penal provisions for violations of the fish ordinance are fines of not less than $5 nor more than $100, or imprisonment for not less than two days nor more than six days, or both fine and imprisonment.

At the Courthouse.

STOCKHOLDERS HELD LIABLE.

COURT FINDS THEM UNEXEMPT FROM CORPORATE DEBTS.

Widow and Step son End War Over Estate—Pasadena Attorney Subject of Disbarment Proceedings Resulting from Fraud Charge—Argument Ends Today.

The question of stockholders' liability as brought out in the Provident Gold Mining Company's $58,000 suit against L. C. Haynes and others was decided by Judge Craig yesterday to the effect that the defendants are liable.

It appears that Haynes and others named were stockholders in the Manhattan Securities Company, incorporated under the laws of Arizona, and the articles of which provided according to the statutes that the stockholders were exempt from liability for corporate debts.

The question was whether under provisions the defendants can be held liable as stockholders for corporate debts contracted outside the State of Arizona.

The defendants will appeal the case. The corporation did business in California.

END LITIGATION.

DOMESTIC WAR OVER.

Litigation between Walter Rheinschilds and his step-mother, Susie Rheinschilds, growing out of the death of George Rheinschilds, contractor, who left an estate valued at $50,000, was satisfactorily terminated in the Probate Court yesterday.

Mrs. Rheinschilds, executrix of her husband's will, was sued by her step-son, who sought to have declared as part of the estate property at Boyle Heights worth $7000, but which she claimed had been deeded as a gift to her by her husband. An action had also been brought against Mrs. Rheinschilds for revocation of letters testamentary on the estate.

Mrs. Rheinschilds brought suit against her step-son to recover two lots at Hollywood, and he in turn sued her for $4000, which he alleged his father owed him for services rendered and money advanced. The feeling between the two appeared very bitter, but the parties got together yesterday and resumed friendly relations.

Young Rheinschilds withdrew his contest for the four Boyle Heights lots. Mrs. Rheinschilds gave him $2500 and paid the court costs. Two lots that had sold by the step-son on contract were turned over to his stepmother, but it was agreed that he should retain the money already paid on them, amounting to $1000. The value of the lots is $800.

Mrs. Rheinschilds, who was receiving $150 a month for maintenance until it was cut off by the court, is now allowed $50.

The settlement was effected by Attorneys Morris & Newmire, counsel for Walter Rheinschilds, and Murphey & Poplin for Mrs. Rheinschilds.

ACCUSE ATTORNEY.

RESULT OF FRAUD CHARGE.

Wilson H. Scale, a Pasadena attorney, in disbarment proceedings is accused by the Los Angeles Bar Association with fraud in connection with a stock transaction, the accusation being filed by Attorneys D. A. Schweitzer and Frank S. Hutton and signed by President Stevens and Secretary Copp.

It is set out that Scale, while employed as counsel by Grace A. Hillborn, induced her to accept 4000 shares of the Automatic Car Coupler Company stock and put up $1000 cash for a house and lot she owned at No. 782 Summit avenue, Pasadena. The property was worth $5000, subject to a $2000 mortgage.

The stock, it is alleged, is worthless, although Scale is charged with having represented it as worth $4000 and a good investment. He is also alleged to have represented the shares as owned by Lewis Sprague, while they were in reality held by Sprague for the benefit of Scale, who is Sprague's father-in-law.

Scale was sued by Mrs. Hillborn on this stock transaction and the case was tried before Judge York yesterday and submitted to authorities.

ARGUMENT ENDS.

STOCK ON THE SCALES.

Argument in the Wiesendanger case, in which Attorneys Shelton and Stephens are seeking to show fraud in the overvaluation of the property turned over by Wiesendanger to the Conservative Investment Company, will wind up today.

Judge Wellborn intimated that he probably would sustain the allegations of the complaint but would not find that there was actual fraudulent intent. It is his present belief that the value of the stock given to Wiesendanger was worth more than the property.

Attorney Shelton will be given an opportunity this morning to argue whether the corporation is entitled to recover anything from Wiesendanger. Attorney Horton presented his argument in behalf of Wiesendanger yesterday.

The decision in the case of Turner against Markham will be covered on the question whether stock put on the market and sold has a value because of the stock transactions themselves.

DANFORD AGAIN.

STILL WOULD BE LAWYER.

W. J. Danford, attorney, who was disbarred, convicted of forgery, sentenced to San Quentin, paroled, reinstated to the bench by Judge Hutton last December, and redisbarred by Judge Murphy March 24 last, filed a motion yesterday to set aside the order of Judge Murphey. It will be argued in Extra Sessions One on Monday.

Danford alleges that Judge Hutton's order was final, unappealable and not reviewable by Judge Murphey; that Judge Murphey's order was without authority of law and jurisdiction.

Judge Murphey held that Danford, being a convict, was deprived of his civil rights. Danford alleges that suspension of his civil rights does not include suspension of the privilege of being an attorney-at-law. The motion will be argued by Attorneys Welch and Jaffray, representing Danford, and Henry J. Stevens, president of the Bar Association.

FEARS KIDNAPING.

SEEKS A RESTRAINER.

Fear that her husband, Carl C. Bruington, would carry out alleged threats to kidnap their baby son, drove Mrs. Bessie T. Bruington, his wife, into court yesterday. The boy has been with Mrs. Bruington's parents at Chino since Bruington and his wife separated.

Mrs. Bruington made a brief statement to Judge Willis, and an order was issued granting her the custody of the children and $30 a month support, pending the hearing of her divorce suit. The couple were married in January, 1909.

I beg of you to publish, if convenient, the foregoing.
